18-5-414. Authority to adopt rules.

Compiler's Comments

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 67 (Ch. 175, L. 1981) provided: "The current statutory authority providing a preference to blind and handicapped persons in the leasing of vending facilities on state property is not adequate for the purposes of authorizing the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services [now Department of Public Health and Human Services] to administer the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act for either federal or state purposes. The state statutory scheme for providing a preference to blind vendors in the leasing of vending areas in state property is poorly defined and difficult to administer.

This act will provide specific statutory authority in Section 10 [18-5-413] by which the Department may administer the programs it has established for the purposes of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. Section 10, subsection 2 authorizes the Department to adopt rules for the purposes of implementing the administration of vending facilities on federal property by the department as authorized in the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act and for administering programs mandated by the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act.

This act provides for a state program administered by the Department which will make available to qualified blind persons vending facilities to be operated by them. This programmatic statutory scheme is a more appropriate mode for providing vocational opportunities to blind persons than was the prior preference system. This scheme will insure that federal and state vocational programs are available to those blind persons who are most qualified to become blind vendors. The preference system did not distinguish as to degree of handicap or economic need. This scheme will also insure continuity in the administering of these vending facilities and related programs. The preference system did not insure that vending facilities would be available to qualified blind persons nor did it encourage the investment of program resources in the training of qualified blind persons and the equipping of vending facilities for operation by them. This act clearly defines what state property is subject to the act. This act also provides that the Department may enter into agreements with private parties and local governments in order to make vending facilities on their properties available to qualified blind vendors. The prior preference system in not defining the property subject to the preference raised serious questions as to its intended scope, nor did the prior preference system allow for the expansion by agreement of the blind vendor program into vending facilities on private property.

The act is intended to provide vocational training and active employment for persons handicapped by blindness or serious visual impairment. Since active employment is an important objective of the legislation, the act limits the department's ability to directly operate or to include in its vocational program such passive operations as maintenance of self-service vending machines, particularly on state property. While the department will be able to derive the revenues from vending machines which are now received by the Department of Administration, it is anticipated that the Department will continue the present practice of the Department of Administration and let contracts for provision of vending machines by competitive bid. The act specifically provides for a gradual phasing in of blind-vendor operated vending facilities in any case where the immediate implementation of the program would cause an economic hardship to the current vendor, who could otherwise expect a renewal of contract. The language is written in discretionary terms in order to permit the Department to respond to situations as they actually exist and to preclude the language being used to provide a new contract to a private vendor whose contract, in the normal course of events, would have been terminated without this act. However, it is intended that the Department employ its discretion in a compassionate manner to avoid inflicting economic hardship on an otherwise satisfactory private vendor. The Department is authorized to charge a fee in lieu of rental to blind vendors on state property whose operations become financially successful. Again, the language is made discretionary so that the Department can deal with the situation as it actually exists in practice. However, the intent of this provision is that the Department charge to the financially successful blind vendor a fee in lieu of rental which will provide the state with some compensation for the use of the space without working a financial hardship on the blind vendor.

The certification of blind persons qualified to be blind vendors provided for in this act is necessary for administration by the Department of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act on federal properties. This certification will constitute the "licensing" mandated in the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. This certification will be utilized for the purposes of the state program as well. The administration of the program for federal and state purposes will be therefore more congruent.

This act provides that the Department may administer a health and retirement fund for the blind vendors. This fund as well as the blind vendors' program may be funded by a set-aside from the net income of blind vendors. This set-aside is to be a reasonable percentage which will not affect the financial status of the blind vendors to such a degree as to deny them the intended vocational and economic benefits of the program. The health and retirement fund and the blind vendors' program may be funded as well by the Department from the income the Department may receive from vending facilities which it may operate directly. The health and retirement fund is authorized for the purpose of implementing that aspect of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. The applicability of this fund to blind vendors on state property will insure that there will be congruence between the program as administered for federal and state purposes.

This act states the authority of the Department for the purposes of the act and provides the general criteria and procedure for the transfer of the administration of vending facilities on state property to the Department. The prior preference system did not define administrative authority nor did it state what the appropriate criteria and procedure would be.

The act provides the Department with the rulemaking authority necessary for the implementation in a definitive manner of the purposes of this act."

STATE-TRIBAL COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS

Chapter Compiler's Comments

Interim Study Committee Bill: Chapter 309, L. 1981 (HB 25), was introduced at the request of the Interim Committee on Indian Affairs. See committee report, Legislative Council, 1980.

Preamble: The preamble to Ch. 309, L. 1981 (HB 25), provided: "WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the State of Montana to establish a legal framework that will enable this state, its political subdivisions, and Indian tribes to achieve maximum harmony and facilitate cooperative efforts in the orderly administration of their respective governments; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the state of Montana to establish a legal framework for viable agreements between itself and tribal governments located in Montana that are based on mutual consent and mutual benefit; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interest of the state of Montana to permit public agencies to make the most efficient use of their powers by enabling them to cooperate with tribal governments on a basis of mutual benefit and thereby provide services and facilities in a manner and pursuant to forms of governmental organization that will accord best with geographic, economic, population, and other factors influencing the needs and development of public agencies and local communities."

Chapter Attorney General's Opinions

County Reimbursement by Board of Crime Control for Indian Youth Placed in Regional Detention Facility by Tribal Court: Title 18, ch. 11, the State-Tribal Cooperative Agreements Act, includes broad authority for counties to enter into agreements with tribes for the delivery of services to their citizens. Although tribes have jurisdiction over tribal member youth, those youth remain citizens of Montana as well as citizens of the tribes, and if the tribes do not provide services, such as youth detention facilities, those tribal youth are nevertheless entitled to be offered state services in the same manner as any other Montana youth. The fact that a tribal court adjudicates the youth does not necessarily disqualify the youth from the receipt of state services. In the present case, Blaine County entered into an agreement with the Fort Belknap Tribe to allow detention in the Blaine County youth detention facility of youth determined by the tribal court to be in need of detention, and Blaine County included the tribal youth population in its survey of youth to be served. The youth detention services were appropriately covered in the county's grant application. Thus, when the county applies for reimbursement for each youth served, regardless of whether the youth is a tribal member or not, the Montana Board of Crime Control is required to reimburse the county for detention costs for the youth, including tribal youth served in a regional detention facility pursuant to an order of a tribal court. 49 A.G. Op. 10 (2001).

WHEREAS, clarifying provisions of the State-Tribal Cooperative Agreements Act will also reduce the need for duplicative language, which results in increased costs associated with publication of the Montana Code Annotated; and

WHEREAS, the Supreme Court, in Oklahoma Tax Commission v. Citizen Band Potawatomi Indian Tribe of Oklahoma, 111 S. Ct. 905 (1991), stated, among alternatives, that the state and a tribe may adopt a "mutually satisfactory regime" for collection of a tax but did not mandate that a state collect the tax; and

WHEREAS, in an effort to promote a government-to-government relationship between the State of Montana and Montana Indian Tribes and in recognition that both the state and tribal governments must be trusted to act responsibly, it is appropriate that the party designated to collect taxes on an Indian reservation pursuant to any agreement be subject to negotiation.

THEREFORE, the Legislature of the State of Montana finds it appropriate to amend the State-Tribal Cooperative Agreements Act to specifically include tax assessment and collection or refund and to establish specific requirements for tax assessment and collection or refund by the state, a public agency, or a Montana Indian Tribe."

Attorney General's Opinions

Open Meeting Law Inapplicable to Departmental-Tribal Cooperative Agreement Negotiations: Negotiations between a Department Director and tribal representatives relating to establishment of a cooperative agreement authorized under this section are not subject to Montana's open meeting law. Such discussions do not constitute a "meeting" under 2-3-203 because the Director, when acting alone on behalf of the Department, does not fall within the scope of the term "quorum of the constituent membership" as used in 2-3-203. (See 1993 amendment.) 42 A.G. Op. 51 (1988).

Agreements — Method for Performance of Child Protection Services: Although none have been reached in Montana, state and tribal agreements provide a method for the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services (now Department of Public Health and Human Services) to perform child protection services that constitute a child custody proceeding under the Indian Child Welfare Act, with respect to an Indian child residing or domiciled on his tribe's reservation. 41 A.G. TITLE 19
PUBLIC RETIREMENT SYSTEMS

Title Administrative Rules

Title 2, chapter 43, ARM Public Employees' Retirement Board.

Title 2, chapter 44, ARM Teachers' Retirement Board.

Title Case Notes

Teachers' Pension Postretirement Adjustment Age Classification Violative of Equal Protection Guarantee: The 1989 Legislature enacted 19-4-711 (now repealed), which allowed a postretirement adjustment increase in the pensions of the beneficiaries of the Teachers' Retirement System. The law provided that to be eligible, retirees or their beneficiaries must be 55 years of age or older (see 1997 amendment) or, irrespective of age, must be receiving disability or survivorship benefits. Applying the rational basis test, the District Court declared the law unconstitutional, finding no reason rationally related to a legitimate state purpose to justify granting a postretirement adjustment to the class of beneficiaries under age 55 receiving disability or survivorship benefits, while denying it to another class of beneficiaries under age 55 receiving benefits from retirees. The Supreme Court noted that while nearly all legislation classifies or sets forth classifications of applicability, benefits, and recipients, the fact that some of these classifications are imperfect does not necessarily violate the equal protection clause. However, the court was unable to find any rational relationship to the purpose of the establishment of the classification in 19-20-711 (now repealed), holding that it was wholly arbitrary and an example of the Legislature picking and choosing who will receive benefits without making any distinction between the affected classes. The District Court ruling of unconstitutionality was affirmed. Arneson v. St., 262 M 269, 864 P2d 1245, 50 St. Rep. 1546 (1993).

The amendment to this section made by sec. 1, Ch. 190, L. 2015, was rendered void by sec. 6, Ch. 190, L. 2015, a coordination instruction.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 170, L. 2015, provided: "WHEREAS, employer contributions equal to 2.37% of compensation for covered members in the Public Employees' Retirement System Defined Contribution Retirement Plan (PERS-DCRP) and the Montana University System Retirement Program (MUS-RP) are statutorily allocated to the Public Employees' Retirement System Defined Benefit Retirement Plan (PERS-DBRP) as the plan choice rate; and

WHEREAS, additional employer contributions equal to 0.37% of a member's compensation are also allocated to the plan choice rate and this percentage will increase by 0.1% each year through 2024; and

WHEREAS, the plan choice rate was established to pay the portion of the PERS-DBRP unfunded actuarial liabilities associated with PERS members who elected to join the PERS-DCRP rather than the PERS-DBRP plan and also to pay for any increase to the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP resulting from PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, section 19-3-2121, MCA, requires that the plan choice rate be adjusted if it is actuarially determined to be too high or too low to pay off the associated unfunded actuarial liabilities within an established timeframe and if there is an actual change in the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP resulting from PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP has never significantly changed because of PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, the Public Employees' Retirement Board's actuary determined that as of June 30, 2014, the unfunded actuarial liability associated with the plan choice rate is $5,903,188, and is estimated to be fully paid off within the next 2 to 3 years."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 272, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution also requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 and 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for current members of the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to the current system members in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and future employee contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future members alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future members and reduced benefits for future members are necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning all public employee retirement systems to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that several of the systems, including the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System remain actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase applied to current Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System members, phased in over a 4-year period, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is reasonable and necessary pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is funded in an actuarially sound manner; and

WHEREAS, the defined benefit Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is integral to the successful recruitment and retention of qualified Montana highway patrol officers."

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

Case Notes

Proper Reliance by PERB on Opinion of Own Medical Personnel: The plaintiff appealed the District Court's order affirming the denial by the Public Employees' Retirement Board (PERB) of his disability claim, arguing that the denial was not supported by substantial evidence because PERB improperly deferred to the opinion of its own medical personnel over the opinions of the plaintiff's treating physicians. The Supreme Court affirmed, concluding that reliance on the opinion of PERB medical personnel was not clearly erroneous because the opinions of the treating physicians were based primarily on the plaintiff's inconsistent self-reporting of his condition and because the opinion of PERB medical personnel was based on a review of the deposition testimony and reports of the treating physician and the plaintiff's medical and personnel files. Fauque v. Mont. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 2014 MT 184, 375 Mont. 443, 329 P.3d 593.

Constitutional Authority of Public Employees' Retirement Board to Make Actuarial Calculations — No Overbroad Delegation of Legislative Authority: The District Court held that 2001 amendments contained in House Bill No. 294, which included a definition of actuarial equivalent that changed the method by which the Public Employees' Retirement Board calculated certain benefits, unconstitutionally delegated unconstrained discretion to the Board in violation of the separation of powers doctrine in Art. III, sec. 1, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Board asserted that Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., gave the Board the authority to make actuarial evaluations and thus to implement the 2001 amendments, so there was no constitutional violation. The Supreme Court agreed. Article III, sec. 1, Mont. Const., allows one branch of government to exercise power properly belonging to another branch if the constitution expressly directs or permits that exercise. Because Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., delegated authority to the Board to make actuarial determinations, the District Court committed reversible error in concluding that the Legislature and House Bill No. 294 (2001) unconstitutionally delegated authority to the Board to make determinations allowed by another section of the constitution. Baumgardner v. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 2005 MT 199, 328 M 179, 119 P3d 77 (2005), following Duck Inn, Inc. v. Mont. St. Univ.-N., 285 M 519, 949 P2d 1179 (1997).

District Court Decision Regarding Constitutionality of One Issue Precluding Consideration of Other Constitutional Questions — Certification to Supreme Court Proper: Baumgardner raised numerous issues concerning the constitutionality of 2001 amendments to the Public Employees' Retirement System. The District Court decided that the amendments were an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power but did not consider other issues related to the amendments. The Public Employees' Retirement Board moved to certify the judgment as final, and the motion was granted. On appeal, Baumgardner contended that certification was improper because the District Court did not resolve all of the pending issues. The Supreme Court disagreed. Once the amendments were declared unconstitutional on the delegation question, there was no need for the District Court to consider other challenges to the constitutionality of the amendments, so certification was appropriate, and the case was properly submitted to the Supreme Court. Baumgardner v. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 2005 MT 199, 328 M 179, 119 P3d 77 (2005).

Public Defender Considered Employee Entitled to Purchase Service Credits: Lewis worked as a county public defender for about 2 ½ years and then began working for the state Department of Transportation. Lewis sought to purchase service credits pursuant to the applicable 1979 version of 19-3-505 for the time spent as a public defender. The District Court affirmed the finding of the Public Employees' Retirement Board that Lewis's service was creditable service (definition changed to credited service or service credit in 1993 and deleted in 2003), as defined in 19-3-104 (renumbered 19-2-303), that did not qualify for conversion to membership service, so Lewis was denied the right to purchase service credit. On appeal, the Supreme Court reversed. The definition of membership service in 19-3-104 (renumbered 19-2-303) was service with respect to which contributions are paid. No contributions were paid, so Lewis's service was not membership service and therefore was also not creditable service. Lewis was an employee rather than an independent contractor, the county was a participating member of the public employees' retirement system, and Lewis's service was not creditable service. Thus, Lewis was entitled to purchase service credits in the retirement system. (Note that the statutes were substantially revised beginning in 1993.) Proof That Multiple Sclerosis Caused Disability: A doctor for the claimant for state retirement disability benefits testified that the claimant had multiple sclerosis (MS) prior to 1988 and that it became disabling (in regard to his job) in that year and remained disabling after that year. He was not conclusively diagnosed with and told that he had MS until 1991. The Public Employees' Retirement Board, which denied benefits, presented no medical evidence and did not deny that a job disability due to MS existed since 1988, the year when the claimant resigned. Instead, the Board relied on the claimant's 1988 indications that he was resigning to preserve a higher payout of unused benefits (his position was about to be reclassified downward) and that he felt he could do the job. His doctor's uncontradicted testimony was entitled to special weight and should not have been disregarded absent specific legitimate evidence and reasons to the contrary. The claimant's 1988 statements showed only that he did not believe that he was disabled and did not show that he in fact was not. They could have been made during a period of remission when symptoms were minor and he thought himself in good health. The lower court properly ruled that the Board's treatment of the claimant's doctor's testimony was erroneous and that the denial of benefits was also erroneous. Weber v. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 270 M 239, 890 P2d 1296, 52 St. Rep. 162 (1995).

1995 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 412, L. 1995, provided in part: "A statement of intent is further required for this bill [the bill amends three sections to grant rulemaking authority] because [section 2] [codified as subsection (10) of 19-2-403] gives the board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to provide the board with the option of generating fees from the sale of the use of mailing lists composed of participants in the retirement systems administered by the board. However, the legislature intends that such use be restricted by the board so that retirement system participants are neither deprived of their right of privacy concerning confidential information nor inundated with excessive mailings, particularly as concerns commercial interests, individual political candidates and ballot issues, or other specific political issues.

The legislature intends to allow the board discretion in promulgating rules concerning procedures to effectuate this intent. The legislature intends that the board have discretion to determine, for example, that mailings may not be allowed at all under this provision, that mailings may be tried for a limited period of time only, that mailings may be limited to tax-exempt organizations under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, that specific types of mailings may be allowed, that mailings can be limited to specific categories of participants, or that participants have a right to be excluded from mailings on request.

The legislature intends that the fees generated by mailings for third parties not reduce the amount of appropriation otherwise allocated for the administration of the retirement system but be used as the board considers appropriate, such as for additional communication by the board with retirement system participants regarding retirement system rights, obligations, and similar issues."

Severability: Section 28, Ch. 412, L. 1995, was a severability clause.

Case Notes

State Retirement Board Not Required to Calculate Compensation Amounts for Individual Plan Members: Plaintiffs sued the state and the Public Employees' Retirement Board alleging that plaintiffs' compensation was incorrectly calculated by the Board, resulting in inadequate monthly benefits. The District Court dismissed the claim on grounds that plaintiffs failed to file their complaint within the 2-year statute of limitations, and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court noted that although the Board has broad statutory duties to administer the various state retirement plans, it is not the Board's duty to calculate compensation amounts for individual members. Rather, it is an employer's duty to calculate and report the compensation amounts. If those reports were in error, plaintiffs should have sought relief from their employers, but their remedy did not lie with the state or the Board. Thus, the District Court correctly dismissed the complaint, albeit for a different reason, and the Supreme Court affirmed. Hall v. St., 2006 MT 37, 331 M 171, 130 P3d 601 (2006).

Constitutional Authority of Public Employees' Retirement Board to Make Actuarial Calculations — No Overbroad Delegation of Legislative Authority: The District Court held that 2001 amendments contained in House Bill No. 294, which included a definition of actuarial equivalent that changed the method by which the Public Employees' Retirement Board calculated certain benefits, unconstitutionally delegated unconstrained discretion to the Board in violation of the separation of powers doctrine in Art. III, sec. 1, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Board asserted that Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., gave the Board the authority to make actuarial evaluations and thus to implement the 2001 amendments, so there was no constitutional violation. The Supreme Court agreed. Article III, sec. 1, Mont. Const., allows one branch of government to exercise power properly belonging to another branch if the constitution expressly directs or permits that exercise. Because Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., delegated authority to the Board to make actuarial determinations, the District Court committed reversible error in concluding that the Legislature and House Bill No. 294 (2001) unconstitutionally delegated authority to the Board to make determinations allowed by another section of the constitution. Style changes were slightly different in the chapters. In each case, the codifier chose appropriate text.

Contingent Voidness: Section 16, Ch. 423, L. 2001, provided: "If the defined contribution retirement plan enacted by Chapter 471, Laws of 1999, cannot be implemented because of an unfavorable internal revenue service determination or ruling, then [this act] is void." In a letter dated May 23, 2002, certification was received that the Internal Revenue Service has determined that the defined contribution retirement plan is a qualified plan.

Effective Date — Contingency: Section 17, Ch. 423, L. 2001, provided: "(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), [this act] is effective on passage and approval [approved April 30, 2001].

(2) [Section 1(1) through (5) and sections 2 through 9] [19-3-2141(1) through (5) and 19-3-2142, 19-2-303, 19-2-406, 19-3-2117, 19-3-2121 (now repealed), 19-3-2123, 19-3-2124, and 19-3-2126] are effective contingent upon certification, as provided in section 65, Ch. 471, L. 1999, that the defined contribution retirement plan is ready to become operational or on July 1, 2002, whichever is earlier." The contingency occurred pursuant to a letter dated May 23, 2002, which certified that the defined contribution retirement plan "is ready to become and will become operational as of July 1, 2002".

1995 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 412, L. 1995, provided in part: "A statement of intent is further required for this bill [the bill amends three sections to grant rulemaking authority] because general rulemaking authority is granted to the board [by amendment of 19-2-406] to establish rules requiring employers to provide information germane to processing an application for disability retirement of a public employee retirement system member.

The Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), 42 U.S.C. 12101, et seq., requires employers to define the essential elements of each position and to make reasonable accommodations for employees with disabilities.

In recognition of the purpose of the ADA, it is intended that the board, when determining if an applicant is totally and permanently disabled and thereby eligible for benefits from one of the retirement systems administered by it, consider whether the member is able to perform the essential elements of the position after the employer makes accommodations required by the ADA."

Case Notes

Proper Reliance by PERB on Opinion of Own Medical Personnel: The plaintiff appealed the District Court's order affirming the denial by the Public Employees' Retirement Board (PERB) of his disability claim, arguing that the denial was not supported by substantial evidence because PERB improperly deferred to the opinion of its own medical personnel over the opinions of the plaintiff's treating physicians. The Supreme Court affirmed, concluding that reliance on the opinion of PERB medical personnel was not clearly erroneous because the opinions of the treating physicians were based primarily on the plaintiff's inconsistent self-reporting of his condition and because the opinion of PERB medical personnel was based on a review of the deposition testimony and reports of the treating physician and the plaintiff's medical and personnel files. (1) The legislature understands that capabilities for expediting deposits to the retirement systems are afforded by the increasing computer resources of both employers and the retirement systems.

(2) Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature that:

(a) contributions payable to the retirement systems administered by the board be paid within timeframes that are reasonable and cost-effective to contributors and the retirement systems;

(b) while expedited deposits can result in increased investment earnings for the retirement systems and the individual members of those systems, current contribution deadlines may not be shortened unless the resulting increase in investment income would help forestall increases in employer contribution rates required to actuarially fund the systems; and

(c) employers be responsible for providing accurate reports containing sufficient information to allow the board to both account for overall retirement system contributions and precisely record and credit membership service, monthly compensation, and membership contributions to individual member's accounts."

1979 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent adopted with Ch. 348, L. 1979, provided: "A statement of intent is included with this Bill because the Committee felt that there is a need to clarify the conditions under which an interest penalty may be waived. This pertains to Section 1, subsection (2) and Section 2, subsection (2), of Senate Bill No. 156.

1. When an agency or contracting employer requests a time extension upon a showing of good faith effort or because of circumstances beyond their control, the board will grant a reasonable extension of time without penalty."

Case Notes

State Retirement Board Not Required to Calculate Compensation Amounts for Individual Plan Members: Plaintiffs sued the state and the Public Employees' Retirement Board alleging that plaintiffs' compensation was incorrectly calculated by the Board, resulting in inadequate monthly benefits. The District Court dismissed the claim on grounds that plaintiffs failed to file their complaint within the 2-year statute of limitations, and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court noted that although the Board has broad statutory duties to administer the various state retirement plans, it is not the Board's duty to calculate compensation amounts for individual members. Rather, it is an employer's duty to calculate and report the compensation amounts. If those reports were in error, plaintiffs should have sought relief from their employers, but their remedy did not lie with the state or the Board (see 2011 amendment). Thus, the District Court correctly dismissed the complaint, albeit for a different reason, and the Supreme Court affirmed. Hall v. St., 2006 MT 37, 331 M 171, 130 P3d 601 (2006).

1997 Amendment: Chapter 370 in first sentence, after "13", deleted "of this title" and inserted third sentence clarifying that a retired member is not eligible to earn service credits. Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1997 Amendment: Chapter 370 in first sentence, after "any", substituted "statutory beneficiaries, designated beneficiaries" for "statutorily designated persons, the beneficiaries of a member", after "natural persons" deleted "charitable organizations, or trusts for the benefit of natural living persons", near middle, after "member", inserted "or payment recipient", and at end inserted "or other form provided by the division" and in second sentence, after "member", inserted "or payment recipient", after "different" inserted "designated", after "filing" inserted "with the board", and after "membership card" substituted "or other form provided by the division" for "with the board". Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 substituted present section relating to designation of beneficiary for former section that read: "The beneficiaries of a member shall be such natural persons, charitable organizations, or trusts for the benefit of natural living persons as the member shall designate in the appropriate written application. A member may revoke such designation and name different beneficiaries by filing written notice with the board." Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1985 Amendment: In first sentence inserted "natural" before "persons" and inserted charitable organizations and trusts as permissible beneficiaries.

1981 Amendment: Changed "beneficiary" to "beneficiaries" and "person" to "persons"; changed "revised written instrument" to "written notice" near the end of section.

Case Notes

Change in Retirement Plan Beneficiary Covered by Temporary Restraining Order Pending Marriage Dissolution Proceedings — Attempted Change in Beneficiary Invalid: The petitioner was denied benefits under her deceased husband's Sheriffs' Retirement System (SRS) plan because he had dropped her as a beneficiary and added his minor children while marriage dissolution proceedings were pending. At the time the husband made the change, both parties were subject to a temporary restraining order (TRO) that, in part, prohibited either party from changing the beneficiaries of insurance or other coverage held for the benefit of a party. The husband made the change without the consent of the petitioner or the court, in violation of the TRO. The Supreme Court held that a TRO issued under 40-4-121 that restricts changes of beneficiaries of insurance or other coverage applies to a change of beneficiary under the SRS and that the husband's attempted change was therefore invalid as a violation of statute. Briese v. Mont. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 2012 MT 192, 366 Mont. 148, 285 P.3d 550. However, see In re Estate of Corrigan, 2014 MT 337, 377 Mont. 364, 341 P.3d 623, in which a change in beneficiary was allowed because the TRO had not been served within the 3-year timeframe and the change was made after the time for service had expired.

Case Notes

State Retirement Board Protected From Minor's Direct Claims for Additional Payment After Proper Payment Already Made: The Montana Public Employee Retirement Administration (MPERA) denied the petitioner's claim as a beneficiary under her late husband's plan because he had dropped her as a beneficiary and added his minor children while a temporary restraining order was in effect pending marriage dissolution proceedings. Although the petitioner appealed MPERA's decision to the District Court, she also activated monthly payments to herself for the benefit of her children. On appeal to the Supreme Court, the Montana Public Employees' Retirement Board argued that this section rendered the petitioner's appeal moot, as the Board's obligations under the law were fully discharged by commencing payments for the minor children and thus the petitioner had no potential relief available. The Supreme Court disagreed and held that this section protects the Board from a minor's direct claims for additional payment after proper payment has already been made to a designated recipient on behalf of the minor. This section was inapplicable when the petitioner, who had elected monthly payments in lieu of a lump sum, could seek relief through future monthly payments. Briese v. Mont. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 2012 MT 192, 366 Mont. 148, 285 P.3d 550.

(2) In lieu of the payment of benefits as provided in subsection (1), the board may grant a survivorship allowance in the amount provided for in 19-3-1205 to the member's surviving next of kin other than the beneficiary who caused the member's death. Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1995 Amendment: Chapter 111 in (2)(a), after "17", deleted "or 20"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 10, 1995.

1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 259, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [section 1] [19-2-907] grants rulemaking authority to the public employees' retirement board or the teachers' retirement board. [Section 1] [19-2-907] provides for the assignment and payment of retirement system benefits to alternate payees but differs from federal qualified domestic relations orders. Alternate payees will not be eligible to receive payments that could not otherwise be paid by the retirement system."

Coordination Instruction: Section 11, Ch. 259, L. 1993, provided: "If Senate Bill No. 385 is passed and approved, [section 1] [19-2-907] is to be codified only as an integral part of the general retirement provisions and the bracketed language in [section 1] [19-2-907] replaces the references to the enumerated chapters of Title 19." Senate Bill No. 385 was passed and approved as Ch. 265, L. 1993; therefore, the reference to enumerated chapters of Title 19 in 19-2-907(2)(a) was codified as instructed.

Case Notes

Offset of Unpaid Retirement Benefits Proper Under Prior Family Law Order: The District Court ordered the husband to pay $734 a month from his retirement benefits, as ordered in a dissolution decree, and allowed the wife to offset her obligations to the husband when he became eligible to share in her retirement benefits to cover accrued payments of more than $10,000 owed by the husband. On appeal, the husband contended that he was exempt from this legal process under 19-2-1004 because 11 years had passed since the decree was issued, so the decree should no longer be considered a family law order under this section. The Supreme Court disagreed and affirmed. The husband cited no authority for the proposition that a family law order is no longer a family law order after 11 years. The District Court did not err in allowing the wife to collect accrued payments by setoff or otherwise. In re Marriage of Weber, 2004 MT 206, 322 M 324, 95 P3d 694 (2004).

Writ of Mandamus Ordering State Agency to Pay Highway Patrol Benefits to Ex-Wife Improper: The petitioner obtained a writ of mandamus from the lower court directing the Department of Administration to pay one-half of her ex-husband's highway patrol retirement benefits to her as required by the couple's divorce decree. The Supreme Court reversed, holding that the agency had no legal duty to pay the benefits to the petitioner because she was not a beneficiary under the applicable law. (See 1993 and 2001 amendments.) Case Notes

Offset of Unpaid Retirement Benefits Proper Under Prior Family Law Order: The District Court ordered the husband to pay $734 a month from his retirement benefits, as ordered in a dissolution decree, and allowed the wife to offset her obligations to the husband when he became eligible to share in her retirement benefits to cover accrued payments of more than $10,000 owed by the husband. On appeal, the husband contended that he was exempt from this legal process under this section because 11 years had passed since the decree was issued, so the decree should no longer be considered a family law order under 19-2-907. The Supreme Court disagreed and affirmed. The husband cited no authority for the proposition that a family law order is no longer a family law order after 11 years. The District Court did not err in allowing the wife to collect accrued payments by setoff or otherwise. In re Marriage of Weber, 2004 MT 206, 322 M 324, 95 P3d 694 (2004).

No Private Contract Created by Statute — State Prohibited From Surrendering Power to Tax: After the Legislature enacted Ch. 823, L. 1991, to tax retirement pension benefits that had previously been untaxed, the retirees sued, claiming that they had a contractual right to a continued exemption from taxation. Citing Wage Appeal v. Bd. of Personnel Appeals, 208 M 33, 676 P2d 194 (1984), the Supreme Court held that the former tax exemption was only a policy statement that could be changed by the Legislature and that the Legislature did not clearly manifest an intention in the law in question to create a private contractual right. Additionally, the Supreme Court held that the state was prohibited by Art. VIII, sec. 2, Mont. Const., from promising any group of taxpayers that it would never tax them. Sheehy v. Pub. Employees Retirement Div., 262 M 129, 864 P2d 762, 50 St. Rep. 1477 (1993).

Federal Retirees Not Entitled to Retroactive Tax Refunds: Applying the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Davis v. Mich. Dept. of the Treasury, 489 US 803, 103 L Ed 2d 891, 109 S Ct 1500 (1989), the District Court adopted a stipulation that the state income tax assessed on benefits received by federal retirees under 4 U.S.C. 111 that were in excess of $3,600 was unconstitutional and invalid for tax years after 1988. The District Court denied plaintiffs' summary judgment motion that Davis be applied retroactively, thus entitling retirees to refunds for previous tax years. On appeal, the Montana Supreme Court affirmed, ruling that it would be inequitable to refund taxes to retirees because the refunds would be made at the expense of all state taxpayers. Sheehy v. St., 250 M 437, 820 P2d 1257, 48 St. Rep. 1008 (1991).

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

Effective Date: Section 43, Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "[This act] is effective on passage and approval." Approved April 23, 1997.

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery have resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Public Employees' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, a reasonable increase in contributions for current participants is necessary to help return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed and enacted alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, which have failed to reduce system costs enough to restore the system to actuarial soundness; and

WHEREAS, in light of significant strains on the Montana economy, on state and local government budgets, and on taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% imposed on current members, with an appropriate mechanism to terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves and in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary, is for a valid public purpose, and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure that the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

The amount of the employer contributions shall be computed by applying to member's compensation the sum of the current service contribution rate and the unfunded liability contribution rate. The sum of these rates is 6.417% from July 1, 1983, to June 30, 1992. The sum of the rates increases to 6.55% on July 1, 1992, and to 6.70% on July 1, 1993.

(2) The actuary shall determine the current service contribution rate to be that level percentage of the present value of the future compensation of the average new member entering the system which equals the then present value of the excess of all prospective benefits in respect of such member over the member's own normal contributions.

(3) The actuary shall determine the minimum unfunded liability contribution rate to be that level percentage of the present value of the prospective compensation of all members for the 40-year period following the date of the determination which is equal to the unfunded liability on that date. The unfunded liability at any time is the excess of the present value of all future benefits payable in respect of all persons then entitled to benefits under the system over the sum of the retirement fund and the present values of the future current service contributions and normal contributions payable in respect of all such persons." Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1989 Amendment: At end of (1), after "July 1, 1983", substituted "to June 30, 1992. The sum of the rates increases to 6.55% on July 1, 1992, and to 6.70% on July 1, 1993" for "and thereafter"; and made minor change in phraseology. Amendment effective April 15, 1989.

1983 Amendment: At end of (1), substituted "these rates shall be 6.417% from July 1, 1983, and thereafter" for "these rates shall be 6.32% from July 1, 1981, and thereafter".

The pre-1981 employer rate was 5.90%. The increase in HB 45 (Ch. 549) was .12% and in SB 232 (Ch. 254) .30%. In accordance with the coordination section, the Code Commissioner inserted "6.32" in the last sentence of (1).

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a member of either the defined benefit plan or the defined contribution plan who terminates one service but remains in another service or subsequently reenters service is an active member"; and made minor changes in style. A seasonal employee who has had an original election of exemption from membership is not subject to the requirement regarding the break in service while continuing in the employee's original employment and employed on a seasonal basis, but upon termination of employment to accept new employment or absence of more than 1 month in returning to original employment in any ensuing season, the seasonal employee shall become a member of the retirement system upon reentry." Amendment effective July 1, 1999.

Purported Contingent Effective Date: Section 79(4), Ch. 471, L. 1999, provided that the amendments to this section are "effective contingent upon certification, as provided in [section 65] [not codified], that the defined contribution retirement plan is ready to become operational or on July 1, 2002, whichever is earlier". Section 65 provided in subsection (2) that "The board shall certify to the governor and the secretary of state the date on which the defined contribution retirement plan established pursuant to [sections 42 through 63] [chapter 3, part 21, of this title] is ready to become operational and shall provide a copy of the certification to the code commissioner." The amendments contained in sec. 35, Ch. 471, L. 1999, were the same as the amendments contained in sec. 99(1)(d), Ch. 562, L. 1999, except the amendment to the first sentence of (4), which was rendered void by the deletion of (4) in Ch. 562. The effect of the amendments is that this section is not subject to the contingency in sec. 79(4), Ch. 471, L. 1999. Instead, the amendments are effective July 1, 1999, pursuant to sec. 101, Ch. 562, L. 1999.

Saving Clause: Section 100, Ch. 562, L. 1999, was a saving clause.

1997 Amendment: Chapter 370 in (1), in first sentence after "all", deleted "eligible" and at end substituted "service" for "covered employment" and at beginning of second sentence, after "Each", substituted "employer" for "eligible employee" and after "affecting" substituted "their employees' status as members" for "the employee's status as a member". Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (1), at beginning, inserted exception clause, in two places changed references to employees to references to eligible employees, and before "employment" inserted "covered"; in (2), near beginning, substituted "membership service" for "creditable service", after "terminates" substituted "service" for "covered employment", before "contributions" inserted "accumulated", after "contributions" inserted "is an inactive vested member and", after "service" inserted "and to receive a service retirement benefit", and before "this chapter" deleted "part 5 of"; deleted (2)(b) that read: "(b) Upon reaching retirement age, a member becomes eligible to receive a retirement allowance under the provisions of 19-3-901 or 19-3-902"; in (3), in first sentence, substituted "membership service" for "creditable service", after "terminates" substituted "service" for "covered employment", after "contributions" substituted "in the pension trust fund" for "on deposit", after "is" inserted "an inactive nonvested member and is", and after "benefits" substituted "from the retirement system" for "other than" and in last sentence, before "a refund", inserted "An inactive nonvested member is eligible only for"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment: Inserted (2) regarding right to purchase service and eligibility for retirement allowance for member with at least 5 years' service who terminates covered employment; and inserted (3) limiting member with less than 5 years' service to refund of contributions. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 329 in (4) in third sentence at end substituted "with regard to that employment, an inactive member of the retirement system, except that the member is not eligible for retirement or a refund of the member's accumulated contributions" for "solely for the purposes of making regular contributions, as permanently separated from service"; and in (4)(a) at beginning substituted "The employees of an employer who has entered into a collective bargaining agreement involving a multiemployer pension plan qualified by the internal revenue service and that requires contributions by the employer for the members of the bargaining unit" for "When an employer has entered into a collective bargaining agreement that includes provisions for payments or contributions by the employer in lieu of wages to a retirement or pension plan qualified by the internal revenue service for its employees, the employees". 1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 deleted former (1) that read: "(1) elective officers who have not filed with the board written requests to become members, except that a person so excluded from membership may later become a member by otherwise becoming an employee or by written request after a subsequent election to office, and if he affirmatively exercises the option, the contributions of the employer because of his membership shall be the same as they would have been had he not been so excluded"; in (1), after "institutions", deleted "who are allowed compensation for such service as they are able to perform"; at end of (3) substituted "the retirement system" for "The Public Employees' Retirement System Act"; deleted former (5) through (7) that read: "(5) employees serving in employment which does not exceed the equivalent of 120 working days in any fiscal year who have not filed with the board a written request to become members. If he affirmatively exercises the option and pays the employee contribution plus interest, the contributions of the employer, because of his membership, shall be the same as they would have been had he not been so excluded plus accrued interest on all employer contributions from the date the contributions would have been made to the date of payment.

(6) employees in service on July 1, 1945, or prior thereto who filed with the board elections not to become members, except that a person so excluded from membership may become a member and be eligible thereafter to receive the same benefits that he would have received if he had never filed an election not to be a member by meeting the requirements prescribed in 19-3-505 and 19-3-506;

(7) persons directly appointed by the governor who do not file with the board an election in writing to become members"; in (4), in third sentence, substituted "regular contributions" for "normal contributions"; at end of (4)(a), after "retirement system", deleted "and the payments or contributions in lieu of wages may not be considered a part of the employees' compensation for purposes of computing the employer or employee contributions to the retirement system"; in (4)(b) substituted "subsection (4)" for "subsection (8)" and after "employee" deleted "as defined in this chapter"; in (5), after "court commissioners", inserted "elected officials"; deleted (10) through (12) that read: "(10) persons who become employees after they have reached their 60th birthday and have no creditable service in this system and who do not file with the board an election to become members;

1985 Amendment: Deleted former (14) that read: "effective October 1, 1978, employees whose positions are funded under the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) and who file with the board elections not to become members. An employee who exercises his election is considered terminated and is eligible for a refund under 19-3-703, and any employer contributions made on his behalf after October 1, 1978, must be returned to the funding agency. If he is subsequently transferred to non-CETA employment and consequently becomes a member, he may revoke his election within 1 year after the transfer date by filing a written revocation with the board and he will then be eligible to qualify the service previously excluded by this subsection under the provisions of 19-3-505"; and in (15) substituted reference to calendar year for fiscal year in two places.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

Effective Date: Section 239, Ch. 265, L. 1993, provided that this section is effective July 1, 1993.

Case Notes

Public Defender Considered Employee Entitled to Purchase Service Credits: Lewis worked as a county public defender for about 2 ½ years and then began working for the state Department of Transportation. Lewis sought to purchase service credits pursuant to the applicable 1979 version of this section for the time spent as a public defender. The District Court affirmed the finding of the Public Employees' Retirement Board that Lewis's service was creditable service (definition changed to credited service or service credit in 1993 and deleted in 2003), as defined in 19-3-104 (renumbered 19-2-303), that did not qualify for conversion to membership service, so Lewis was denied the right to purchase service credit. On appeal, the Supreme Court reversed. The definition of membership service in 19-3-104 (renumbered 19-2-303) was service with respect to which contributions are paid. No contributions were paid, so Lewis's service was not membership service and therefore was also not creditable service. Lewis was an employee rather than an independent contractor, the county was a participating member of the public employees' retirement system, and Lewis's service was not creditable service. Thus, Lewis was entitled to purchase service credits in the retirement system. (Note that the statutes were substantially revised beginning in 1993.) Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

Retroactive Applicability: Section 42, Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "[Section 15] [amending 19-3-511] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to the period beginning January 1, 1995."

If the member had less than 3 full years of membership service, the average final compensation must be based on the compensation reported to the teachers' retirement board by the employer"; and deleted former (3)(b) and (3)(c) that read: "(b) If the sum of the rates provided in 19-3-701 and 19-3-801 exceeded the sum of the rates provided in 19-4-602 and 19-4-605 at the time the employee terminated active membership, as defined in 19-4-302, the employee shall pay an amount in addition to that required in subsection (3)(a) to receive full credit for the service transferred. This additional amount is equal to:

(i) the final compensation as determined in subsection (2) multiplied by the total years of creditable service being transferred multiplied by the difference between the sum of the rates provided for in 19-3-701 and 19-3-801 and the sum of the rates provided in 19-4-602 and 19-4-605; plus

(ii) accrued interest from the date of termination until payment is received by the retirement system, based on the interest tables in use by the retirement system.

Amendment effective February 27, 1991.

(b) the amount of the first full year's teaching salary earned in Montana after any period of creditable service not included in subsection (1)(a) multiplied by the number of years or partial years granted by the teachers' retirement system"; at end of (1) substituted "to qualify this service under this section is the sum of subsections (2) and (3)" for "to qualify this service under subsection (2) is the sum of the following"; in (2) substituted language relating to transfer of amounts from teachers' retirement system to public employees' retirement system for "(a) from the teachers' retirement system, an amount equal to the combined employer and employee contributions as defined in 19-3-701 and 19-3-801, based on the assumed salary, less the amount paid by the employee in subsection (3)(b)"; in (3)(a), at beginning, substituted "the employee shall pay an amount equal to his accumulated contributions" for "from the employee, the amount of his accumulated contributions" and at end, before "retirement system", inserted "teachers'"; inserted

(3)(b) relating to calculation of additional required payments; inserted (3)(c) relating to credit for transferred service when member does not make contributions; in (4) substituted "subsection (1)" for "subsection (2)"; in (5) substituted "this section" for "subsections (2) and (4)" and substituted "subsections (2) and (3)" for "subsection (3)"; in (6), before "contributions", deleted "employee and employer" and substituted "subsections (2) and (3)" for "subsection (3)(a)"; and made minor changes in punctuation and form.

Case Notes

Constitutional Authority of Public Employees' Retirement Board to Make Actuarial Calculations — No Overbroad Delegation of Legislative Authority: The District Court held that 2001 amendments contained in House Bill No. 294, which included a definition of actuarial equivalent that changed the method by which the Public Employees' Retirement Board calculated certain benefits, unconstitutionally delegated unconstrained discretion to the Board in violation of the separation of powers doctrine in Art. III, sec. 1, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Board asserted that Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., gave the Board the authority to make actuarial evaluations and thus to implement the 2001 amendments, so there was no constitutional violation. The Supreme Court agreed. Article III, sec. 1, Mont. Const., allows one branch of government to exercise power properly belonging to another branch if the constitution expressly directs or permits that exercise. Because Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., delegated authority to the Board to make actuarial determinations, the District Court committed reversible error in concluding that the Legislature and House Bill No. 294 (2001) unconstitutionally delegated authority to the Board to make determinations allowed by another section of the constitution. 1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 567, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [section 1] [19-3-908] gives the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to provide an active member of the public employees' retirement system who is eligible for normal or early retirement with an incentive to terminate service within the timeframe or window prescribed in this bill. The incentive provided in this bill is that the employer, at no cost to an eligible member, will buy for the eligible member up to 3 years of additional service for the purpose of calculating the member's retirement benefit.

The employer of an eligible member will pay the total cost for purchasing the additional service, up to 3 years, that the member is eligible to purchase under existing statute. It is the intent of the legislature that the state and the university system be mandated to provide this retirement incentive but that providing the incentive be optional for contracting employers under the public employees' retirement system.

It is also the intent of the legislature that the employer may pay for the additional service on an installment basis over as many as 10 years. Interest would be charged at a rate set according to the retirement board's policy.

It is not the intent of the legislature to provide this retirement incentive to anyone who is an inactive member of the retirement system or who is ineligible for early or normal retirement within the prescribed window or to change the benefit formula used to determine benefits under the retirement system."

Part 10
Disability Retirement Benefits

Part Case Notes

Incapacity Not Result of Employment: District Court reversed decision of Public Employees' Retirement Board which refused relator's claim for an occupational disability retirement allowance based upon job-related disability caused by adverse working conditions and granted relator ordinary disability retirement allowance. This was improper since District Court substituted its judgment for that of Board and since "disease", as used in section 68-901, R.C.M. 1947 (now repealed), did not include "personality disorders, anxiety reactions, or difficulties in getting along with one's superiors or fellow workers". Case Notes

Proof That Multiple Sclerosis Caused Disability: A doctor for the claimant for state retirement disability benefits testified that the claimant had multiple sclerosis (MS) prior to 1988 and that it became disabling (in regard to his job) in that year and remained disabling after that year. He was not conclusively diagnosed with and told that he had MS until 1991. The Public Employees' Retirement Board, which denied benefits, presented no medical evidence and did not deny that a job disability due to MS existed since 1988, the year when the claimant resigned. Instead, the Board relied on the claimant's 1988 indications that he was resigning to preserve a higher payout of unused benefits (his position was about to be reclassified downward) and that he felt he could do the job. His doctor's uncontradicted testimony was entitled to special weight and should not have been disregarded absent specific legitimate evidence and reasons to the contrary. The claimant's 1988 statements showed only that he did not believe that he was disabled and did not show that he in fact was not. They could have been made during a period of remission when symptoms were minor and he thought himself in good health. The lower court properly ruled that the Board's treatment of the claimant's doctor's testimony was erroneous and that the denial of benefits was also erroneous. Weber v. Pub. Employees' Retirement Bd., 270 M 239, 890 P2d 1296, 52 St. Rep. 162 (1995).

The annual amount of retirement allowance reverts to 50% of final compensation at the end of such period"; in (2) substituted "disability retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance"; and made minor changes in style. 1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1995 Amendment: Chapter 412 in (1), in third sentence, substituted "the essential elements of either the position" for "either the duties of the position" and after "retired or the" substituted "position" for "duties". Amendment effective April 13, 1995.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 throughout section substituted references to disabled member or member for references to recipient of a disability retirement allowance or recipient and substituted references to retirement benefit, disability retirement benefit, or benefit for references to retirement allowance, disability retirement allowance, or allowance; in (1), in second sentence, substituted "at a place mutually agreed upon by the retired member and the board" for "at the place of residence of the recipient or another place mutually agreed upon"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Case Notes

Constitutional Authority of Public Employees' Retirement Board to Make Actuarial Calculations — No Overbroad Delegation of Legislative Authority: The District Court held that 2001 amendments contained in House Bill No. 294, which included a definition of actuarial equivalent that changed the method by which the Public Employees' Retirement Board calculated certain benefits, unconstitutionally delegated unconstrained discretion to the Board in violation of the separation of powers doctrine in Art. III, sec. 1, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Board asserted that Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., gave the Board the authority to make actuarial evaluations and thus to implement the 2001 amendments, so there was no constitutional violation. The Supreme Court agreed. Article III, sec. 1, Mont. Const., allows one branch of government to exercise power properly belonging to another branch if the constitution expressly directs or permits that exercise. Because Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., delegated authority to the Board to make actuarial determinations, the District Court committed reversible error in concluding that the Legislature and House Bill No. 294 (2001) unconstitutionally delegated authority to the Board to make determinations allowed by another section of the constitution. (b) Except as provided in subsection (4)(a)(ii), the applicable percentage is 1.5% for benefit recipients hired or assuming office on or after July 1, 2007.

(5) (a) The applicable percentage rate for a contingent annuitant described in subsection (2)(c) is 3% if the original payee:

Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 390, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis" and that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery have resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Public Employees' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, a reasonable increase in contributions for current participants is necessary to help return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed and enacted alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, which have failed to reduce system costs enough to restore the system to actuarial soundness; and

WHEREAS, in light of significant strains on the Montana economy, on state and local government budgets, and on taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% imposed on current members, with an appropriate mechanism to terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves and in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary, is for a valid public purpose, and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure that the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 170, L. 2015, provided: "WHEREAS, employer contributions equal to 2.37% of compensation for covered members in the Public Employees' Retirement System Defined Contribution Retirement Plan (PERS-DCRP) and the Montana University System Retirement Program (MUS-RP) are statutorily allocated to the Public Employees' Retirement System Defined Benefit Retirement Plan (PERS-DBRP) as the plan choice rate; and

WHEREAS, additional employer contributions equal to 0.37% of a member's compensation are also allocated to the plan choice rate and this percentage will increase by 0.1% each year through 2024; and

WHEREAS, the plan choice rate was established to pay the portion of the PERS-DBRP unfunded actuarial liabilities associated with PERS members who elected to join the PERS-DCRP rather than the PERS-DBRP plan and also to pay for any increase to the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP resulting from PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, section 19-3-2121, MCA, requires that the plan choice rate be adjusted if it is actuarially determined to be too high or too low to pay off the associated unfunded actuarial liabilities within an established timeframe and if there is an actual change in the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP resulting from PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, the normal cost of benefits in the PERS-DBRP has never significantly changed because of PERS members selecting the PERS-DCRP; and

WHEREAS, the Public Employees' Retirement Board's actuary determined that as of June 30, 2014, the unfunded actuarial liability associated with the plan choice rate is $5,903,188, and is estimated to be fully paid off within the next 2 to 3 years."

Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 390, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis" and that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery have resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Public Employees' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, a reasonable increase in contributions for current participants is necessary to help return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed and enacted alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, which have failed to reduce system costs enough to restore the system to actuarial soundness; and

WHEREAS, in light of significant strains on the Montana economy, on state and local government budgets, and on taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% imposed on current members, with an appropriate mechanism to terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves and in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary, is for a valid public purpose, and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure that the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (2), near beginning of first sentence after "service", deleted "as herein provided" and near end of second sentence substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1983 Amendments: Chapter 256 deleted "temporary" before "service" in two places in (2).

Chapter 425 substituted, at beginning of (1), "Every judge or justice who has voluntarily retired after 8 years of service shall" for "Every judge or justice receiving retirement pay under the provisions of this chapter shall,"; near end of (2) inserted ", if any," after "the monthly retirement allowance the retired judge or justice is receiving".

1981 Amendment: Inserted "or any water court" in the first sentence; added "supreme court, district court, or water court, or to serve as water judge" at end of the first sentence.

Case Notes

Appointed Retired Judge Subject to Substitution Under 3-1-804: The plaintiff filed a lawsuit in Lake County. The defendant moved for substitution under 3-1-804 and a second judge assumed jurisdiction. The second judge then requested a retired District Court Judge to preside over the case, who was appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The plaintiff then moved to substitute the retired judge under 3-1-804. The judges then issued an order returning jurisdiction to the original judge or the Chief Justice. The petitioner sought supervisory control, arguing that 3-1-804 does not apply to sitting retired judges. The Supreme Court held that specific assignments of retired District Judges under 19-5-103 are contemplated by the language of 3-1-804. Cushman v. 20th Judicial District Court, 2015 MT 311, 381 Mont. 324, 360 P.3d 492.

Authority of Retired Judge to Decide Summary Judgment Motion When Ordered to Finish Preretirement Business: A retired District Court Judge was ordered by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, pursuant to this section, to be reactivated for the purpose of completing matters unfinished at the time of retirement, including the disposition of the present case. Based on that statutory authority and the Supreme Court order, the judge had authority to decide defendant's motion for summary judgment, to issue a related memorandum and order, and to enter final judgment. Walch v. Univ. of Mont., 260 M 496, 861 P2d 179, 50 St. Rep. 1186 (1993).

Appointment of Defeated District Judge: Judge Sykes, a retired judge who was defeated for reelection, was appointed by the Chief Justice to hear several cases. A party to one of the cases appealed the appointment of a defeated judge. The court held that Judge Sykes is a member of the "pool" of retired judges and can be called in by the Chief Justice to preside under the provisions of Art. VII, sec. 6, Mont. Const. Section 3-5-201, which requires District Judges to be elected, does not overcome the constitutional power given to the Chief Justice. Judge Sykes was not appointed pursuant to this section, and it is therefore not applicable. State ex rel. Welch v. District Court, 209 M 397, 680 P2d 327, 41 St. Rep. 783 (1984).

Judge's Reappointment to Finish Case Started Before Retirement: That trial Judge retired prior to his issuance of orders in the case at issue did not make the orders void. Under the decision in State ex rel. Wilcox & Bradley v. District Court, 678 P2d 209, 41 St. Rep. 397 (1984), the trial Judge had authority to perform all functions of an active District Judge, including the issuance of final orders and judgments. In re Pegg's Estate, 209 M 71, 680 P2d 316, 41 St. Rep. 558 (1984).

District Judge to Approve and Adopt Work of Retired Judge: In a case involving the question of whether or not retired judges may be called into service pursuant to Art. VII, sec. 6, Mont. Const., by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, those opposing the use of retired judges argued that under this section retired judges are not empowered to enter final judgment in a case. The Supreme Court noted that this section is a legislative grant of power and must yield to the constitutional grant of power. However, the court then found that this section and the constitutional provision address two situations, are mutually exclusive, and are not inconsistent. The court held that this section addresses the situation in which a District Judge needs help in legal research, the preparation of opinions, and preliminary matters. State ex rel. Wilcox v. District Court, 208 M 351, 678 P2d 209, 41 St. Rep. 397 (1984), followed in St. v. Holmes, 212 M 526, 687 P2d 662, 41 St. Rep. 1535 (1984).

Case Notes

1989 Retirement Benefit Increase Not Applicable to Judge Who Retired After Date of Enactment but Before Effective Date of Legislation: Gulbrandson was an active member of the judges' retirement system at the time of enactment of Ch. 664, L. 1989, which provided an increase in state funding to the system and an increase in retirement benefits for those years served by a judge after the 15th year. Implementation of the increase under this section was delayed until July 1, 1991. Gulbrandson voluntarily retired prior to the delayed effective date. The Supreme Court held that based on the plain meaning of the statute, Gulbrandson was not entitled to the increased retirement benefit upon his retirement prior to July 1, 1991. Denial of the benefit did not impair Gulbrandson's contract with the system in violation of Art. II, sec. 31, Mont. Const., because the statute affecting his contract at the time of retirement did not include the benefit increase. Moreover, denial of the benefit does not violate equal protection provisions of Art. II, sec. 4, Mont. Const., because although Ch. 664 effectively created two classes of retired judges, it operates equally upon those within each class. Nearly all such legislation creates classifications regarding applicability, benefits, and recipients of retirement benefits. The fact that some of the classifications are imperfect does not necessarily mandate a conclusion that they violate equal protection. Under the rational basis test, which is the proper test in this case, the legitimate government interest of encouraging judges with significant years of service to remain in service longer was met. Thus, the 1989 amendment to this section was not unreasonable or arbitrary or devoid of rational basis. Gulbrandson v. Carey, 272 M 494, 901 P2d 573, 52 St. Rep. 843 (1995), following Hughes v. Judges Retirement Bd., 282 NW 2d 160 (Mich. 1979), and distinguishing Leonard v. Seattle, 503 P2d 741 (Wash. 1972).

Attorney General's Opinions

Increased Retirement Allowance Prospective Only: The 1989 amendment to this section increasing the benefit allowance from 1% to 1.785%, which became effective July 1, 1991, was intended to encourage judges to remain on the bench rather than to benefit judges who had already retired. Therefore, absent a legislative implication of retroactivity, the increase did not apply retroactively to judges who retired prior to July 1, 1991, regardless of whether they retired before or after the date the amendment was enacted in 1989. 44 A.G. Op. 44 (1992).

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 near beginning substituted "member" for "contributor", substituted "service" for "employment", substituted "survivorship benefit" for "retirement allowance", before "beneficiary" inserted "designated", and substituted second sentence regarding survivorship benefit for former second sentence that read: "Such retirement allowance shall consist of:

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 272, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution also requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 and 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for current members of the system; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and future employee contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future members alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future members and reduced benefits for future members are necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning all public employee retirement systems to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that several of the systems, including the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System remain actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase applied to current Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System members, phased in over a 4-year period, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is reasonable and necessary pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is funded in an actuarially sound manner; and

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 throughout section substituted references to service retirement benefit or retirement benefit for references to service retirement allowance or retirement allowance; at end of (1)(a) substituted "membership service and terminating service" for "creditable service and terminating covered employment"; at end of (1)(b) substituted "membership service, and terminated service" for "creditable service, and terminated covered employment"; in (2), at end, substituted "division" for "department"; in (3)(a) substituted "covered service" for "covered employment" and substituted "inactive member" for "terminated member"; in (3)(b) substituted "member who has terminated service" for "terminated member"; and made minor changes in style. 1983 Amendment: Inserted (2) specifying date of commencement of retirement allowance.

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution also requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 and 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for current members of the system; and Involuntary Retirement: This section, prior to the 1985 amendments, had to be interpreted to the effect that a patrolman who was discontinued from service, not voluntarily, after having completed 10 years of service but before reaching age 60, could elect to take either of the following as his retirement allowance: (a) the full amount of accumulated deductions standing to his credit; or (b) the actuarial equivalent of the accrued portion of the service retirement allowance which would have been payable to him commencing at age 60, pursuant to the following section, had he not discontinued service. Retirement allowances heretofore granted under an erroneous interpretation must stand unchanged by this subsequent reinterpretation. 36 A.G. Op. 24 (1975).

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. The board shall notify the secretary of state and the code commissioner when the commissioner of internal revenue has issued a ruling or determination.

2013 Amendment: Chapter 272 in (1) inserted "for members hired before July 1, 2013". Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 272, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution also requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 and 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for current members of the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to the current system members in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and future employee contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future members alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future members and reduced benefits for future members are necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning all public employee retirement systems to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that several of the systems, including the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System remain actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase applied to current Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System members, phased in over a 4-year period, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is reasonable and necessary pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is funded in an actuarially sound manner; and the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

WHEREAS, the defined benefit Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is integral to the successful recruitment and retention of qualified Montana highway patrol officers."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

2013 Amendment: Chapter 272 in (1)(a) near beginning inserted "subsection (1)(b) and" and after "a member" deleted "with at least 5 years of membership service"; inserted (1)(b) regarding applying to purchase service credit; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 272, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution also requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 and 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for current members of the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to the current system members in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and future employee contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future members alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future members and reduced benefits for future members are necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning all public employee retirement systems to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that several of the systems, including the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System remain actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase applied to current Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System members, phased in over a 4-year period, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is reasonable and necessary pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is funded in an actuarially sound manner; and

WHEREAS, the defined benefit Highway Patrol Officers' Retirement System is integral to the successful recruitment and retention of qualified Montana highway patrol officers."

2003 Amendment: Chapter 429 in (2) in two places and in (3) after references to service inserted "credit"; and near end of (3) after "eligible for" deleted "normal". Amendment effective July 1, 2003.

Except as provided in subsection (3), the member may purchase" and near end substituted "in" for "qualified under"; at beginning of (2) substituted "To purchase service under this section, a member shall pay the actuarial cost of the service" for "For each year of service credit purchased under this section, a member shall contribute to the pension trust fund an amount equal to the actuarial cost of granting the service"; deleted former (3) that read: "(3) A member may elect to qualify no more than a combined total of 5 years of service under 19-2-707, 19-6-801, 19-6-803, and this section"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 21, 2001.

1999 Amendment: Chapter 58 deleted second sentence in (2) that read: "Contributions may be made in a lump-sum payment or by making additional contributions in installments as agreed upon by the member and the board"; and in (3) substituted "19-2-707" for "19-2-705". Amendment effective July 1, 1999.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 180, L. 1995, provided: "WHEREAS, allowing public employees to purchase additional service for the purpose of calculating their retirement benefits is a valuable benefit to persons wishing to enhance their retirement benefits; and

WHEREAS, the public employees', teachers', and sheriffs' retirement systems have provisions that allow for the purchase of additional service for the purpose of calculating retirement benefits; and

WHEREAS, the Committee on Public Employee Retirement Systems [now State Administration and Veterans' Affairs Interim Committee] was created by the Legislature to help promote fair and consistent retirement policy for all of Montana's public employees; and

WHEREAS, members of the judges', highway patrol officers', game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'], municipal police officers', and firefighters' unified retirement systems who purchase additional service under the provisions of this bill are required to pay the full cost of the service based on the most recent actuarial valuation of the system; and

Payments in Case of Patrolman's Death From Natural Causes: The beneficiary of a deceased patrolman who dies of natural causes before attaining age 60, regardless of his length of service, had a choice under this section (as it read prior to the 1985 amendment) of either: (a) taking the full amount of the accumulated deductions standing to the decedent's credit; or (b) taking an annuity which would be the actuarial equivalent of the accrued portion of the service retirement allowance which would have been payable to the decedent commencing at age 60 had death not discontinued his service. 36 A.G. Op. 24 (1975).

It is the intent of the legislature that only full-time, professional law enforcement officers be eligible for membership in the sheriffs' retirement system. Because persons without the requisite training and salary required to be paid to deputy sheriffs have been erroneously reported to the sheriffs' retirement system in the past, it is the intent of this bill to require the board to adopt rules that will reflect up-to-date training and salary requirements for appointed deputy sheriffs acting in a professional law enforcement capacity.

The legislature intends that persons employed in the following positions and who are not permanent, full-time law enforcement officers employed by county sheriffs not be eligible for membership in this retirement system: jailers; communications officers; other administrative, clerical, or support personnel; and other persons deputized to act as reserve deputies."

Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Chapter 265 in (3), at end, substituted reference to 19-7-1101 for reference to subsection (2); substituted (4) regarding inactive vested member for former subsection that read: "A retired sheriff who is employed as a sheriff after retirement for less than 60 working days in a calendar year is excluded from membership. The retirement allowance of a retired sheriff so employed must be reduced by $1 for each $3 earned in excess of $5,000 in a calendar year"; inserted (5) regarding inactive nonvested member; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

The codifier codified the reference to 19-7-1101 at the end of (3) instead of the reference to subsection (4) because Ch. 265 deleted former (4).

1987 Amendment: In (1), at end of second sentence, inserted exception clause; and inserted (2) excluding retired Sheriff who is temporarily employed as a Sheriff.

An official electing this option may not earn service or compensation for purposes of final average salary under the retirement system in that month, and compensation earned in that month is not subject to employer or member contributions"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

Chapter 196 near middle of (1), after "55 years", inserted "and terminated covered employment" and at end, after "board", deleted "submitted not less than 30 days or more than 90 days from the desired date of retirement"; at beginning of (3)(a) inserted exception clause, after "allowance" substituted "may" for "must", and at end, after "service", inserted "or, if requested by the terminated member in writing, on the first day of the month following receipt of the written application"; inserted (3)(b) that read: "(b) The retirement allowance for an eligible terminated member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 65th birthday"; inserted (3)(c) regarding optional retirement of an elected official; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation. Saving Clause: Section 100, Ch. 562, L. 1999, was a saving clause.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

Effective Date: Section 40, Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided that this section is effective July 1, 1997.

2003 Amendment: Chapter 429 in (1) in first sentence after "service" inserted "credit"; and in (4) in two places substituted "service credit" for "service credited". Amendment effective July 1, 2003.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 99 inserted (2) allowing a member of the municipal police officers' retirement system who begins employment in a position covered by the sheriffs' retirement system following a city-county consolidation to remain in the municipal police officers' retirement system or elect to become a member of the sheriffs' retirement system; in (4) near beginning of third sentence after "final salary or" substituted "highest average compensation" for "final average salary"; and made minor changes in style. 1997 Amendment: Chapter 370 in (3) deleted fifth sentence that read: "The combined benefit may not exceed 60% of the member's final salary or final average salary." Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 throughout section substituted references to member or retired member for references to officer and substituted references to retirement benefit, optional retirement benefit, or service retirement benefit for references to retirement allowance, optional retirement allowance, or service retirement allowance; in (3), in third sentence, substituted "highest compensation" for "highest salary"; in (4) substituted "survivor or contingent annuitant and the continuing benefit" for "beneficiary and the continued benefit"; in (4)(a), near beginning of first sentence, substituted "the surviving spouse must receive a benefit equal" for "the officer's surviving spouse, if there is one, shall, for as long as the spouse remains unmarried, receive from the fund a sum equal" and before "service retirement" deleted "officer's", at beginning of second sentence substituted "If the retired member" for "If the officer leaves one or more dependent children, then upon his death, if he" and after "death" deleted "or remarriage", and in remainder of subsection, in three places, substituted "benefits" for "payments"; in (4)(b), after "benefit", deleted "the officer's beneficiary, designated under 19-7-602, shall receive"; at beginning of (4)(b)(i) substituted "the contingent annuitant must receive a continuing benefit" for "an annuity"; in (4)(b)(ii) substituted "accumulated contributions" for "accumulated deductions" and at end substituted "to the retired member must be paid to the retired member's designated beneficiary" for "to the officer"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1993 Name Change: Section 6(2), Ch. 261, L. 1993, provided: "In each section in Title 19, chapter 7, the code commissioner shall change the term "sheriff" to "member" wherever the term is found, unless the context requires otherwise." The term was subsequently changed by the Code Commissioner in this section. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Case Notes

Retirement Under Consolidated Government — Benefits From Last System to Which Contributed: Plaintiff retired as a law enforcement officer from Butte-Silver Bow. Prior to the city-county consolidation, he was a Deputy Sheriff. When he retired and applied for benefits, the State calculated options to be offered him under 19-7-701 (renumbered 19-7-1001), the Sheriffs' Retirement System. Plaintiff contended he was entitled to benefits under 19-9-804 and 19-9-911 (renumbered 19-9-1101) of the Police Officers' Retirement System. All parties agreed that eligibility was determined under 19-7-308(1) (renumbered 19-7-801(1)). The Supreme Court held that the statutory provisions are clear and unambiguous. In such a case, rules of statutory construction have no application, so that the court gave no deference to the agency's interpretation. The dispute centered around 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) and whether it merely determines which laws govern eligibility for death benefits or also which laws govern calculation of death benefits. The court held that under 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) death benefits are calculated according to the provisions of the system to which the officer last made contributions. The codification instruction placing 19-7-308 (renumbered 19-7-801) under the provisions of the Sheriffs' Retirement System was only for ease of reference as between the systems. Death benefits are calculable and payable under the Police Officers' Retirement System. (See 2001 amendment.) Bay v. St., 212 M 258, 688 P2d 1, 41 St. Rep. 1725 (1984).

Case Notes

Retirement Under Consolidated Government — Benefits From Last System to Which Contributed: Plaintiff retired as a law enforcement officer from Butte-Silver Bow. Prior to the city-county consolidation, he was a Deputy Sheriff. When he retired and applied for benefits, the State calculated options to be offered him under 19-7-701 (renumbered 19-7-1001), the Sheriffs' Retirement System. Plaintiff contended he was entitled to benefits under 19-9-804 and 19-9-911 (renumbered 19-9-1101) of the Police Officers' Retirement System. All parties agreed that eligibility was determined under 19-7-308(1) (renumbered 19-7-801(1)). The Supreme Court held that the statutory provisions are clear and unambiguous. In such a case, rules of statutory construction have no application, so that the court gave no deference to the agency's interpretation. The dispute centered around 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) and whether it merely determines which laws govern eligibility for death benefits or also which laws govern calculation of death benefits. The court held that under 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) death benefits are calculated according to the provisions of the system to which the officer last made contributions. The codification instruction placing 19-7-308 (renumbered 19-7-801) under the provisions of the Sheriffs' Retirement System was only for ease of reference as between the systems. Death benefits are calculable and payable under the Police Officers' Retirement System. Bay v. St., 212 M 258, 688 P2d 1, 41 St. Rep. 1725 (1984).

Attorney General's Opinions

Contractual Obligations of Employer to Increase Contributions: Employee contributions to the Montana State Game Wardens' (now Game Wardens' and Peace Officers') Retirement System cannot be increased unless benefits which will accrue to members at retirement are increased; however, the state, through legislation, may increase the employer contributions without any increase in benefits which will accrue to members at retirement. 35 A.G. Op. 4 (1973).

19-8-504. Employer's contribution.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 329 substituted first sentence providing what an employer must contribute for "Each month, state employers shall pay to the pension trust fund a sum equal to 9% of the total compensation paid to their covered employees." Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Chapter 532 inserted second sentence requiring a departmental funding request to defray the state's costs of implementing this section. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

The codifier has chosen to codify the last sentence although it was plainly intended to refer only to game wardens who are employees of the Department of Fish, Wildlife, and Parks.

1995 Amendment: Chapter 509 at beginning deleted "To fund the employer's portion of the normal cost of benefits under this chapter" and substituted "8.15%" for "7.15%"; deleted (1)(b) that read: "(b) out of funds collected as fines and forfeited bonds under the provisions of 87-1-601(1) through (5) or funds distributed under 3-10-601(4), an amount equal to 1% of all members' salaries"; deleted (2) that read: "(2) In addition to the contributions provided in subsection (1), the state treasurer shall pay to the pension trust fund the balance of the funds distributed to the fish and game account pursuant to 3-10-601 until the unfunded liability in the pension trust fund is fully paid and a verification statement to that effect is given to the state treasurer by the board"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

The Ch. 265 substitution of "collections must be paid" for "collections are statutorily appropriated" in (1)(b) was rendered meaningless by the Ch. 450 amendment.

1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 450, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [section 2] [19-8-1110(4), now repealed] gives the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules to implement the cost-of-living adjustment provided in the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to provide a one-time ad hoc cost-of-living adjustment to each member of the game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement system who has been retired for 5 years or more, to the member's beneficiary, or to the member's contingent annuitant. The cost of the adjustment will be paid by increasing the amortization period of the system's unfunded liabilities.

It is further the intent of the legislature that the proposed statutory retirement committee established in House Bill No. 65 be assigned by the legislative council to develop legislation providing an equitable guaranteed annual benefit adjustment for each of Montana's statewide public retirement systems and that the legislation be presented to the 54th legislature for consideration. It is further the intent of the legislature that the cost of holding hearings and developing the legislation be paid by retirement systems and donations from public employee and retiree associations."

Coordination: Section 7, Ch. 450, L. 1993, provided: "If Senate Bill No. 203 is not passed and approved, then [this act] is void." Senate Bill No. 203 was passed and approved as Ch. 367, L. 1993; therefore, Ch. 450, L. 1993, is valid.

1991 Amendment: Near middle inserted reference to subsections (1) through (5) of 87-1-601. Amendment effective March 1, 1992.

Applicability: Section 22, Ch. 609, L. 1991, provided: "On passage and approval of [this act], the board of land commissioners shall commence proceedings to adopt rules to be effective March 1, 1992. Attorney General's Opinions

Contractual Obligations of Employer to Increase Contributions: Employee contributions to the Montana State Game Wardens' (now Game Wardens' and Peace Officers') Retirement System cannot be increased unless benefits which will accrue to members at retirement are increased; however, the state, through legislation, may increase the employer contributions without any increase in benefits which will accrue to members at retirement. 35 A.G. 2013 Amendment: Chapter 240 in (1) inserted introductory clause; in (1)(a) substituted "and files" for "has attained normal retirement age and may retire with a service retirement benefit by filing"; in (1)(b) after "service" substituted "and applies to" for "may" and at end deleted "and filing a written application with the board"; inserted (2) concerning nonforfeitable right to service retirement; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 22, 2013.

2011 Amendment: Chapter 99 inserted (2) regarding receipt of service retirement benefit by certain vested members; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2011.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 99 at beginning after "A member" deleted "in service", near middle after "50 years" substituted "has attained normal retirement age and" for "and terminated service", and at end after "retirement benefit" substituted "by filing a written application with the board" for "upon written application to the board"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 21, 2001.

1997 Amendment: Chapter 370 deleted (2) that read: "(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), the retirement benefit may commence on the first day of the month following the member's last day of service or, if requested by the inactive member in writing, on the first day of the month following receipt of the written application.

(b) The retirement benefit for an eligible inactive member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 60th birthday"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in three places substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance"; in (1) substituted "membership service" for "creditable service" and substituted "terminated service" for "terminated covered employment"; in (2)(a) substituted "last day of service" for "last day of covered employment" and substituted "inactive member" for "terminated member"; in (2)(b) substituted "inactive member" for "terminated member"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1989 Amendment: In (1), after "service", deleted "and who has", after "50 years" inserted "and terminated covered employment", and at end, after "board", deleted "setting forth at what time, not less than 30 days or more than 90 days subsequent to the filing thereof, he desires to be retired"; at beginning of (2)(a) inserted exception clause, after "allowance" substituted "may" for "must", and after "employment" inserted "or, if requested by the terminated member in writing, on the first day of the month following receipt of the written application'; and inserted (2)(b) that read: "(b) The retirement allowance for an eligible terminated member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 60th birthday"; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation. Amendment effective March 20, 1989.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 19, Ch. 196, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to persons who were members of the retirement systems on or after January 1, 1989."

1985 Amendments: Chapter 249 in (1) changed "55" to "50". Chapters 249 and 86 deleted former (2) that read: "Retirement shall be compulsory at age 60."

1983 Amendment: Inserted (3) specifying date of commencement of retirement allowance.

1981 Amendment: In (1) decreased number of years service needed from 25 years to 20 years.

Applicability: Section 5, Ch. 592, L. 1981, provided: "The amendments made by sections 2, 3, and 4 of this act apply only to persons who join the retirement system following the effective date of this act." Effective October 1, 1981.

Case Notes

Original Action Involving Interpretation of Statute Allowed Without Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies: Game warden mandatorily retired under 19-8-601 lost a complaint proceeding before the Montana Commission for Human Rights, did not pursue further administrative remedies, and brought a District Court action to declare the statute invalid. The exhaustion of administrative remedies doctrine did not preclude redress, because: (1) the court action was an original action and not a judicial review of an administrative action, and (2) the Commission ruling was an interpretation of law that must be made by the judiciary. Taylor v. Dept. of Fish, Wildlife, & Parks, 205 M 85, 666 P2d 1228, 40 St. Rep. 1112 (1983). (See the 1985 amendment note to this section. The amendment deleted the compulsory retirement provision.)

Valid Reason for Mandatory Retirement — Legislative, Not Judicial Task: Since compulsory game warden (now game wardens' and peace officers') retirement statute contained no qualifications or justification, it would be in excess of the authority of a court hearing a warden's suit challenging the statute's validity to hold a factfinding hearing to determine whether there was a basis for the age discrimination grounded in the reasonable demands of the position. Such a determination is a legislative function; the effort would be great; and the Legislature, not the courts, has the resources for such an undertaking. Taylor v. Dept. of Fish, Wildlife, & Parks, 205 M 85, 666 P2d 1228, 40 St. Rep. 1112 (1983). (See the 1985 amendment note to this section. The amendment deleted the compulsory retirement provision.)

Mandatory Game Warden Retirement Without Exception or Justification — Impliedly Repealed: Sections 49-2-303 and 49-3-201, making it unlawful for an employer to refuse employment or discriminate against an employee because of his age when the reasonable demands of the position do not require an age distinction and requiring state officials and personnel to recruit, appoint, treat, and promote personnel without regard to age, being later enacted statutes than the provision of 19-8-601 requiring compulsory retirement of game wardens at age 60, impliedly repealed the retirement provision in order to effectuate the clear intent of the Legislature to prevent all age discrimination in employment unless age is related to job performance. The antidiscrimination statutes are very broad prohibitions with very limited exceptions and indicate legislative intent to abolish all discrimination in employment except under the most limited circumstances. Furthermore, there must be justification for any age discrimination to bring it within the purview of a Title 49 exception to the antidiscrimination prohibitions, and the exceptions will be strictly construed. The game warden (now game wardens' and peace officers') retirement statute contains no justification or qualification. Taylor v. Dept. of Fish, Wildlife, & Parks, 205 M 85, 666 P2d 1228, 40 St. Rep. 1112 (1983), distinguished in Ross v. Great Falls, 1998 MT 276, 291 M 377, 967 P2d 1103, 55 St. Rep. 1127 (1998). (See the 1985 amendment note to this section. The amendment deleted the compulsory retirement provision.)

Compliance With Federal Law — Age Discrimination Act Inapplicable: Validity of this section's provision (as it read prior to 1985 amendment) that "retirement shall be compulsory at age 60" did not depend upon whether the classification of persons over 60 is a reasonable one under the terms of the federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, for Congress, in the exercise of its power under the Commerce Clause, may not regulate the working conditions of state employees engaged in purely governmental functions, and the federal act was enacted under the Commerce Clause. 1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

Thus, the all-purpose mill levy supplants the taxing authority granted in 7-33-4111, 19-10-301 (renumbered 19-19-301), and 19-11-503 (renumbered 19-18-503) but does not supplant the taxing authority granted in 7-32-4117, 7-33-4130, 19-3-204, 19-9-704 (renumbered 19-9-209), sec. 2, Ch. 324, L. 1975 (not codified), sec. 2, Ch. 359, L. 1975 (not codified), and sec. 3, Ch. 438, L. 1975 (not codified). 38 A.G. 19-9-801. Eligibility for service retirement — commencement of benefit.

Compiler's Comments

2013 Amendment: Chapter 240 in (1) at beginning substituted "Subject to a member's right to a refund of the member's accumulated contributions under Title 19, chapter 2, part 6, a member" for "A member has attained normal retirement age and", before "service" inserted "nonforfeitable", and after "benefit" inserted "under 19-9-804"; in (1)(b) substituted "is vested and has" for "has completed at least 5 years of membership service and"; inserted (2) concerning nonforfeitable right to service retirement; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 22, 2013.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 99 substituted language outlining eligibility for service retirement and commencement of benefits for former language that read: "(1) Members are eligible for retirement as provided in this section.

(2) A member is eligible to receive a service retirement benefit when the member has completed 20 years or more of membership service and has terminated service.

(3) A member who terminates service after completing at least 5 years of membership service but prior to completing 20 years of membership service is eligible to receive a service retirement benefit when the member has reached 50 years of age." Amendment effective March 21, 2001.

1997 Amendments: Chapter 250 in (3) substituted "5 years" for "10 years"; and in (4)(b) substituted "no earlier than" for "no later than" and substituted "50th birthday" for "55th birthday" (voided by Ch. 370 amendment). Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Chapter 370 deleted (4) that read: "(4) (a) Except as provided in subsection (4)(b), the retirement benefit may commence on the first day of the month following the member's minimum retirement date or, if requested by the inactive member in writing, on the first day of the month following receipt of the written application.

(b) The retirement benefit for an eligible inactive member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 55th birthday." Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

Section Not Codified: Section 6, Ch. 250, L. 1997, provided: "The provisions of [this act] expressly supersede and modify the requirements of 1-2-112 through 1-2-116."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (1), after "retirement", deleted "and shall retire"; in (2), after "A member", deleted "employed by an employer as a police officer", after "retirement" substituted "benefit" for "allowance", substituted "membership service" for "qualified service", and at end, after "terminated", substituted "service" for "covered employment"; in (3), after "terminates", substituted "service" for "employment as a police officer with an employer", in two places substituted "membership service" for "qualified service", and substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance"; in (4)(a) substituted reference to subsection (4)(b) for reference to subsection (3)(b), substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance", and substituted "inactive member" for "terminated member"; in (4)(b) substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance" and substituted "inactive member" for "terminated member"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendments: Chapter 178 near end of (1) and (2), after "20 years or more", substituted "of qualified service" for "in the aggregate as a probationary officer, a regular officer, or a special officer, in any capacity or rank". Amendment effective March 26, 1991.

Chapter 631 in (1), after "police officer", deleted "on July 1, 1975"; deleted former (2) that read: "(2) A member who was or is first employed by an employer as a police officer after July 1, 1975, is eligible to receive a service retirement allowance when he has reached the age of 50, has completed 20 years or more in the aggregate as a probationary officer, a regular officer, or a special officer, in any capacity or rank, and has terminated covered employment"; in (3)(a) changed subsection reference; and made minor change in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

Section 2, Ch. 822, near middle of (1) substituted "20 years or more of qualified service" for "20 years or more in the aggregate as a probationary officer, a regular officer, or a special officer, in any capacity or rank"; and in (3)(a), near middle after "following the member's", substituted "minimum retirement date" for "last day of membership service". Section 9, Ch. 822, a coordination instruction, in (1), after "officer", deleted "on July 1, 1975"; and in (2) substituted "A member who terminates employment as a police officer with an employer after completing at least 10 years of qualified service but prior to completing 20 years of qualified service is eligible to receive a service retirement allowance when he has reached 50 years of age" for "A member who was or is first employed by an employer as a police officer after July 1, 1975, is eligible to receive a service retirement allowance when he has reached the age of 50, has completed 20 years or more in the aggregate as a probationary officer, a regular officer, or a special officer, in any capacity or rank, and has terminated covered employment". Amendments effective July 1, 1991.

Composite Section: The Code Commissioner has codified the version of subsection (2) of this section found in sec. 9, Ch. 822, L. 1991, that contains the substance of the changes made to subsection (2) of this section by sec. 3, Ch. 178, L. 1991.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 4, Ch. 178, L. 1991, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to retirements on or after January 1, 1991."

1989 Amendment: At end of (1) and (2) inserted "and has terminated covered employment"; at beginning of (3)(a) inserted exception clause, after "allowance" substituted "may" for "must", and at end, after "service", inserted "or, if requested by the terminated member in writing, on the first day of the month following receipt of the written application"; inserted (3)(b) that read: "(b) The retirement allowance for an eligible terminated member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 55th birthday"; and made minor changes in punctuation and phraseology. Amendment effective March 20, 1989.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 19, Ch. 196, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to persons who were members of the retirement systems on or after January 1, 1989."

1985 Amendment: Deleted former (3) that read: "Police officers, whether first employed before or after July 1, 1975, who reach the age of 65 while in active service shall retire."

1983 Amendment: Inserted (4) specifying date of commencement of retirement allowance.

Attorney General's Opinions

Clarification of Police Service Retirement: The language of 19-9-802(2) (now repealed) requires a police officer hired after July 1, 1975, to remain an officer each additional year between his 20th year of service and his reaching the age of 50 in order to be eligible for service retirement. (See 1991 amendments.) 43 A.G. Op. 20 (1989).

19-9-804. Amount of service retirement benefit — continuation of benefit after death of member.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 329 in (2)(b) in second sentence near beginning substituted "paid pursuant to 19-2-803" for "made to the child's appointed guardian for the child's use"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

1993 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 265 substituted (1) that read: "(1) A member with at least 20 years of membership service must receive a retirement benefit equal to the sum of:

(a) 2.5% of the member's final average compensation for each year of service credit up to and including 20 years; and

(b) 1% of the member's final average compensation for each year of service credit after 20 years" (not codified — see compiler's comment) for former (1) through (3) that read: "(1) A police officer with 20 years of qualified service who is eligible under 19-9-801 and does not elect to serve any additional years as an active police officer shall receive a service retirement allowance equal to one-half his final average salary.

(2) A police officer who is eligible for service retirement under 19-9-801 after 20 years of qualified service and who elects to serve additional years shall receive the allowance provided for in subsection (1) plus an additional 1% of his final average salary for each year of additional qualified service, up to a maximum of 60% of his final average salary.

(3) A member who is eligible for service retirement under 19-9-801 with less than 20 years of qualified service shall receive a retirement allowance equal to 2.5% of his final average salary for each year of qualified service"; inserted (2) regarding limitation on total monthly benefit (not codified — see compiler's comment); inserted (3) regarding amount of retirement benefit for member retiring with less than 20 years of membership service (not codified — see compiler's comment); in (2), throughout subsection, substituted references to member for references to police officer or officer; in (2)(a) substituted "retirement benefit under subsection (1)" for "retirement allowance under subsection (1) or (2)", before "fund" inserted "pension trust", substituted "a benefit equal to" for "a sum equal to", and at end substituted "final average compensation" for "final average salary"; in (2)(b) substituted "service retirement benefit" for "service retirement allowance", before "fund" inserted "pension trust", substituted "a benefit equal to" for "a sum equal to", and substituted "benefit" for "allowance"; in (4)(c), near end of first sentence after "dependent", inserted "child" (not codified — see compiler's comment); and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Chapter 522 deleted former (1) providing for 20-year service retirement (see 1993 Session Law for text); deleted former (2) providing for 20-year service retirement and additional qualified service retirement (see 1993 Session Law for text); in (1), after "under 19-9-801", deleted "with less than 20 years of qualified service"; in (4)(a), after "benefit", inserted "based on at least 20 years of service" and in (2)(b), after "allowance", inserted "based on less than 20 years of service" ((4) amendments rendered meaningless by deletion of sentence by Ch. 265); and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Chapter 620 in (2)(a), after "(2)", inserted "or (3)" (this amendment was not codified by the codifier due to Ch. 265 amendments) and after "equal to" deleted former language that read: "one-half of the officer's final average salary.

(b) Upon the death of a member receiving a service retirement allowance under subsection (3), his surviving spouse, if there is one, shall receive from the fund a sum equal to"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective May 7, 1993.

Compiler's Comment: Chapter 265 contained an introductory phrase that read: "(1) A member with at least 20 years of membership service must receive a retirement benefit equal to the sum of".

Chapter 522 contained an introductory phrase that read: "(1) A member who is eligible for service retirement under 19-9-801 must receive a retirement allowance equal to . . . ."

Because both chapters struck the introductory language of the other, thereby rendering the introductory phrase meaningless, the compiler has combined the language into the current introductory phrase to reflect the apparent intent of both chapters.

The insertion of (1)(a) and (1)(b) by Ch. 265 was parallel to former (2). The provision in (1)(b) concerning 1% for years of service in excess of 20 was not codified because that provision was deleted by Ch. 522. Chapter 265 apparently did not intend to make a substantive change in benefits. The compiler has not codified the inserted benefit language from Ch. 265 because that concept was deleted by Ch. 522.

The compiler has codified the apparent intent of the three chapters.

Style and gender neutral changes throughout the section were slightly different in the three chapters. In each case, the codifier chose the most appropriate of the three.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 6, Ch. 620, L. 1993, provided: "[Section 3] [19-9-804] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to benefits paid on or after July 1, 1975."

1991 Amendments: Chapter 631 in (1) deleted subsection references to 19-9-801. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

Section 4, Ch. 822, in (1), near beginning after "police officer", inserted "with 20 years of qualified service"; in (2), near beginning after "retirement", inserted "under subsection (1) or (2) of 19-9-801", substituted "after 20 years of qualified service" for "after 20 years of service", and near end substituted "additional qualified service" for "additional service"; inserted (3) regarding retirement allowance for member with less than 20 years of qualified service; in (4)(a), near beginning after "allowance under", substituted "subsection (1) or (2)" for "this section"; and inserted (4)(b) concerning surviving spouse receiving amount equal to officer's allowance at time of death. Section 9, Ch. 822, a coordination instruction, in (1), (2), and (3) deleted subsection references to 19-9-801. Amendments effective July 1, 1991.

1989 Amendments: Chapter 63 in first sentence of (3), after "shall", deleted "for as long as the spouse remains unmarried" and in second sentence, after "the death", deleted "or remarriage". Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

Chapter 196 near middle of (2), after "1% of", substituted "his final average salary for each year" for "such allowance per year"; and made minor change in phraseology. Amendment effective March 20, 1989.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 8, Ch. 63, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to surviving spouses who remarry on or after January 1, 1989."

Section 19, Ch. 196, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to

1985 Amendments: Chapter 86 near middle of (1), after "police officer", deleted "or who is retired under 19-9-801(3) prior to reaching 20 years of service"; and deleted former (3) that read: "A police officer who is retired under 19-9-801(3) and who was theretofore eligible at his option to be retired under subsection (1) or (2) of 19-9-801 but elected to serve additional years shall be paid for the additional years over his original eligibility at the rate prescribed in subsection (2)."

Chapter 350 deleted former (3) in same manner as Ch. 86 but inserted (3) providing for continuation of allowance after death of retired officer.

Case Notes

Retirement Under Consolidated Government — Benefits From Last System to Which Contributed: Plaintiff retired as a law enforcement officer from Butte-Silver Bow. Prior to the city-county consolidation, he was a Deputy Sheriff. When he retired and applied for benefits, the State calculated options to be offered him under 19-7-701 (renumbered 19-7-1001), the Sheriffs' Retirement System. Plaintiff contended he was entitled to benefits under 19-9-804 and 19-9-911 (renumbered 19-9-1101) of the Police Officers' Retirement System. All parties agreed that eligibility was determined under 19-7-308(1) (renumbered 19-7-801(1)). The Supreme Court held that the statutory provisions are clear and unambiguous. In such a case, rules of statutory construction have no application, so that the court gave no deference to the agency's interpretation. The dispute centered around 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) and whether it merely determines which laws govern eligibility for death benefits or also which laws govern calculation of death benefits. The court held that under 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) death benefits are calculated according to the provisions of the system to which the officer last made contributions. The codification instruction placing 19-7-308 (renumbered 19-7-801) under the provisions of the Sheriffs' Retirement System was only for ease of reference as between the systems. Death benefits are calculable and payable under the Police Officers' Retirement System. Bay v. St., 212 M 258, 688 P2d 1, 41 St. Rep. 1725 (1984).

(ii) the amount of the benefits paid in the base fiscal year to each surviving spouse or dependent child described in subsection (2)(b);

(iii) upon the death after the base fiscal year of any retired member who was receiving benefits, the amount of benefits that would have been paid to an eligible surviving spouse of the retired member if the surviving spouse had been receiving benefits in the base fiscal year;

(d) the original amount of retirement, disability, or survivorship benefits paid to retired members or their eligible survivors as of the original retirement dates after July 1, 1975;

(e) the compensation that will be paid during the current fiscal year to a newly confirmed police officer of each city or town participating in the retirement system"; in (2) deleted former first two sentences that read: "The division shall compute the difference between each amount reported under subsections (2)(c) through (2)(e) and one-half the compensation to be paid during the current fiscal year to a newly confirmed police officer of the appropriate city or town. The difference must be reported to the state auditor who shall pay the difference to the pension trust fund out of the premium tax collected on insurance sold in this state to insure against the risks enumerated in 19-18-512(3) no later than November 1", in first sentence, after "current fiscal year in time", substituted "to make minimum benefit adjustments effective July 1" for "to be included in the October 1 report to the state auditor" and substituted "individual minimum benefits" for "individual supplemental benefits"; deleted (4) that read: "(4) The premium tax amount paid by the state auditor is statutorily appropriated, as provided in 17-7-502, for the payment of supplemental retirement benefits to eligible retired members and their survivors. This payment is in addition to the payment to be made by the state auditor under 19-9-702"; in (3), in two places before "benefits", deleted "supplementary"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

The amendments to this section made by sec. 24, Ch. 532, L. 1997, were rendered void by sec. 8(1), Ch. 445, L. 1997, a coordination section.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 throughout section substituted references to benefits for references to payments; in (1) substituted present text regarding minimum benefits for former subsection that read: "(1) The payment for each fiscal year to the police officers, surviving spouses, or dependent children described in subsections (2)(a) through (2)(c) may be not less than one-half of the base salary paid in the current fiscal year in the appropriate city or town to newly confirmed police officers, except that for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1979, all retirees and their beneficiaries who received a supplement to their retirement allowance on July 1, 1978, and are receiving an allowance on July 1, 1979, shall receive a 3% increase in their retirement allowance in lieu of any other increase"; in (2) substituted "October 1" for "August 1" and substituted "division" for "department of administration"; in (2)(a) substituted "retired members" for "police officers", substituted "retirement system" for "plan", and after "report" deleted "and were receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975"; in (2)(b) substituted "retirement system" for "plan" and substituted "death of an active or retired member of this or a prior plan" for "death of a police officer who was receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975"; deleted former (2)(c) that read: "(c) the names of all surviving spouses or dependent children who are receiving payments from the plan and who were receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975, or in the case of dependent children, whose parent, the spouse of a police officer, was receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975"; in (2)(c) substituted "base retirement, disability, or survivorship benefits" for "base figure"; in (2)(c)(i) substituted "retired member" for "police officer"; in (2)(c)(ii), after "dependent child", deleted "(or children)" and after "subsection (2)(b)" deleted "or (2)(c)"; in (2)(c)(iii) substituted present text regarding death after base fiscal year of retired member for former subsection that read: "(iii) upon the death after April 18, 1977, of any police officer on the retired list who was receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975, his surviving spouse or dependent children are entitled to receive payments from the plan, the amount which would have been paid to an eligible surviving spouse of such police officer had that spouse been receiving payments in the base fiscal year"; inserted (2)(d) regarding original amount of benefits; in (2)(e) substituted "compensation that will be paid during" for "base salary for" and substituted "retirement system" for "plan"; in (3), in first sentence, substituted "division" for "department of administration", substituted reference to subsections (2)(c) through (2)(e) for reference to subsections (2)(d)(i) through (2)(d)(iii), and substituted "one-half the compensation to be paid during" for "one-half the base salary for", in second sentence, after "reported to", deleted "and paid by", after "state auditor" inserted "who shall pay the difference to the pension trust fund", and substituted "no later than November 1" for "to the administrator no later than September 1", and in third sentence, near beginning, substituted "compensation" for "base salary", substituted "October 1" for "August 1", substituted "division" for "department", and substituted "current compensation" for "base salary"; in (4), in first sentence after "17-7-502", inserted "for the payment of supplemental retirement benefits to eligible retired members and their survivors" and deleted last sentence that read: "The administrator shall use the funds received under this subsection to supplement the monthly payments to persons described in subsections (2)(a) through (2)(c) so that the requirements of subsection (1) are met"; deleted former (4) that read: "(4) In addition to the payments made by the auditor as provided in subsection (3), the auditor shall make annual payments of $100,000 after the end of each fiscal year but no later than September 1, until the sum of $500,000 has been paid to the administrator for deposit in the retirement account. These payments are statutorily appropriated as provided in 17-7-502. These payments are to be made to reimburse the retirement account for funds advanced to implement this section"; in (5), after "common parent", deleted "police officer"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment: In (1), (2)(e), and (3) substituted "current fiscal year" for "previous calendar year"; in (2) substituted "August 1" for "April 1"; and in (3), near end of second sentence after "administrator", deleted "after the end of each fiscal year, but" and inserted third sentence concerning retroactive adjustments to individual supplemental benefits. Amendment effective April 24, 1991.

1985 Amendment: In (3) inserted third sentence referring to statutory appropriation; and in (4) inserted second sentence referring to statutory appropriation.

1983 Amendment: Throughout section, inserted "surviving" before "spouses" and substituted "dependent children" for "minor children"; in (2)(d)(iii), after "1975," substituted "his surviving" for "and who is survived by a" and inserted "are" after "children".

1981 Amendments — Composite: Chapter 250 deleted "to the state auditor" after "report" in (2); substituted "department of administration" for "state auditor" at the beginning of (3); deleted "upon receipt of the report referred to in subsection (2)" after "shall" at the beginning of (3); inserted "reported to and" after "difference shall be" in (3); substituted "after the end of each fiscal year, but no later than September 1" for "no later than May 31 of each year" near the middle of (3); substituted "after the end of each fiscal year but no later than September 1" for "on or before June 30 of each year" in (4).

Chapter 566 changed the internal reference in (3) to risks enumerated in 19-11-512 (renumbered 19-18-512) from 19-11-512(5) (renumbered 19-18-512(5)) to 19-11-512(3) (renumbered 19-18-512(3)). An amendment to 19-11-512 (renumbered 19-18-512) by Ch. 566, L. 1981, renumbered the subsections of 19-11-512 (renumbered 19-18-512) which required an amendment to this section.

Chapter 575 in (3), substituted "19-11-512(6) [renumbered 19-18-512(6)]" for "19-11-512(5) [renumbered 19-18-512(5)]".

The Code Commissioner has codified the amendment made by Ch. 566, in favor of the amendment made by Ch. 575, inasmuch as both new subsection references are traceable to the same language in 19-11-512 (renumbered 19-18-512) and the Ch. 566 amendment is the most appropriate in light of the renumbering of the subsections of 19-11-512 (renumbered 19-18-512) by Ch. 566.

ARM 2.43.4603 Municipal police officers' minimum benefit adjustments.

Attorney General's Opinions

Limitation of Allowance Adjustment to One-Time Adjustment: The allowance adjustment in 19-9-1011 (now repealed) was not intended to provide an annual cost-of-living increase, but rather to provide for an adjustment of the monthly allowance of a police officer who retired on or after July 1, 1975, and before July 1, 1985, in order to bring the allowance up to one-half of a newly hired active police officer's salary as of July 1, 1985, in each city. (See 1989 amendment.) 42 A.G. Op. 79 (1988).

Payment of Pension Supplement: The first supplemental payment to recipients was intended to be made in July 1977, requiring immediate lump-sum payments retroactive to then, followed by monthly payments from the present. The appropriate funding to be implemented may be determined by the administrator of the Public Employees' Retirement Division (now by the Public Employees' Retirement Board) in conformity with this opinion. 37 A.G. Op. 77 (1977).

19-9-1009. Guaranteed annual benefit adjustment.

Chapter 149 throughout section changed percentage from "1.5%" to "3%". Amendment effective March 29, 2001.

Chapter 309 in (3)(a) near middle decreased commencement date from 36 months to 12 months. Amendment effective April 21, 2001.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

(2) Upon the death of a police officer before or after retirement, his surviving spouse, if there is one, shall, as long as such spouse remains unmarried, be paid from the fund a sum equal to one-half of the officer's final average salary. If the officer leaves one or more dependent children, then, upon his death if he leaves no surviving spouse or upon the death or remarriage of the surviving spouse, his surviving dependent child, collectively if there is more than one, shall receive the same monthly payments a surviving spouse would receive as long as the child or one of the children remains dependent as defined in 19-9-104. Case Notes

Retirement Under Consolidated Government — Benefits From Last System to Which Contributed: Plaintiff retired as a law enforcement officer from Butte-Silver Bow. Prior to the city-county consolidation, he was a Deputy Sheriff. When he retired and applied for benefits, the State calculated options to be offered him under 19-7-701 (renumbered 19-7-1001), the Sheriffs' Retirement System. Plaintiff contended he was entitled to benefits under 19-9-804 and 19-9-911 (renumbered 19-9-1101) of the Police Officers' Retirement System. All parties agreed that eligibility was determined under 19-7-308(1) (renumbered 19-7-801(1)). The Supreme Court held that the statutory provisions are clear and unambiguous. In such a case, rules of statutory construction have no application, so that the court gave no deference to the agency's interpretation. The dispute centered around 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) and whether it merely determines which laws govern eligibility for death benefits or also which laws govern calculation of death benefits. The court held that under 19-7-308(2) (renumbered 19-7-801(2)) death benefits are calculated according to the provisions of the system to which the officer last made contributions. The codification instruction placing 19-7-308 (renumbered 19-7-801) under the provisions of the Sheriffs' Retirement System was only for ease of reference as between the systems. Death benefits are calculable and payable under the Police Officers' Retirement System. Bay v. St., 212 M 258, 688 P2d 1, 41 St. Rep. 1725 (1984).

Amendment effective March 21, 2001.

1999 Amendment: Chapter 562 at beginning after "If a" inserted "retired", substituted "the board as provided in 19-2-801" for "the division", after "paid" substituted "the amount, if any, of" for "an amount equal to", and after "accumulated contributions" substituted "minus the total of any retirement benefits already paid from the member's account" for "less any retirement benefits paid to the member before the member's death"; and made minor changes in style. Chapter Case Notes

Judgment Against "State" Binding Against Two Agencies — Retirement Benefits Setoff Barred as Compulsory Counterclaim: During a longstanding dispute by firefighters employed by the Montana Air National Guard and involving several separate lawsuits, the plaintiff was fired and began receiving retirement benefits. The plaintiff sued "the State" for reinstatement of employment, lost wages, employment benefits during the period of termination, liquidated damages, and attorney fees and costs. After other firefighters' suits were decided in the firefighters' favor, the plaintiff settled with the Department of Military Affairs (DMA) for reinstatement, lost wages, lost annual leave and sick leave benefits, retirement contributions that the DMA would have made during the termination period, and attorney fees and costs of suit. After settlement, the Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS) claimed that it was entitled to repayment of the retirement benefits that the plaintiff had been paid before reinstatement. The DMA and PERS agreed to offset the settlement damages by the retirement amount. The Supreme Court held that the state's setoff claim was barred as a compulsory counterclaim, that both agencies were bound by the DMA's settlement agreement because they were the same party collectively known as the "State of Montana", and that the plaintiff was entitled to the full settlement amount without setoff. Peters v. St., 285 M 345, 948 P2d 250, 54 St. Rep. 1185 (1997).

Attorney General's Opinions

Retirement Date for Firefighters: Prior to the enactment of sec. 7, Ch. 53, L. 1983, firefighters were able to retire during the month and receive pro rata credit for the portion of that month after retirement. Testimony on the 1983 legislation states that its purpose is to establish uniform retirement dates and to ensure that all retirees would begin accruing their benefits on the first day of the month. Under 19-13-701(2), the retirement date for a firefighter retiring from active service is the first day of the month following his last day of membership service. On that day, and not before, his service retirement benefits become payable. 40 A.G. Op. 59 (1984).

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in two places substituted "retirement system" for "plan" and near end substituted "survivors" for "beneficiaries"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Case Notes

Firefighter Retirement System Phase-In Not Violative of Equal Protection: The 2001 Legislature passed Senate Bill No. 289, providing that National Guard firefighters who were hired on or after October 1, 2001, would participate in the Firefighters' Unified Retirement System, while those hired prior to October 1, 2001, would continue to participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System, which provided less benefits. The bill had no provision allowing transfer between systems, resulting in denial of better benefits for about 22 firefighters who were hired prior to October 1, 2001. Bean was one of the 22 and challenged the new retirement process, codified in 19-13-210, on grounds that the law created two similarly situated classifications of firefighters who were treated differently, in violation of equal protection. The District Court agreed and held that the new process was unconstitutional. The state appealed, and the Supreme Court reversed, noting that an equal protection challenge fails if the groups at issue do not constitute similarly situated classes. The cutoff date in 19-13-210 created two dissimilar classes of firefighters. The Legislature recognized that the new process created an inequitable situation, but rather than approaching the inequity with an immediate and comprehensive solution, the Legislature chose to correct the imbalance by phasing National Guard firefighters into the Firefighters' Unified Retirement System, providing a prospective retirement solution for newly hired firefighters without affecting the retirement expectation of existing firefighters, and instituting a process that would end the alleged distinction once all National Guard firefighters hired before October 1, 2001, retired. Thus, the statute operated equally upon members of each class of firefighters and did not violate Bean's right to equal protection. Bean v. St., 2008 MT 67, 342 M 85, 179 P3d 524 (2008), following Gulbrandson v. Carey, 272 M 494, 901 P2d 573 (1995).

State Retirement Board Not Required to Calculate Compensation Amounts for Individual Plan Members: Plaintiffs sued the state and the Public Employees' Retirement Board alleging that plaintiffs' compensation was incorrectly calculated by the Board, resulting in inadequate monthly benefits. The District Court dismissed the claim on grounds that plaintiffs failed to file their complaint within the 2-year statute of limitations, and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court noted that although the Board has broad statutory duties to administer the various state retirement plans, it is not the Board's duty to calculate compensation amounts for individual members. Rather, it is an employer's duty to calculate and report the compensation amounts. If those reports were in error, plaintiffs should have sought relief from their employers, but their remedy did not lie with the state or the Board. Thus, the District Court correctly dismissed the complaint, albeit for a different reason, and the Supreme Court affirmed. Hall v. St., 2006 MT 37, 331 M 171, 130 P3d 601 (2006).

Attorney General's Opinions

Unified Retirement — Firefighters Entitled to Prior Benefits: In converting to the Unified Retirement System, all eligible firefighters are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. A firefighter's pension constitutes an element of compensation, and a vested contractual right to pension benefits, which are stated in the retirement plan during the firefighter's employment, accrues when he begins paying into the retirement fund. Vested pension rights include the provisions that were used to compute the adjusted benefits under the old system. Firefighters hired before July 1, 1973, and who retired during the period from July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1981 (the time periods under the 1981 law, prior to 1983 amendment to 19-13-1007), were entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. 39 A.G. Op. 51 (1982).

2001 Amendment: Chapter 290 throughout section substituted reference to employer for reference to city. Amendment effective on occurrence of contingency.

Contingent Effective Date: Section 7, Ch. 290, L. 2001, provided: "[This act] is effective contingent on the execution of an agreement between the department of military affairs and the public employees' retirement board establishing that employer contributions for all firefighters hired by the Montana air national guard pursuant to [section 2] [19-13-210] will be paid with federal funds passed through the department of military affairs and remitted to the firefighters' unified retirement system in a manner prescribed by the public employees' retirement board. 1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (1), in two places, substituted "retirement system" for "plan" and near end substituted "required actuarial valuation" for "actuarial valuation required in 19-13-504"; and in (2), in first sentence, substituted "the amount determined to be necessary" for "an amount needed" and before "city" inserted "liabilities of the". Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

19-13-213. Excess unfunded liabilities of prior plans.

Compiler's Comments

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (2), in two places, substituted "board" for "administrator", near beginning of first sentence substituted "retirement system" for "plan", and in second sentence, after "for deposit", substituted "in the pension trust fund" for "with the administrator"; and deleted (3) that read: "(3) For each city with an unfunded liability, any portion of the member, the employer, and state contributions that exceeds the amount necessary to maintain the current level of unfunded liability must be applied to the reduction of the unfunded liability." Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment: In (2), in first sentence, substituted "within 6 months after a city is granted membership in the plan" for "on or before October 1, 1986" and at end substituted "the city's previous plan" for "each city participating in the plan created by this chapter" and in second sentence substituted "previous" for "prior", before "is not funded" deleted "as of July 1, 1986", after "administrator" substituted "the city" for "the state auditor", and near end, after "period of time", deleted "from the premium taxes on insurance risks enumerated in 19-11-512"; deleted former (3) that required the administrator to credit accounts for payments in excess of amount necessary to amortize the city's liabilities; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

1983 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 286, which substituted "1986" for "1984" in two places in (2), became effective on March 29, 1983.

Chapter 661, twice in (2), substituted "1986" for "1984"; following first sentence of (2) deleted "The determination must be negotiated between each city and the administrator."; inserted "For" at beginning of second sentence of (2); at end of (2) substituted "the administrator, the state auditor shall pay ... city's excess liability" for "the administrator shall pay an additional sum over a period of time to amortize its excess liability as determined by agreement between the city and the administrator."; and substituted (3) allowing administrator to credit his accounts for excess payments for "Each city determined by the administrator to be paying an amount in excess of the amount necessary to amortize its liabilities under the prior plan and under this chapter shall receive a credit in the accounts of the administrator for the excess payments." Chapter 661 became effective July 1, 1983.

Chapter 661 amended the duties of the administrator and date of evaluation of a plan effective approximately 3 months later than Ch. 286. However, as those duties and date of evaluation are prospective and must be accomplished or determined long after the effective date of both chapters, the differing effective dates appear inconsequential.

Unified Retirement — Firefighters Entitled to Prior Benefits: In converting to the Unified Retirement System, all eligible firefighters are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. A firefighter's pension constitutes an element of compensation, and a vested contractual right to pension benefits, which are stated in the retirement plan during the firefighter's employment, accrues when he begins paying into the retirement fund. Vested pension rights include the provisions that were used to compute the adjusted benefits under the old system. Firefighters hired before July 1, 1973, and who retired during the period from July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1981 (the time periods under the 1981 law, prior to 1983 amendment to 19-13-1007), were entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. 39 A.G. State Retirement Board Not Required to Calculate Compensation Amounts for Individual Plan Members: Plaintiffs sued the state and the Public Employees' Retirement Board alleging that plaintiffs' compensation was incorrectly calculated by the Board, resulting in inadequate monthly benefits. The District Court dismissed the claim on grounds that plaintiffs failed to file their complaint within the 2-year statute of limitations, and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court noted that although the Board has broad statutory duties to administer the various state retirement plans, it is not the Board's duty to calculate compensation amounts for individual members. Rather, it is an employer's duty to calculate and report the compensation amounts. If those reports were in error, plaintiffs should have sought relief from their employers, but their remedy did not lie with the state or the Board. Compiler's Comments

2013 Amendment: Chapter 240 in (1) at beginning inserted introductory clause; in (1)(a) after "service" deleted "has attained normal retirement age and is eligible for service retirement"; in (1)(b) substituted "applies for a service retirement upon reaching age 50" for "keeps the member's accumulated contributions on deposit has attained normal retirement age and is eligible for service retirement commencing on the member's minimum retirement date"; inserted (2) concerning nonforfeitable right to service retirement; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 22, 2013.

2003 Amendment: Chapter 429 near beginning of (2) substituted "completing 20 years of service" for "the minimum retirement date". Amendment effective July 1, 2003.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 99 in (1) after "membership service" inserted "has attained normal retirement age and"; and in (2) after "deposit" inserted "has attained normal retirement age and". Amendment effective March 21, 2001.

1997 Amendments: Chapter 370 in (1), at end, deleted "commencing on the first day of the month following the member's last day of service"; and deleted (3) that read: "(3) A vested inactive member may file a written application with the board requesting that the member's retirement benefit commence on the first day of the month following receipt of the application. However, the retirement benefit for an inactive vested member must commence no later than the first day of the month following the member's 55th birthday." Amendment effective April 23, 1997.

Chapter 457 at end of (3) substituted "no earlier than the first day of the month following the member's 50th birthday" for "no later than the first day of the month following the member's 55th birthday" (voided by Ch. 370 amendment). Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1995 Amendment: Chapter 541 in (1), near beginning after "who has", deleted "reached age 50 and has" and after "completed" substituted "20" for "10". Amendment effective July 1, 1995.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 265 in (1), after "more", substituted "of membership service" for "in the aggregate as a firefighter in any capacity or rank" and at end, before "service", deleted "membership"; in (2), before first "member", inserted "vested", substituted "terminates service before the minimum retirement date" for "terminates active service before age 50", before "contributions" inserted "accumulated", after "deposit" deleted "under 19-13-304", and at end substituted "commencing on the member's minimum retirement date" for "commencing on the first day of the month coinciding with or immediately following, if none coincides, the date on which he reaches age 50"; in (3), in two places, substituted "retirement benefit" for "retirement allowance", at beginning of first sentence substituted "A vested inactive member" for "A terminated member eligible under subsection (1) or (2)", and in second sentence substituted "inactive vested member" for "eligible terminated member"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1989 Amendment: Inserted (3) relating to a request for commencement of retirement allowance by a terminated member. Amendment effective March 20, 1989.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 19, Ch. 196, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to persons who were members of the retirement systems on or after January 1, 1989."

1985 Amendment: In (1) deleted former (b) providing for service retirement eligibility for "a member who has reached mandatory retirement age under 19-13-702 regardless of his number of years of service" and made minor changes in phraseology and arrangement; and inserted (2) referring to service retirement for members terminating active service before age 50.

1983 Amendment: Inserted (2) relating to time of commencement of retirement.

Attorney General's Opinions

Retirement Date for Firefighters: Prior to the enactment of sec. 7, Ch. 53, L. 1983, firefighters were able to retire during the month and receive pro rata credit for the portion of that month after retirement. Testimony on the 1983 legislation states that its purpose is to establish uniform retirement dates and to ensure that all retirees would begin accruing their benefits on the first day of the month. Under 19-13-701(2), the retirement date for a firefighter retiring from active service is the first day of the month following his last day of membership service. On that day, and not before, his service retirement benefits become payable. 40 A.G. Op. 59 (1984).

Attorney General's Opinions

Unified Retirement — Firefighters Entitled to Prior Benefits: In converting to the Unified Retirement System, all eligible firefighters are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. A firefighter's pension constitutes an element of compensation, and a vested contractual right to pension benefits, which are stated in the retirement plan during the firefighter's employment, accrues when he begins paying into the retirement fund. Vested pension rights include the provisions that were used to compute the adjusted benefits under the old system. Firefighters hired before July 1, 1973, and who retired during the period from July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1981 (the time periods under the 1981 law, prior to 1983 amendment to 19-13-1007), were entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. 39 A.G. Op. 51 (1982).

Enactment With Knowledge of Construction of Other Section: In enacting 19-13-1006 (now repealed), the Legislature is presumed to have acted with full knowledge of the construction given to the predecessor section (19-11-606, renumbered 19-18-606, now repealed) from which the wording of 19-13-1006 (now repealed) was adopted, and the Legislature is presumed to have adopted the construction of the predecessor section. 39 A.G. Op. 72 (1982).

Reimbursement of Division for Payments Made in Previous Year: Section 19-13-1006 (now repealed) permitted the payment of supplemental benefits to the recipients based on the monthly salary paid that same fiscal year to a confirmed active firefighter of the city which last employed him. The funds distributed to the Public Employees' Retirement Division for this purpose in subsection (2) should therefore be used to reimburse the Division for the payments made to the recipients in the previous fiscal year. 39 A.G. Op. 72 (1982).

Unified Retirement — Firefighters Entitled to Prior Benefits: In converting to the Unified Retirement System, all eligible firefighters are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. A firefighter's pension constitutes an element of compensation, and a vested contractual right to pension benefits, which are stated in the retirement plan during the firefighter's employment, accrues when he begins paying into the retirement fund. Vested pension rights include the provisions that were used to compute the adjusted benefits under the old system. Firefighters hired before July 1, 1973, and who retired during the period from July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1981 (the time periods under the 1981 law, prior to 1983 amendment to 19-13-1007), were entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. 39 A.G. Saving Clause: Section 100, Ch. 562, L. 1999, was a saving clause.

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 287, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 through 3] [19-2-1101, now repealed, 19-3-1605, 19-5-901, 19-6-710, 19-7-711, 19-8-1105, 19-9-1009, and 19-13-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to guarantee a minimum level of annual benefit increases for retired members and their contingent annuitants or survivors under each of the statewide public employee retirement systems. The legislature also intends to fund this guaranteed annual benefit adjustment (GABA) in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Because the GABA is intended to address the erosion of retirement benefits caused by inflation as cost-effectively as possible, it is the intent of the legislature that the guaranteed annual 1.5% minimum adjustment not begin until after the original benefit has been paid for at least 36 months.

Because it is most cost-effective to reduce current unfunded liabilities as well as to avoid future unfunded liabilities and to fund new benefits as they accrue, the bill provides that the GABA be substituted for other benefits in cases in which the GABA is as valuable or more valuable to members. The resulting actuarial savings will reduce the additional funding required for the GABA.

In the public employees', sheriffs', and game wardens' [now game wardens' and peace officers'] retirement systems, all members will automatically be covered by the GABA provided for in this bill instead of the current postretirement adjustments based on investment earnings.

In the highway patrol officers', municipal police officers', firefighters' unified, and judges' retirement systems, in which the substitution of the GABA in place of other benefits is not a clear benefit enhancement for all current members, it is the intent of the legislature that the members be provided with a thorough analysis of the benefits to be substituted so that members may individually and irrevocably elect whether to be covered under the provisions of this bill. However, it is not the intent of the legislature that the retirement board or its administrative staff be required to recommend a specific or best choice to individual members.

It is the intent of the legislature that all future members of these systems be covered by the GABA in place of certain other benefits."

1997 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 370, L. 1997, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [sections 1 and 3] [19-2-908 and 19-2-1010] give the public employees' retirement board authority to adopt administrative rules.

A fundamental purpose of the public employee retirement systems is to provide members with a federal income tax-deferred retirement plan. To qualify for federally deferred income tax status, each retirement plan must conform with the requirements of section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code, which may be amended from time to time.

It is the intent of the legislature that Montana statutory provisions in conflict with section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code and related federal regulations and that would result in a retirement plan being disqualified are ineffective or must be interpreted so that the retirement plans may retain tax-deferred status.

It is the further intent of the legislature to clarify when a member of a retirement system becomes a retiree. The retirement date is the date on which the member accepts the first benefit payment. An inactive member who has not met all eligibility requirements for retirement, including proper submission of a written application for retirement benefits, should not be considered a "retiree" during the period of time before the member actually began receiving benefit payments, even though the member may later receive payments retroactive to an earlier commencement date. Because retirees may not earn membership service or purchase service credits in the retirement systems and active and inactive members may not receive benefit adjustments granted to current retirees, it is imperative to the actuarial soundness of the systems to clarify the retirement date of each member."

1995 Amendment: Chapter 175 inserted definitions of active member, benefit, claim, Department, dependent child, disability, Division, member, retiree, service, supplemental insurance, surviving spouse, survivorship benefit, and volunteer firefighter; redefined fire company and fiscal year; and substituted pension trust fund for fund as defined term. CHAPTER 18
FIREFIGHTERS' RETIREMENT

Part 1
General Provisions

19-18-102. Formation of fire department relief association — membership.

Case Notes

Membership in Fire Department Relief Association — Legal Right: Plaintiff was temporarily employed as a fireman in the Missoula Fire Department beginning on Sept. 1, 1918. His employment was discontinued about April 30, 1919. On April 20, 1920, when he was past 45 years of age he was appointed to the position of auto mechanic. He was reappointed on a yearly basis until June 15, 1941, when the position was abolished. During his period of service he occasionally performed as a fireman but was never confirmed as such. Plaintiff never took any action seeking confirmation or followed the statutory procedure to gain membership. The fire department relief association was a creature of statute and supported by a statutory levy. The State may enforce such statutory requirements for membership as it chooses. Plaintiff did not meet these qualifications so could not be granted membership for purposes of receiving a pension. State ex rel. Russ v. Fire Dept. Relief Ass'n, 114 M 430, 136 P2d 989 (1943).

Attorney General's Opinions

Fire Chief or Assistant Chief as Member of Relief Association: Under 7-33-4106 and 7-33-4122, a chief or assistant chief of a municipal fire department is a confirmed member of the fire department. Section 19-11-102 (renumbered 19-18-102) authorizes the formation of a fire department relief association by the confirmed members of a fire department. Because a chief or an assistant chief is a confirmed member of his fire department, he could be a member of the fire department relief association. 39 A.G. Op. 22 (1981).

Qualifications for Membership in Firemen's Relief Association: A city or firemen's relief association had no authority to deduct firemen's relief association dues from the wages of a probationary fireman, nor could a probationary fireman willingly contribute to a firemen's relief association and thereby receive benefits from that association. 36 A.G. Op. 30 (1975).

19-18-105. Establishment of disability and pension fund.

Case Notes

Association Benefits for Members of Organized Fire Departments Only: To entitle a fireman to the benefits of the disability and pension fund of the firemen's relief association, he had to be a member of an organized fire department, whether it be a paid or voluntary one, and confirmed as such by the City or Town Council (19-11-103, renumbered 19-18-103, and 19-11-205, renumbered 19-18-205). Where a volunteer department was abolished, a member thereof could no longer qualify as an eligible member of the relief association. State ex rel. Casey v. Brewer, 107 M 550, 88 P2d 49 (1939).

19-18-106. Transfer of money into fund by city treasurer.

Compiler's Comments

2009 Amendment: Chapter 56 made section gender neutral; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2009.

Case Notes

Effect of Abolishment on Membership of Association: A volunteer fire department was abolished upon the creation of a paid department. The volunteer members were no longer members of the relief association, and an election of a treasurer by such members was illegal. A treasurer elected by the members of the paid department was entitled to the possession of the property and funds of the association. Courts may take judicial notice of the articles of incorporation in passing upon qualifications of members. State ex rel. Casey v. Brewer, 107 M 550, 88 P2d 49 (1939).

19-18-203. Use of disability and pension fund.

Compiler's Comments

1987 Amendment: In introductory clause deleted reference to part 3.

Attorney General's Opinions

Fire Department Relief Association — Retired Firefighters — Benefits: A fire department relief association may decide whether retired firefighters should remain members of the association and what rights and duties they should have in it. Retired firefighters are ineligible for the blanket policy of insurance that the firefighters relief association is authorized to purchase under this section. Funeral expense money provided under this section is payable to a deceased firefighter's estate. 36 A.G. Op. 62 (1976).

Volunteer Firefighters: Volunteer firefighters in second-class cities are entitled to all relief association benefits other than the service pension. 35 A.G. Op. 67 (1974).

Blanket Insurance Policy: After the 1967 amendment to this section, a fire department relief association may purchase a blanket insurance policy that will compensate for death or injuries of members not incurred in the line of duty. 32 A.G. Op. 3 (1967).

Funeral Benefits — Right: Unless otherwise provided in its charter or bylaws, it is discretionary with a fire department relief association as to whether funeral benefits will be paid to either its active or retired members. 30 A.G. Op. 1 (1963).

Right of Widow to Pension: A firefighter's widow who remarries and whose remarriage is annulled ab initio has remained unmarried and is entitled to the widow's pension under the fire department association pension plan retroactive to the day her pension was cut off. 28 A.G. Op. 41 (1959).

19-18-503. Fund to be soundly funded.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 193 in (1) at beginning deleted "The purpose of this section is to provide a means by which" and after "fund" substituted "must be soundly funded. The fund is soundly funded if, subject to subsection (2)" for "may be"; in (1)(a) at beginning inserted "assets in the fund are"; inserted (1)(b) requiring that funding be maintained at an actuarially sound level; inserted (2) regarding request and conduct of an actuarial valuation; deleted former (2) that read: "(2) Subject to 15-10-420, if the fund contains less than 0.21% of the total assessed value of all taxable property within the limits of the city or town, the governing body of the city or town shall, at the time of the levy of the annual tax, levy a tax as provided in 19-18-504. The tax must be collected as other taxes are collected and, when collected, must be paid into the disability and pension fund"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 7, 2005.

2001 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 29 in (1) after "at least" substituted "0.21% but not more than 0.52% of the total assessed value of taxable property, determined as provided in 15-8-111" for "4% but no more than 10% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property"; and near beginning of (2) after "less than" substituted "0.21% of the total assessed value" for "4% of the taxable valuation". 1983 Amendment: Inserted (3) requiring special tax levy to be in addition to all-purpose mill levy.

1981 Amendment: Increased 2% to 3% wherever it appears.

No Authority of City to Levy Additional Special Tax to Fund Firefighters' Disability and Pension Fund When Maximum Mill Levy Already Imposed: This section authorizes a special tax levy as a means of maintaining a firefighters' disability and pension fund at a level equal to at least 4% but not more than 10% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the limits of a city or town. Whenever the fund contains less than 4% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the city limits, the governing body is required to levy a special tax as provided in 19-18-504. However, if the city has already imposed the maximum mill levy to fund the firefighters' disability and pension fund, it may not levy an additional special tax or seek voter approval for an additional special tax even if the fund's value is less that 4% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the city. (See 2001 and 2005 amendments.) 48 A.G. Op. 15 (2000).

All-Purpose Mill Levy — Forfeiture Powers: Municipalities that adopt the all-purpose mill levy authorized in 7-6-4452 (now repealed) forfeit the power to impose levies for any particular purpose not clearly excepted by statute. Thus, the all-purpose mill levy supplants the taxing authority granted in 7-33-4111, 19-10-301 (renumbered 19-19-301), and 19-11-503 (renumbered 19-18-503) (before 2005 amendment) but does not supplant the taxing authority granted in 7-32-4117, 7-33-4130, 19-3-204, 19-9-704 (renumbered 19-9-209), sec. 2, Ch. 324, L. 1975 (not codified), sec. 2, Ch. 359, L. 1975 (not codified), and sec. 3, Ch. 438, L. 1975 (not codified). 38 A.G. Op. 112 (1980).

19-18-504. Special tax levy for fund required.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 193 in (1) near beginning after "less than" substituted "the minimum amount required to keep the fund soundly funded pursuant to 19-18-503" for "0.21% of the total assessed value of taxable property, determined as provided in 15-8-111, within the city or town"; inserted (3) requiring that all revenue from the tax be deposited in the fund; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 7, 2005.

2001 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 29 in first sentence after "less than" substituted "0.21% of the total assessed value of taxable property, determined as provided in 15-8-111" for "4% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property" and after "shall" inserted "subject to 15-10-420" and in second sentence after "less than" substituted "0.52% but more than 0.21% of the total assessed value" for "10% but more than 4% of the taxable valuation"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001.

Chapter 495 in first sentence substituted "annual tax" for "annual special tax" and in second sentence inserted "as provided in 15-10-425" and substituted "annual tax" for "annual special tax"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2001.

Chapter 574 in first sentence after "council shall" substituted "subject to 15-10-420, levy an annual tax on the taxable value of all taxable property" for "levy an annual special tax of not less than 1 mill and not more than 4 mills on each dollar of taxable valuation of all taxable property" and at end of second sentence substituted "voters as provided in 15-10-425, levy an annual tax" for "voters, levy an annual special tax of not less than 1 mill and not more than 4 mills on each dollar of taxable valuation"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001.

Saving Clause: Section 33, Ch. 29, L. 2001, was a saving clause.

Applicability: Section 35, Ch. 29, L. 2001, provided: "(1) [This act] applies to the authorization and issuance of bonds occurring on or after July 1, 2001.

(2) Debt limits established under [this act] do not apply to bonds authorized before July 1, 2001, regardless of when the bonds are issued."

1999 Amendment: Chapter 553 in first sentence near middle inserted "or town" and inserted second sentence regarding levy of annual special tax; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective January 1, 2000.

1989 Amendment: Increased "3%" to "4%".

1981 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 566 deleted former subsections (1) and (2) that provided for a special tax levy of not more than 4 mills for first- and second-class cities; deleted "In cities of the third class" at the beginning of the section; and substituted "Whenever" for "when" at the beginning of the section.

Chapter 614 increased 2% to 3% in (1), (2)(a), (2)(b), and (3); and increased 1% to 1.5% in (2)(a).

Because the deletion of former subsections (1) and (2) by Ch. 566, L. 1981, is an amendment in the nature of a repeal, the Code Commissioner has not codified the amendments to these subsections contained in Ch. 614, L. 1981. See 1-2-204.

Attorney General's Opinions

No Authority of City to Levy Additional Special Tax to Fund Firefighters' Disability and Pension Fund When Maximum Mill Levy Already Imposed: Section 19-18-503 authorizes a special tax levy as a means of maintaining a firefighters' disability and pension fund at a level equal to at least 4% but not more than 10% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the limits of a city or town. Whenever the fund contains less than 4% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the city limits, the governing body is required to levy a special tax as provided in this section. However, if the city has already imposed the maximum mill levy to fund the firefighters' disability and pension fund, it may not levy an additional special tax or seek voter approval for an additional special tax even if the fund's value is less that 4% of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within the city. 1997 Amendment: Chapter 532 in (1), at end of third sentence, substituted "general fund" for "premium taxes on insurance risks enumerated in subsection (3) collected by the state auditor"; in (2), at beginning, deleted "If" and after "subsection (1)" substituted "must be for at least" for "is less than $100, an additional payment shall be made from the same tax moneys so that the total amount received is"; deleted (3) that read: "(3) The risks referred to in subsection (1) are:

Part 6
Benefits

Part Attorney General's Opinions

Unified Retirement — Firefighters Entitled to Prior Benefits: In converting to the Unified Retirement System, all eligible firefighters are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. A firefighter's pension constitutes an element of compensation, and a vested contractual right to pension benefits, which are stated in the retirement plan during the firefighter's employment, accrues when he begins paying into the retirement fund. Vested pension rights include the provisions that were used to compute the adjusted benefits under the old system. Firefighters hired before July 1, 1973, and who retired during the period from July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1981, are entitled to all pension benefits accrued to them under the old retirement system. 39 A.G. Op. 51 (1982).

Practical Effect of Section on Use of Funds: Although the provisions of 19-18-606 (now repealed) are in conflict on the issue of whether the funds to be paid to the various fire relief associations are to be used by the associations to supplement retirees' pensions or reimburse the associations' treasuries for pension adjustments already paid out, the practical effect of the law, at least for the first few years of its operation, is to provide the associations with funds at the beginning of the fiscal year from which they can supplement the pensions of the retirees for that fiscal year. 36 A.G. Op. 41 (1975).

Pension Adjustments: Section 19-18-606 (now repealed) required the treasurer of a fire department relief association to request and the State Auditor to issue from the earmarked revenue fund (changed to special revenue fund in 1983) an amount equal to the sum total of the annual dollar difference between what the retirees or their surviving spouses and children received from the fund of the relief association for the fiscal year just preceding and one-half of the sum paid by the respective city or town to the position of a confirmed active fireman for the fiscal year just preceding. 36 A.G. Op. 41 (1975).

Computation of Benefits: Insurance premiums paid on behalf of firefighters are not part of their "regular monthly salary" for purposes of computing pension benefits under 19-18-606 (now repealed). 36 A.G. Op. 40 (1975).

19-18-601. Benefits the association may provide.

Case Notes

Pensioner Without Vested Right in Pension: A pension granted by the public authorities was not a contractual obligation but a gratuitous allowance in the continuance of which the pensioner had no vested right, the pension being terminable at the will of the grantor. A City Council could abolish its volunteer fire department when in its judgment a paid department should be established and could also destroy the membership of a volunteer member in the firemen's relief association. State ex rel. Casey v. Brewer, 107 M 550, 88 P2d 49 (1939), explained in Clarke v. Ireland, 122 M 191, 199 P2d 965 (1948).

Incapacity Due to Illness: Under this section, a city fireman could properly be awarded benefits from the firemen's disability fund for incapacity from duty caused by illness in an amount equal to his monthly salary during the time of such incapacity. In such case the provisions of 19-11-602 (renumbered 19-18-602) and 19-11-604 (renumbered 19-18-604), providing for a service pension and limiting it to one-half the monthly salary last received by such member, had no application. State ex rel. Barry v. O'Leary, 83 M 445, 272 P 677 (1928).

Attorney General's Opinions

Right of Widow to Pension: A firefighter's widow who remarries and whose remarriage is annulled ab initio has remained unmarried and is entitled to the widow's pension under the fire department association pension plan retroactive to the day her pension was cut off. 28 A.G. Op. 41 (1959).

19-18-602. Service pension.

Compiler's Comments

2013 Amendment: Chapter 252 in (1) in first sentence substituted "pension to a member" for "pension to each of its members"; in (3)(b) at end inserted exception clause; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 51 in (3)(b) after "pension may" substituted "be set by the board of trustees of the association, but may not exceed $225 a month" for "not exceed $150 a month"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2001.

1983 Amendment: Near end of (3), increased monthly pension payment to volunteer firefighters from $100 to $150 a month.

Interpretation: Section 4, Ch. 484, L. 1977, read: "This act is not intended to increase or decrease benefits earned by present members under prior acts. The amendments in section 3 of this act are intended to clarify that section but are not intended to imply that prior to the effective date of this act a member could have retired prior to age 50 with full benefits to be paid at age 50."

Case Notes

Two-Year Statute of Limitations Applicable to Filing Suit for Volunteer Fire Department Partial Pension: Marx served as a volunteer firefighter from 1979 to 1995, when he was terminated for failure to complete training requirements. About 6 months after termination, Marx requested the firefighters relief association board to grant him a partial pension. In 2004 Marx was notified by the board that his request was denied pursuant to 19-18-602(5) because there was no other factor beyond Marx's control that would qualify him for a partial or reduced pension. Marx then filed suit against the association for damages and declaratory relief. The association moved for summary judgment on grounds that Marx had failed to file suit within 2 years of termination as required in 27-2-211. The District Court granted summary judgment for the association and Marx appealed, but the Supreme Court affirmed. Despite Marx's assertion that under 27-2-301 the time for running the statute of limitations did not begin until his request was formally denied, the District Court did not incorrectly determine the accrual date of Marx's cause of action. Marx cited no authority for the proposition that a demand was necessary to entitle him to maintain an action for a partial pension, and the Supreme Court declined to insert into 27-2-301 a requirement for formal repudiation or denial of a claim. Rather, the statute of limitation began to run from the time Marx knew the facts that would have justified a demand for the pension. The right to a service pension is a liability created by statute as contemplated in 27-2-211, and the association met its initial burden of establishing both the absence of genuine issues of material fact and its entitlement to judgment as a matter of law, while Marx failed to establish the existence of a genuine issue of material fact. Marx v. Belgrade Volunteer Firefighters Relief Ass'n, 2008 MT 410, 347 M 256, 198 P3d 247 (2008), distinguishing Kosty v. Lewis, 319 F2d 744 (D.C. Cir. 1963), Martin v. Constr. Laborer's Pension Trust, 947 F2d 1381 (9th Cir. 1991), and Wetzel v. Lou Ehlers Cadillac Group, 222 F3d 643 (9th Cir. 2000).

Incapacity Due to Illness: Under 19-11-611 (renumbered 19-18-611), a city fireman could properly be awarded benefits from the firemen's disability fund for incapacity from duty caused by illness in an amount equal to his monthly salary during the time of such incapacity. In such a case the provisions of this section and 19-11-604 (renumbered 19-18-604), providing for a service pension and limiting it to one-half the monthly salary last received by such member, had no application. State ex rel. Barry v. O'Leary, 83 M 445, 272 P 677 (1928).

Determination of Length of Service: Eligibility for a service pension from a fire department relief association under this section is calculated on the basis of years of active duty as a fully paid firefighter and is not dependent upon the date of appointment or confirmation. 38 A.G. Op. 4 (1979).

Volunteer Firefighters: Volunteer firefighters in second-class cities are entitled to all relief association benefits other than the service pension. 35 A.G. Op. 67 (1974).

Workmen's Compensation Proviso Unconstitutional: The provisions of a repealed section clearly impaired an obligation of contract and had to be declared unconstitutional insofar as they prohibited a fireman or his widow or orphan from receiving payments from the disability and pension fund if they were also receiving payments under the Workmen's Compensation Act (section 92-101, et seq., R.C.M. 1947, now repealed; see Title 39, ch. 71). Attorney General's Opinions

All-Purpose Mill Levy — Forfeiture of Powers: Municipalities that adopt the all-purpose mill levy authorized in 7-6-4452 (now repealed) forfeit the power to impose levies for any particular purpose not clearly excepted by statute. Thus, the all-purpose mill levy supplants the taxing authority granted in 7-33-4111, 19-10-301 (renumbered 19-19-301), and 19-11-503 (renumbered 19-18-503) but does not supplant the taxing authority granted in 7-32-4117, 7-33-4130, 19-3-204, 19-9-704 (renumbered 19-9-209), sec. 2, Ch. 324, L. 1975 (not codified), sec. 2, Ch. 359, L. 1975 (not codified), and sec. 3, Ch. 438, L. 1975 (not codified). 38 A.G. Op. 112 (1980).

Unauthorized Levies Not to Be Used as Basis for Temporary Increase: The special levies authorized by 7-32-4117, 7-33-4130, and 19-10-301 (renumbered 19-19-301) must be included in the 65-mill levy authorized by 7-6-4451. Any such special levies improperly levied in addition to the 65-mill all-purpose levy may not be used in computing the basis for a 5% increase under 15-7-122 (now repealed). 38 A.G. Op. 44 (1979).

Op. 29 (1985).

Compiler's Comments

2009 Amendment: Chapter 56 made section gender neutral; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2009.

Attorney General's Opinions

No Retroactive Effect: Right to a refund of contributions of a retired police officer of the Montana Statewide Police Reserve Fund is confined to police officers whose service with the city is discontinued after July 1, 1975, as there not only was no provision for refund of contributions but a prohibition against repayments as a pension or refund. 36 A.G. Op. 57 (1976).

Prior Decision: In an opinion written before the adoption of this section, it was held that a police officer who resigns from a city police force is not entitled to withdraw his contribution from the police pension fund. 29 A.G. Op. 11 (1961).

19-19-305. Annual state payments to municipality with police department.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 532 in (1), in second sentence after "payment", inserted "from the general fund"; deleted former (2) that read: "The payments provided for by 19-19-205 and subsection (1) of this section shall be paid from the premium tax collected on insurance sold in this state to insure against the risks enumerated in 19-18-512. Such payments may only be made after deductions have been made from the gross premium tax for cancellations and returned premiums"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

1985 Amendment: In (1) inserted last sentence referring to statutory appropriation.

1981 Amendment: Substituted "After" for "At" at the beginning of (1).

Case Notes

Conditions Attached to Appropriation: Where title of appropriation bill indicated that its purpose was to provide for annual payment to cities and towns for police reserve fund, section of statute which contained restrictions on such payments, contrary to provisions of metropolitan police law (Title 7, ch. 32, part 41), was repugnant to Art. V, sec. 23, 1889 Mont. Const. (similar to Art. V, sec. 11(4), 1972 Mont. Const.), and therefore void. Helena v. Omholt, 155 M 212, 468 P2d 764 (1970).

Pension Trust for PERS Members Prohibits Use of State Funds: Subsection (8) of 19-3-403 prohibits use of annual state payments received by a city pursuant to this section for a pension trust plan for police officers who are also members of the Public Employees' Retirement System. 42 A.G. Op. 92 (1988).

Consolidated Law Enforcement Funding: Third-class cities or towns that have consolidated their police departments with county law enforcement offices may not use the funds received from the State Auditor under 19-10-305 (renumbered 19-19-305) to pay the county for their share of the consolidated law enforcement expense unless those funds are used exclusively for pensions and/or training. 37 A.G. Op. 117 (1978).

Expenditure of State Funds for Police Officers: A town may expend funds received pursuant to 19-10-305 (renumbered 19-19-305) to purchase an annuity for former members of its police department even though the town now has a consolidated department. 37 A.G. Op. 103 (1977).

Interlocal Agreement — Qualifies for State Payment: A contracting city or town under an interlocal agreement providing for cooperative law enforcement services would not forfeit the right to receive state payments as each municipality would still be provided law enforcement services through a local police department. A city or town not governed by the provisions of the police retirement system may thus properly expend the state payment received under this section for police training or to purchase pensions for members of the police department supplying police services pursuant to the interlocal agreement. 35 A.G. Op. 72 (1974).

Retirement Credit for Temporary Police Duty — Contributions: Time served for temporary duty as a special officer counts toward a police officer's time requirements for the retired list under this section. Employer May Decide Date of Impairment and Date of Retirement: This section makes it clear that the appropriate entity has discretion in making the determination as to whether and when an injury or disability permanently impairs ability to perform and makes it clear that a transfer to the retired list is mandatory only upon the making of an impairment determination. The section does not mandate transfer and the commencement of retirement benefits as of the date of the injury or disability. Silva v. Columbia Falls, 258 M 329, 852 P2d 671, 50 St. Rep. 556 (1993).

Grant of Retirement as of Date of Evidence of Permanent Disability Rather Than Date of Injury: A police officer was injured in January 1989 and applied for disability retirement in March 1989. Medical evidence in March and August 1989 indicated that he would be able to return to work. The first medical statement that he would not be able to return to work was received by the city on June 21, 1990, from a doctor who stated that plaintiff's disability had existed since the date of the injury. This statement conflicted with the prior medical evidence. The city's decision to grant retirement benefits as of June 21, 1990, had a reasonable basis, was not arbitrary and capricious, and was affirmed. Silva v. Columbia Falls, 258 M 329, 852 P2d 671, 50 St. Rep. 556 (1993).

Stress-Related Problems Not Compensable: A police officer was involved in two automobile accidents while on active duty, but neither injury resulted in wage loss nor did the officer mention any problems related to the injuries. The officer quit the department some years later due to stress and anxiety problems. The District Court properly affirmed the City Council decision to deny benefits because the officer's problems did not result from the active discharge of his duties but rather from stress and anxiety generally associated with his employment, neither of which is compensable as a workers' compensation injury or occupational disease. Norman v. Whitefish, 258 M 26, 852 P2d 533, 50 St. Rep. 441 (1993).

Authority to Place Incapacitated Police Officer on Reserve List: The Board of Police Commissioners for the city of Great Falls found that appellant's ability to act as a police officer was impaired. They recommended that the City Council place him on the reserve list. The City Council refused the recommendation. Section 5108.4, R.C.M. 1935 (now repealed), gave disjunctive authority to the Police Commissioners and the City Council to act in this matter. The finding of disability on the part of appellant made by the Board of Police Commissioners was binding on the City Council, and appellant was entitled to be placed on the reserve list and receive a disability pension. 2013 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 366 inserted definitions of date of termination and position reportable to the retirement system; in definition of average final compensation after "earned compensation" deleted "in 3 consecutive years" and after "which" inserted "all required"; in definition of employer in (k) substituted "agency, political subdivision, or instrumentality" for "agency or subdivision"; in definition of normal retirement age substituted "60" for "55" and at end deleted "with the right to receive immediate retirement benefits without an actuarial reduction in the benefits"; in definition of retired substituted "is considered in retired member status under the provisions of 19-20-810" for "has terminated employment that qualifies the person for membership and who has received at least one monthly retirement benefit paid pursuant to this chapter"; in definition of termination substituted "the employment relationship between the member and the member's employer has been terminated as required in 19-20-810" for "the member has severed the employment relationship with the member's employer and that all, if any, payments due upon termination of employment, including but not limited to accrued sick and annual leave balances, have been paid to the member"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Chapter 389 in definition of average final compensation after "earned compensation" deleted "in 3 consecutive years"; in definition of member inserted second sentence concerning member tiers; inserted definitions of tier one member and tier two member; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

1989 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 331, L. 1989, provided: "It is the intent of the legislature to provide equitable retirement benefits to all members of the teachers' retirement system based on their normal service and salary. The legislature further intends to limit the effect on the retirement system of isolated salary increases received by selected individuals through promotions or one-time salary enhancements during their last years of employment.

The bill provides that the amount of each year's earned compensation that may be used in calculating a member's average final compensation may not exceed the member's earned compensation for the preceding year by more than 10%, except as provided by rule by the board. The legislature intends that the board's rules exempt from the 10% statutory cap increases that:

(1) result from collective bargaining agreements;

(2) have been granted by the employer to all other similarly situated employees; or

(3) have been received as compensation for summer employment.

In addition, the legislature intends that the board's rules require a member to provide adequate documentation to permit the board to make an informed decision concerning exceptions to the 10% statutory cap."

1987 Amendment: At end of (2) substituted "1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table, with ages set back 4 years and an interest rate of 8% compounded annually" for "mortality tables adopted by the retirement board".

1985 Amendments: Chapter 224 in (5)(a)(ii) after "compensation", inserted "if the member has 4 or more years of service with the employer from which the termination pay was received", after "creditable service", deleted "with the employer from whom this type of compensation was received", and in last sentence substituted "contributions on the termination pay according to the rates provided for in 19-4-602(1) [renumbered 19-20-602(1)] and 19-4-605(1) [renumbered 19-20-605(1)]" for "the regular contribution on the termination pay".

The employer shall fix the value of any compensation paid in kind." and inserted third sentence excluding other amounts paid in kind and fringe benefits and exception at end.

Case Notes

Constitutionality: Provisions of 1945 amendment to former subsection defining accumulated contributions were unconstitutional as impairing teacher's contractual rights where they deprived withdrawing member of interest to which she would have been entitled under law prior to amendment. Clarke v. Ireland, 122 M 191, 199 P2d 965 (1948).

Attorney General's Opinions

Earned Compensation — Inclusion of Unearned Sick and Vacation Leave of Disabled Teacher: If a teacher retires on a disability allowance prior to the completion of a full year and is statutorily entitled to earned compensation in the Teachers' Retirement System in an amount equal to the "compensation, pay or salary which he would have received had he completed the full year", the Teachers' Retirement Board must include in the calculation of his earned compensation the value of the sick leave and vacation leave the member would have earned had he completed the contract year. (See 2001 amendment to this section's definition of "earned compensation".) 40 A.G. Op. 10 (1983).

Earned Compensation — Severance Payments — Unused Sick or Vacation Leave: Contractual severance payments and payments based on unused sick or vacation leave are earned compensation of a member for the year in which they are actually paid to the member provided they are properly reported to the system. Severance payments that are not provided for by contract and are unrelated to length of service or unused sick or vacation leave are not earned compensation. 37 A.G. Op. 176 (1978), clarifying 37 A.G. Op. 113 (1978).

2007 Amendment: Chapter 305 inserted (2) concerning policy of state; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 27, 2007.

Although recognized as the state teachers' retirement system by 19-4-102 (renumbered 19-20-102), the 1937 chapter and amendments thereto were repealed by sec. 496, Ch. 5, L. 1971.

Administrative Rules

Case Notes

Contractual Nature of Rights: The Teachers' Retirement Act of 1937 was one providing for payments of annuity rather than a pension and created a contractual annuity. Clarke v. Ireland, 122 M 191, 199 P2d 965 (1948).

Attorney General's Opinions

Out-of-State: Applicants entering the teachers' retirement system prior to July 1, 1971, may purchase credit for any type of instructional service previously performed, whether within or without the United States and whether in a public, private, or federal institution; but applicants entering after July 1, 1971, may purchase credit only for certified teaching or administrative functions performed within the United States or its territories or possessions in state or locally financed public schools and institutions. 37 A.G. WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

Out-of-State: Applicants entering the teachers' retirement system prior to July 1, 1971, may purchase credit for any type of instructional service previously performed, whether within or without the United States and whether in a public, private, or federal institution; but applicants entering after July 1, 1971, may purchase credit only for certified teaching or administrative functions performed within the United States or its territories or possessions in state or locally financed public schools and institutions. 37 A.G. Case Notes

Retention of Rights by Inactive Member of Teachers' Retirement System — Benefits Due Only Upon Termination of Membership: Farrier was a full-time teacher and regularly contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) when he accepted a part-time university position. Farrier then elected to have his retirement benefits paid into the optional retirement program instead of the TRS. After retiring from the teaching position, Farrier began receiving benefits from the TRS and accepted a full-time university position. The Teachers' Retirement Board informed Farrier that if he exceeded the postretirement earning limitation in 19-20-804, his TRS benefits would be suspended until he retired from the university. The District Court found that under 19-21-202, Farrier retained all rights as an inactive member of the TRS and that Farrier was entitled to receive benefits while maintaining an inactive status. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that Farrier was correctly classified as an inactive TRS member and as such retained all rights as an inactive member, including the right to withdraw all accumulated contributions or to remain an inactive member with the right to qualify for benefits. However, the District Court incorrectly concluded that Farrier was entitled to TRS benefits as an inactive member, and Farrier was precluded from receiving further benefits until membership with the TRS was terminated. Farrier v. Teachers' Retirement Bd., 2003 MT 278, 317 M 509, 78 P3d 1207 (2003).

Chapter 389 in (7)(c) inserted "19-20-608, and 19-20-609"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain

Retention of Rights by Inactive Member of Teachers' Retirement System — Benefits Due Only Upon Termination of Membership: Farrier was a full-time teacher and regularly contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) when he accepted a part-time university position. Farrier then elected to have his retirement benefits paid into the optional retirement program instead of the TRS. After retiring from the teaching position, Farrier began receiving benefits from the TRS and accepted a full-time university position. The Teachers' Retirement Board informed Farrier that if he exceeded the postretirement earning limitation in 19-20-804, his TRS benefits would be suspended until he retired from the university. The District Court found that under 19-21-202, Farrier retained all rights as an inactive member of the TRS and that Farrier was entitled to receive benefits while maintaining an inactive status. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that Farrier was correctly classified as an inactive TRS member and as such retained all rights as an inactive member, including the right to withdraw all accumulated contributions or to remain an inactive member with the right to qualify for benefits. However, the District Court incorrectly concluded that Farrier was entitled to TRS benefits as an inactive member, and Farrier was precluded from receiving further benefits until membership with the TRS was terminated. Farrier v. Teachers' Retirement Bd., 2003 MT 278, 317 M 509, 78 P3d 1207 (2003).

Annuity or Pension — Voluntariness Determines: Plaintiff was a teacher in the Montana public school system at the time the teacher's retirement act was enacted. She did not file the notification required to become a member of the retirement system. She continued to teach until she resigned. For the 8-year period prior to her resignation, 5% of her earnable compensation was deducted from her salary, which was the contribution required from members of the retirement system. When plaintiff resigned, she was not eligible for retirement or disability benefits. She applied for withdrawal of amounts standing to her credit in the annuity savings fund (now annuity savings account) along with three-fourths of the regular rate of interest. Defendants refused to pay her the interest. The origin of the sum determines the rights of the employee. She was entitled to interest from an annuity fund but not a pension fund. If contributions are voluntary, the fund is an annuity. The test is whether the contributor had the power to elect whether the deduction would be taken from her salary. Plaintiff voluntarily consented to the deductions, so that the fund was an annuity. Her rights in the fund were contractual rights, the terms of which were ascertained by statute and could not be impaired. Clarke v. Ireland, 122 M 191, 199 P2d 965 (1948).

Constitutionality: The provisions of a 1945 amendment to a former subsection providing that a withdrawing member should be paid only the amount contributed were unconstitutional as impairing teachers' contractual rights. The amendment deprived a withdrawing member of interest to which she would have been entitled under the law prior to amendment. Clarke v. Ireland, 122 M 191, 199 P2d 965 (1948).

Attorney General's Opinions

Levies Designated for Community College District Retirement Costs Limited to Property Within District: The requirement in 20-9-501 that the County Superintendent of Schools determine each district's net retirement fund separately, together with the language in 20-9-142 requiring Boards of County Commissioners to fix and levy taxes on real and personal property in a district, indicates the Legislature's intent that levies designed for community college district retirement costs be limited to property in the community college district, not all property in the county. Therefore, the Board of County Commissioners of a county in which a community college district is located may not issue a tax levy to fund the teachers' retirement obligations of the community college district against property that is located in the county but outside the community college district. Rather, the levy may be imposed only on property within the community college district. 47 A.G. Op. 17 (1998).

Payments to Teachers' Retirement Board for Teacher on Sabbatical Leave With Pay: Prior to the 1983 and 1985 amendments of 19-4-602 (renumbered 19-20-602) and the 1981, 1983, and 1985 amendments of 19-4-605 (renumbered 19-20-605), when a school district granted a public school teacher sabbatical leave with pay, the district must have: (a) deducted from the teacher's compensation 6.187% of the full compensation actually paid the teacher for the employee's contribution; and (b) contributed 6.312% of the full compensation actually paid the teacher for the employer's contribution. 38 A.G. 2013 Amendment: Chapter 389 deleted former (1)(a) that read: "(a) beginning July 1, 2007, through June 30, 2009, 2% of the total earned compensation of school district and community college active members participating in the system"; before "2.38%" deleted "beginning July 1, 2009"; inserted (1)(b) concerning supplemental contributions and insufficient reports; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

Case Notes

No Private Contract Created by Statute — State Prohibited From Surrendering Power to Tax: After the Legislature enacted Ch. 823, L. 1991, to tax retirement pension benefits that had previously been untaxed, the retirees sued, claiming that they had a contractual right to a continued exemption from taxation. Citing Wage Appeal v. Bd. of Personnel Appeals, 208 M 33, 676 P2d 194 (1984), the Supreme Court held that the former tax exemption was only a policy statement that could be changed by the Legislature and that the Legislature did not clearly manifest an intention in the law in question to create a private contractual right. Additionally, the Supreme Court held that the state was prohibited by Art. VIII, sec. 2, Mont. Const., from promising any group of taxpayers that it would never tax them. Sheehy v. Pub. Employees Retirement Div., 262 M 129, 864 P2d 762, 50 St. Rep. 1477 (1993).

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be

encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

(b) who was reemployed and earned at least 1 year of creditable service must be recalculated under 19-20-804 if the member has attained normal retirement age or under 19-20-802 if the member has not attained normal retirement age but is eligible for early retirement. The amendment to this section made by sec. 7, Ch. 366, L. 2013, was rendered void by sec. 14, Ch. 366, L. 2013, a coordination instruction.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

2011 Amendment: Chapter 151 in (2) after "19-20-804" deleted "and section 5, Chapter 549, Laws of 1981" and substituted "using actuarially equivalent factors based on the most recent valuation of the system" for "as follows"; deleted former (2)(a) and (2)(b) that read: "(a) by ½ of 1% multiplied by the number of months up to a maximum of 60 months by which the retirement date precedes the date on which the member would have retired had the member attained 60 years of age or had the member completed 25 years of creditable service; and

(b) by 3/10 of 1% multiplied by the number of months in excess of the 60 months in subsection (2)(a) but not to exceed 60 additional months that the retirement date precedes the date on which the member would have retired had the member attained 60 years of age or had the member completed 25 years of creditable service"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1999.

Saving Clause: Section 28, Ch. 111, L. 1999, was a saving clause.

Case Notes

Retention of Rights by Inactive Member of Teachers' Retirement System — Benefits Due Only Upon Termination of Membership: Farrier was a full-time teacher and regularly contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) when he accepted a part-time university position. Farrier then elected to have his retirement benefits paid into the optional retirement program instead of the TRS. After retiring from the teaching position, Farrier began receiving benefits from the TRS and accepted a full-time university position. The Teachers' Retirement Board informed Farrier that if he exceeded the postretirement earning limitation in this section, his TRS benefits would be suspended until he retired from the university. The District Court found that under 19-21-202, Farrier retained all rights as an inactive member of the TRS and that Farrier was entitled to receive benefits while maintaining an inactive status. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that Farrier was correctly classified as an inactive TRS member and as such retained all rights as an inactive member, including the right to withdraw all accumulated contributions or to remain an inactive member with the right to qualify for benefits. However, the District Court incorrectly concluded that Farrier was entitled to TRS benefits as an inactive member, and Farrier was precluded from receiving further benefits until membership with the TRS was terminated. WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

Earned Compensation — Severance Payments — Unused Sick or Vacation Leave: Contractual severance payments and payments based on unused sick or vacation leave are earned compensation of a member for the year in which they are actually paid to the member provided they are properly reported to the system. Severance payments that are not provided for by contract and are unrelated to length of service or unused sick or vacation leave are not earned compensation. 37 A.G. 2013 Amendment: Chapter 389 in (2)(a) at beginning inserted exception clause; inserted (2)(d) concerning retirement allowances for nominated beneficiaries; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

As originally drafted, "[section 3(4)]" referred to subsection (4) of 19-4-1001 (renumbered 19-20-1001). A new section was added to House Bill No. 314 (Ch. 56, L. 1989), but the internal references in section 7 were not changed to reflect the renumbered sections. Therefore, the Code Commissioner has determined, pursuant to sec. 83, Ch. 83, L. 1989, that the applicable section referenced in sec. 7, Ch. 56, L. 1989, is "[section 4(4)]", codified as 19-4-1001(4) (renumbered 19-20-1001(4)).

Case Notes

Beneficiary Designated in Writing — Takes Proceeds Over Surviving Widow: While married to his first wife, the decedent became a member of the Teachers' Retirement System. He designated in writing his first wife as beneficiary of the proceeds of the pension account; that designation remained unchanged. When the couple divorced, they executed a property settlement agreement whereby each waived rights in the other's estate. The decedent did not submit a change of beneficiary form after he remarried. After his death, his second wife brought the present action to recover proceeds contributed to the retirement system, a large portion of which was contributed during her marriage to the decedent. Pursuant to the provisions of this statute which controls, the proceeds of the account can be paid only to the one nominated by a written designation or, in the absence of such nomination, to the decedent's estate. The operation of the system is governed by statute, and the stability of the system depends upon adherence to the statutory scheme. The person nominated in the written designation is entitled to the proceeds. A number of jurisdictions would allow a deviation from the written nomination but only if there was an intent to change the designation, coupled with some affirmative action to show a desire to make the change. In the present case, the second wife would not prevail under even this more liberal view as there is no evidence the decedent took any step to change the beneficiary designation. The proceeds properly were awarded to the first wife even though she waived her rights in her former husband's estate. Sowell v. Teachers' Retirement System, 214 M 200, 693 P2d 1222, 41 St. Rep. 2413 (1984), distinguished in In re Marriage of Butler, 243 M 521, 795 P2d 467, 47 St. Rep. 1376 (1990).

Retention of Rights by Inactive Member of Teachers' Retirement System — Benefits Due Only Upon Termination of Membership: Farrier was a full-time teacher and regularly contributing member of the Teachers' Retirement System (TRS) when he accepted a part-time university position. Farrier then elected to have his retirement benefits paid into the optional retirement program instead of the TRS. After retiring from the teaching position, Farrier began receiving benefits from the TRS and accepted a full-time university position. The Teachers' Retirement Board informed Farrier that if he exceeded the postretirement earning limitation in 19-20-804, his TRS benefits would be suspended until he retired from the university. The District Court found that under 19-21-202, Farrier retained all rights as an inactive member of the TRS and that Farrier was entitled to receive benefits while maintaining an inactive status. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that Farrier was correctly classified as an inactive TRS member and as such retained all rights as an inactive member, including the right to withdraw all accumulated contributions or to remain an inactive member with the right to qualify for benefits. However, the District Court incorrectly concluded that Farrier was entitled to TRS benefits as an inactive member, and Farrier was precluded from receiving further benefits until membership with the TRS was terminated. 1999 Amendment: Chapter 471 throughout section before "program" deleted "optional retirement"; in (1) inserted reference to subsections (1) through (3) and (5) of 19-21-201; and in (2) in second and third sentences before "system" deleted "retirement". Amendment effective on occurrence of contingency or July 1, 2002, whichever is earlier.

Section 65 provided in subsection (2) that "The board shall certify to the governor and the secretary of state the date on which the defined contribution retirement plan established pursuant to [sections 42 through 63] [chapter 3, part 21, of this title] is ready to become operational and shall provide a copy of the certification to the code commissioner."

Case Notes

State Control Over Financial Consequences of Pension Plan Associated With Public Employment — Retirement Policy Rationally Related to Government Interest: Plaintiff challenged the statutory scheme governing the eligibility for public pensions for employees who work for a school district, retire, and then work for the University System. The District Court held that the statutory proscription in this section that prevents a retired teacher from receiving benefits from a state-sponsored retirement program while remaining an employee and contributing member of another private retirement program violated the constitutional right to equal protection. On appeal, the Supreme Court applied the rational basis test and reversed. There remains nothing irrational about the state deciding that at any one time, a public employee should not be both drawing a new salary and accruing a public pension and receiving an old public pension. When the job and its associated pension plan involve public employment, the state's interest in and control over the financial consequences are a legitimate exercise of the constitutional mandate in Art. VIII, sec. 15, Mont. Const., and the District Court incorrectly held that the statutory scheme was an equal protection violation. Farrier v. Teachers' Retirement Bd., 2005 MT 229, 328 M 375, 120 P3d 390 (2005).

Case Notes

Dissolution of Marriage — Property Settlement: In a dissolution of marriage and property settlement case, the District Court did not err in finding that each party was entitled to his or her respective deferred compensation account when the parties were earning approximately the same income and were free to choose how much of their income they wished to defer. In re Marriage of Selsor/Mossman, 256 M 260, 846 P2d 972, 50 St. Rep. 80 (1993).

Qualified Plan: The language of the legislative act (prior to 1981 amendment of this section) clearly indicated the term "qualified plan" meant a plan qualifying for deferral of income taxation under federal laws and not only a plan under section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. Mont. Ass'n of Underwriters v. Dept. of Administration, 172 M 211, 563 P2d 577 (1977).

Case Notes

Teacher Tenure Statute Not Ambiguous — Assistant Superintendent Considered Tenured Teacher: The school district board voted to terminate Small's employment as assistant superintendent at the end of the employment contract without a hearing or determination of good cause. Small appealed the board's determination on grounds that he had been continuously employed by the school district for 10 years in a position requiring teacher certification and thus was a tenured teacher whose employment could be terminated only after a hearing and a finding of good cause. The District Court agreed that Small was a tenured teacher and remanded to the board with instructions to provide Small with the appropriate termination process, but found that the issue of damages was premature. The school district appealed the decision that Small was a tenured teacher, and Small appealed the decision that damages were premature. The Supreme Court affirmed, finding that the teacher tenure statute is not ambiguous. The statute clearly grants tenure to teachers and denies tenure to District Superintendents. By definition in this section, a teacher is a person, except a District Superintendent, who holds a valid Montana teacher certificate and who is employed by a district as a member of its instructional, supervisory, or administrative staff. Small held a valid teacher certificate, was not a District Superintendent, and was employed by the district as a member of its supervisory and administrative staff and was thus entitled to tenure. The court also remanded to the County Superintendent for an evidentiary hearing on damages. Small v. Bd. of Trustees, Glacier County School District No. 9, 2001 MT 181, 306 M 199, 31 P3d 358 (2001).

Mountain View School Teachers as State Employees: Individuals employed to teach at Mountain View School are not employed by a school district and so do not meet the statutory definition of "teacher" in this section. Therefore, the instructors are considered state employees entitled to the leave benefits provided for other state employees. Mtn. View Educ. Ass'n v. Mtn. View School, 227 M 288, 738 P2d 1288, 44 St. Rep. 1089 (1987).

"Schoolteacher" — Higher Education Faculty Not Included: The plain and ordinary meaning of "schoolteacher" does not encompass higher education faculty, including community college faculty members, especially since community college faculty members are ultimately answerable to the Board of Regents. Community college faculty members are state employees for purposes of entitlement to payment for accumulated sick leave. Rippey v. Bd. of Trustees, 210 M 396, 682 P2d 1363, 41 St. Rep. 1117 (1984), followed, with regard to the fact that "teacher" does not include a community college instructor for tenure purposes, in Talley v. Flathead Valley Community College, 259 M 479, 857 P2d 701, 50 St. Rep. 889 (1993).

"Teacher" for Purposes of Tenure Laws:

The plaintiff was employed as a member of a school's administrative staff as a school psychologist from 1975 to 1981 under a "teacher contract" that required him to hold a valid teacher certificate. He was terminated from his job and subsequently appealed to the District Court a decision of the Office of Public Instruction (OPI) that he was not a tenured teacher at the time of his termination. The Supreme Court held that the District Court did not err in reversing the decision of the OPI. The distinction made by the Legislature, in the 1979 amendment of 20-4-203, between teachers and specialists for the purposes of tenure, did not retroactively affect tenure earned by the plaintiff prior to that amendment. By 1976, the plaintiff had met all three requirements for tenure under the old statute and was therefore a tenured teacher within the meaning of the law. Harris v. Bauer, 206 M 480, 672 P2d 26, 40 St. Rep. 1793 (1983).

Sorlie was an elementary teacher for 20 years prior to assuming an administrative position. In 1980, because a mill levy failed, the school board eliminated Sorlie's position and offered her a job as an elementary schoolteacher. Sorlie argued that she was demoted in violation of Montana's tenure laws. The Supreme Court considered, among other things, the definition of "teacher" and found the two positions to be comparable positions for purpose of tenure although they are functionally dissimilar. The court concluded that the reassignment, without reduction in salary, for legitimate financial constraints, is justifiable and not contrary to tenure laws. Sorlie was removed from her administrative position pursuant to the board's power to financially manage the school district, and this action was in accordance with 39-31-303. Sorlie v. School District, 205 M 22, 667 P2d 400, 40 St. Rep. 1070 (1983), followed in King v. Hays/Lodge Pole Pub. School District No. 50, 2011 MT 200, 361 Mont. 415, 259 P.3d 772, which held that a teacher position and a principal position are comparable positions under 20-4-203, even when one of the positions has not been eliminated for financial reasons.

Vocational-Technical Center Employee Status: There is no principled basis to distinguish a vocational-technical center from any other school for purposes of determining the status of the employees who work there. 38 A.G. Op. 20 (1979).

Pupil-Instruction-Related Days Counted in ANB: Pupil-instruction-related days may be counted in computing the ANB number pursuant to administrative regulation interpreting 20-1-304. 37 A.G. Op. 160 (1978).

District School Board — Nonprofit Corporation: School board trustees have only those powers expressed or implied by law, and since the general powers and duties of school board trustees neither expressly nor impliedly give school trustees the authority to incorporate, a district school board may not incorporate under the Montana Nonprofit Corporation Act. 35 A.G. Op. 47 (1973).

Amendment effective July 1, 2007.

Applicability: Section 32, Ch. 1, Sp. L. May 2007, provided: "[This act] applies to school district budgets for fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2007."

2005 Amendment: Chapter 138 in (1) in second sentence after "least" deleted "180 school days of pupil instruction and", before "1,050" deleted "175 days and", and before "360" deleted "90 days and"; deleted former (3) that read: "(3) To calculate the number of equivalent school days of pupil instruction when providing less than the minimum number of hours of instruction provided in subsections (1) and (2), a school district shall:

(a) determine the aggregate hours of pupil instruction by grade level;

(b) divide the aggregate hours of pupil instruction for each grade level by the minimum hours a day for that grade level provided in 20-1-302; and

(c) round the result down to the nearest whole number"; in (3) near beginning after "least" deleted "180 school days of pupil instruction and", substituted "as listed" for "as defined", and at end after "year" substituted "by two times an hourly rate, as calculated by the office of public instruction, for the aggregate hours missed" for "by 1/90th for each school day less than 180 school days as calculated in subsection (3) or by 1/90th for each calendar day less than the minimum school days required by subsection (1), whichever is greater"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 138, L. 2005, provided: "WHEREAS, the Public School Renewal Commission in its final report to the Education and Local Government Interim Committee recommended by consensus that school districts be given more flexibility in setting their school calendars; and

WHEREAS, while the Education and Local Government Interim Committee fully endorsed the recommendation, the timing of the Commission's report failed to provide the Committee with sufficient time to prepare and sponsor legislation for the 2005 legislative session; and

WHEREAS, while the Committee was unable to request the legislation to implement the Commission's recommendation as a committee bill, this bill has the full support of the Committee."

2001 Amendment: Chapter 237 in (1) near middle of second sentence after "sufficient" deleted "as provided in 20-9-313"; in (3) before "school days" inserted "equivalent" and after "instruction" inserted "when providing less than the minimum number of hours of instruction provided in subsections (1) and (2)"; in (4) near beginning inserted reference to subsection (1) and at end inserted "or by 1/90th for each calendar day less than the minimum school days required by subsection (1), whichever is greater"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001, and applies to school budgets for the school fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

1997 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 22 near middle of third sentence, after "reduce the", substituted "direct state aid" for "county equalization as defined in 20-9-334 and the state equalization as defined in 20-9-343"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Chapter 42 in third sentence, after "state equalization", inserted "aid"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 12, 1997.

Chapter 430 in second sentence in (1) and in (4), after "instruction", inserted "and the minimum aggregate hours defined in subsection (2)"; in second sentence in (1), after "175 days", inserted "and 1,050 aggregate hours" and after "20-9-313" substituted language regarding minimum pupil- instruction days and aggregate hours required for kindergarten program for "or unless a variance for kindergarten has been granted under 20-1-302 or a district is granted a variance under the provisions of chapter 9, part 8, of this title"; inserted (2) outlining required minimum aggregate hours by grade; inserted (3) concerning calculation of pupil-instruction days; at end of (4), after "days", inserted "as calculated in subsection (3)"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Style changes in the chapters were slightly different. In each case, the codifier chose the most appropriate text.

1983 Amendment: In last sentence, substituted "For any elementary or high school district" for "Any district" and "the superintendent of public instruction shall reduce the county equalization as defined in 20-9-334 and the state equalization as defined in 20-9-343 for the district for that school year by 1/90th for each school day less than 180 school days." for "shall not be entitled to receive any apportionment of the state interest and income funds. Any such forfeited moneys shall be apportioned by the county superintendent to the other elementary districts of his county."

1981 Amendment: Inserted "except that 175 days of pupil instruction for graduating seniors may be sufficient as provided in 20-9-313, or" after "At least 180 school days of pupil instruction shall be conducted during each school fiscal year" in the first sentence.

Case Notes

Construction — Ambiguities: This section is ambiguous in that it provides that a high school district may provide 175 days of instruction for graduating seniors (see 2005 amendment) but states that if a district fails to provide at least 180 days of instruction it is not entitled to interest and income money (decided prior to 1983 amendment). Missoula High School Legal Defense Ass'n v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 196 M 106, 637 P2d 1188, 38 St. Rep. 2164 (1981).

Construction With Other Statutes — Conflicts: This section's provision that "Any district that fails to provide for at least 180 school days of pupil instruction shall not be entitled to receive any apportionment of the state interest and income funds. Any such forfeited moneys shall be apportioned by the county superintendent to the other elementary districts of his county" (quoted language amended 1983) is obviously ambiguous as to whether it applies to high school districts or only to elementary school districts. Since 20-9-805 provides that for each day short of the minimum school days required by law, for which a district is not entitled to apportionment credit, the equalization apportionment and entitlement of the district for that year shall be reduced by 1/180th, and since the interest and income funds referred to in this section are integrated with the equalization funds, the two sections are so conflicting that they require legislative review and revision; and in the meantime, since they are penal statutes, courts are powerless to apply them. Therefore, a high school that held 18 days less than the required 180-day minimum due to a teacher strike was entitled to its interest and income money regardless of the statutes. Missoula High School Legal Defense Ass'n v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 196 M 106, 637 P2d 1188, 38 St. Rep. 2164 (1981).

20-1-302. School term, day, and week.

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 138 in (1) substituted current language requiring trustees, subject to 20-1-301, 20-1-308, and collective bargaining agreements covering employment, to set number of days in school term, length of day, and number of school days in school week and report them to superintendent of public instruction for former text that read: "Subject to 20-1-308, a school day of pupil instruction must be at least 2 hours for kindergartens, at least 4 hours for grades 1 through 3, and at least 6 hours for grades 4 through 12. The number of hours in 1 school day may be reduced at the discretion of the trustees if the total number of pupil-instruction hours in the school year is not less than the minimum aggregate hours required in 20-1-301"; inserted (2) requiring trustees when proposing changes to school term, week, or day to negotiate changes with recognized bargaining unit, solicit input from affected employees, and solicit input from people living in school district; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 138, L. 2005, provided: "WHEREAS, the Public School Renewal Commission in its final report to the Education and Local Government Interim Committee recommended by consensus that school districts be given more flexibility in setting their school calendars; and

WHEREAS, while the Education and Local Government Interim Committee fully endorsed the recommendation, the timing of the Commission's report failed to provide the Committee with sufficient time to prepare and sponsor legislation for the 2005 legislative session; and

WHEREAS, while the Committee was unable to request the legislation to implement the Commission's recommendation as a committee bill, this bill has the full support of the Committee."

1997 Amendment: Chapter 430 in first sentence, after "kindergartens", deleted "and all other preschool programs, unless a variance has been granted by the superintendent of public instruction in accordance with the policies of the board of public education"; in second sentence, after "day", substituted language authorizing reduction in hours by trustees if hours not less than minimum aggregate hours for "for grades 4 through 12 may be reduced by 1 hour if the total number of hours in the school week is not less than 30 hours. The number of hours in a school week may be reduced, in an emergency, with the approval of the board of public education"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

20-1-305. School holidays.

"School Holidays" and "Legal Holidays": School district employees, nonteaching and teaching alike, throughout the state of Montana, are entitled to days off on those holidays enumerated in 20-1-305, rather than the holidays of 1-1-216. School district employees are therefore entitled only to days off on New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, and state and national election days when the school building is a polling place and school functions will interfere with the election process. 37 A.G. Nonteaching School Employees — Public Employees: Nonteaching school district employees are public employees and thus entitled to the legal holidays enumerated in 1-1-216 just as are all other public employees. They are not entitled to the school holidays enumerated in 20-1-305. 37 A.G. Op. 96 (1977), overruling, in part, 36 A.G. Op. 105 (1976).

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 527, L. 1999, provided: "WHEREAS, as part of the state's educational guarantees, the people of Montana in 1972 included Article X, section 1(2), in the state constitution, recognizing the distinct and unique cultural heritage of American Indians and expressing the state's commitment to preserve that cultural integrity through education; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that Article X, section 9(2), of the Montana Constitution provides the Board of Regents with full power, responsibility, and authority to supervise, coordinate, manage, and control the Montana University System; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature also recognizes that Article X, section 9(3), of the Montana Constitution provides the Board of Public Education with general supervision over the public school system and that Article X, section 8, of the Montana Constitution vests the supervision and control of the schools in each school district to the local board of trustees; and

WHEREAS, a 1995 study conducted by the Committee on Indian Affairs [now Law and Justice Interim Committee], pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 11, revealed that despite the constitution's educational guarantees, many school districts and schools, including those adjacent to Montana's seven Indian reservations, had no policy or information in their school curricula recognizing the cultural heritage of American Indians and that the small number of Indian teachers and administrators in public schools resulted in Indian students with no role models and in a lack of cultural awareness and sensitivity among non-Indian students; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that the history of Montana and the current problems of the state cannot be adequately understood and the problems cannot be addressed unless both Indians and non-Indians have an understanding of the history, culture, and contemporary contributions of Montana's Indian people."

Effective Date: Section 7, Ch. 527, L. 1999, provided: "[This act] [20-1-501 through 20-1-503] is effective on passage and approval." Approved April 29, 1999.

Indian Studies Requirement for Teachers a Local Matter: Prior to the 1979 amendments, 20-4-213 absolutely required that teachers in schools on or near Indian reservations complete a course in American Indian studies. After amendment, the Indian studies requirement was no longer mandatory but rather became discretionary with the local school board. The Legislature provided that any Indian studies requirement must be a local district requirement with enforcement and administration solely the responsibility of the local board of trustees. Therefore, the State Board of Education did not have the authority to require that all certified teachers complete six inservice credits in Indian studies. 39 A.G. Op. 11 (1981).

Case Notes

Complaint of School Use of Indian Mascots — Montana Commission for Human Rights Proper Forum for Claim of Unlawful Discrimination: Dupuis brought a discrimination claim against a reservation school district for using mascots allegedly degrading to Indian students. Without ruling on whether the use of the mascots was degrading, the Supreme Court held that Dupuis's remedy for a human dignity and racial discrimination case was to bring a claim before the Montana Commission for Human Rights before bringing an action in District Court.

Failure to exhaust administrative remedies precluded the Supreme Court's consideration of the discrimination claims. Dupuis v. Ronan School District No. 30, 2006 MT 3, 330 M 232, 128 P3d 1010 (2006).

No Right to Appeal School District Policy to County Superintendent Absent Contested Case: A parent did not agree with a school board's decision to retain images of Indian mascots in a reservation middle school gymnasium and appealed the decision to the County Superintendent. The District Court held that the superintendent did not have authority to hear the matter, and on appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. Disagreement with a school board's decision does not automatically rise to the level of a contested case, and nothing in this section creates a privately enforceable right or confers jurisdiction on a County Superintendent to hear a matter absent a constitutional or statutory right to a hearing. Sections Not Codified: Section 75-5617, R.C.M. 1947, reassigning certain duties of various education boards to the Board of Public Education and to the Board of Regents, and section 75-5618, R.C.M. 1947, providing for the transition of power from the Board of Education to the Board of Public Education and the Board of Regents, have not been codified in the MCA because both sections were of a temporary nature and the names of boards affected have since been changed by the Code Commissioner to reflect the new educational boards created by the 1972 Constitution. However, these sections have not been repealed and are still valid law. Citation may be made to sec. 9, Ch. 344, L. 1973, as amended by Ch. 434, L. 1975, and sec. 10, Ch. 344, L. 1973, respectively.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 633 in (3) substituted "BASE" for "state equalization". Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 385, L. 1991, provided: "WHEREAS, the Legislature, not the Executive Branch, is the lawmaking branch of the state government under the Montana Constitution; and

(4) procurement of testing data;
(5) provisions for confidentiality of test results;

(7) other provisions that the board considers vital to the student assessment program."

Exemption From Fiscal Note Process: Section 3, Ch. 377, L. 1987, provided: "For the purposes of this act, the board of public education is exempt from the fiscal note provisions of 20-2-115 [now repealed]." Chapter 377, L. 1987, authorized the Board to adopt student assessment rules.

Preamble: Chapter 377, L. 1987, which amended this section, contained the following preamble: "WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that the Board of Public Education has the duty, as provided in Article X, section 9, of the Montana Constitution to exercise general supervision over the public school system in Montana; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the value of measuring the academic performance of Montana schools and of assessing student performance in comparison to: education costs per student; student performance levels in other states and the nation; and, most importantly, Montana education achievement goals."

1983 Amendments: Chapter 94 inserted (10) relating to issuance of documents certifying equivalency of completion of secondary education.

Chapter 312 inserted (11) relating to programs for the gifted and talented.

Gifted and Talented — 1983 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 196 (Ch. 312, L. 1983) provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Board of Public Education to adopt policies for programs serving gifted and talented children.

It is contemplated that the rules will address the following:

(a) a policy statement fostering development of programs serving the gifted and talented;

(b) acknowledgment of the provisions in 20-7-904, MCA, regarding review of programs by the Superintendent of Public Instruction; and

(c) an annual review of services to gifted and talented children by the Board of Public Education."

Case Notes

Accreditation Standard Mandating Gifted and Talented Program Within Board's Constitutional Powers of "General Supervision": After the Board of Public Education refused to amend its rule requiring all districts to identify and provide programs for gifted and talented students, the Legislature, claiming the rule conflicted with 20-7-902, which authorized rather than mandated gifted and talented programs, enacted House Bill No. 116 (1991) at the request of the Administrative Code Committee (now appropriate administrative rule review committee) to repeal the rule. In invalidating House Bill No. 116, the District Court held that the Board, pursuant to its exercise of general supervision powers under Art. X, sec. 9(3), of the Montana Constitution, is vested with constitutional rulemaking authority that is self-executing and independent of any power delegated to the Board by the Legislature. Bd. of Pub. Educ. v. Administrative Code Comm., Cause No. BDV-91-1072 (1992), First Judicial District, Lewis & Clark County.

Clarification of Findings Regarding Statewide Accreditation Standards: The Supreme Court amended certain District Court findings and conclusions regarding statewide accreditation standards adopted by the Board of Public Education to clarify that: (1) the minimum standards do not fully define a quality education; (2) the Montana school accreditation standards are minimum standards upon which quality education must be built; and (3) the standards do not fully define either the constitutional rights of students or the constitutional responsibilities of the state for funding its public and elementary schools. School District v. St., 236 M 44, 769 P2d 684, 46 St. Rep. 169 (1989).

Attorney General's Opinions

Small Transit-Type Bus Considered School Bus — National School Bus Standards Applicable: Under the definition in 20-10-101, a small, transit-type bus that is smaller than a Greyhound bus but larger than a nine-passenger van is a school bus and may not be used to transport students to extracurricular activities unless it meets the standards contained in the 1990 National Standards for School Buses, including paint requirements, adopted by the Board of Public Education. 45 A.G. Op. 30 (1994).

Rule Requiring Every School District to Provide Educational Services to Gifted and Talented Children Invalid: The adoption of this section did not provide a statutory grant of authority to the Board of Public Education to require the creation of gifted and talented children programs. Rather, 20-7-902 makes the creation of gifted and talented children programs optional for individual school districts. Therefore, ARM 10.55.804, promulgated pursuant to the Board's statutory authority to adopt accreditation standards and making the creation of such programs mandatory, conflicts with 20-7-902 and is thus invalid. 44 A.G. Op. 4 (1991). (See case note Bd. of Pub. Educ. v. Administrative Code Comm. at this section.)

Indian Studies Requirement for Teachers a Local Matter: Prior to the 1979 amendments, 20-4-213 (now repealed) absolutely required that teachers in schools on or near Indian reservations complete a course in American Indian studies. After amendment, the Indian studies requirement was no longer mandatory but rather became discretionary with the local school board. The Legislature provided that any Indian studies requirement must be a local district requirement with enforcement and administration solely the responsibility of the local board of trustees. Therefore, the State Board of Education did not have the authority to require that all certified teachers complete six inservice credits in Indian studies. 39 A.G. Op. 11 (1981).

Case Notes

Teaching Contract Precluding Property Interest in Employment: Talley contended that he had a property right in his position as a part-time instructor at Flathead Valley Community College and that the property interest required that he be given notice and a hearing before termination. The Supreme Court has recognized that a property interest in one's position must be created by existing rules and regulations, state laws, or understandings between employer and employee, but in Talley's case, the employment contract specifically precluded any property right by stating that acceptance of the contract conferred no right to or credit toward tenure or other permanent faculty status. Talley's subjective belief that he had a property interest in his job did not create such an interest because a subjective expectancy can create no constitutionally protected interest. Talley v. Flathead Valley Community College, 259 M 479, 857 P2d 701, 50 St. Rep. 889 (1993).

"At-Will" Employee — Notice Not Necessary — Due Process Protections Not Necessary: Plaintiff, a school janitor, provided no evidence that his employment had any specified term. Therefore, he was an "at-will" employee, had no property interest in his job, and was not entitled to notice prior to termination under 39-2-503 (now repealed) or under school policy. Medicine Horse v. Trustees, Big Horn County School District No. 27, 251 M 65, 823 P2d 230, 48 St. Rep. 1074 (1991), overruled, to the extent that the Wrongful Discharge From Employment Act has superseded and impliedly repealed the at-will employment provisions for nonprobationary employees, in Whidden v. John S. Nerison, Inc., 1999 MT 110, 294 M 346, 981 P2d 271, 56 St. Rep. 456 (1999), and distinguished in Boreen v. Christensen, 267 M 405, 884 P2d 761, 51 St. Rep. 1014 (1994).

School Controversy — MAPA Statute of Limitations Not Applicable: After the Superintendent of Public Instruction issued an order to reinstate plaintiff to her teaching position, trustees filed a petition for judicial review after expiration of the 30-day period allowed under 2-4-702 for judicial review following a final agency decision but prior to expiration of the 60-day period allowed for judicial review of a decision to terminate a tenured teacher made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The Supreme Court reversed and remanded the District Court's order granting a motion to dismiss plaintiff's petition for judicial review, holding that MAPA did not expressly or impliedly repeal the statute of limitations provided pursuant to this section and that the 60-day rule applied to a school controversy. Carbon County School District Trustees v. Spivey, 247 M 33, 805 P2d 61, 48 St. Rep. 79 (1991).

Failure to Request Reasons for Termination — Loss of Appeal Rights: Plaintiff was one of four nontenured teachers informed in writing in mid-April that her contract would not be renewed. The letter gave no reason for termination, but school board minutes reflected that the reason was financial, and allegedly all nontenured teachers were released in anticipation that the upcoming mill levy would not pass. Plaintiff therefore did not request reasons for termination within 10 days as required under 20-4-206. However, in June the levy did pass and all nontenured teachers were rehired except plaintiff, who appealed in July. Even in cases where financial conditions are the alleged reason for termination, nontenured teachers cannot assume this is the reason unless they request and receive written confirmation from the district trustees. Because plaintiff did not request confirmation, her chance for appeal passed while she waited to be rehired after the mill levy vote. Keller v. School District, 237 M 481, 774 P2d 409, 46 St. Rep. 986 (1989).

Additional Evidence Denied: In an appeal by a school district from an administrative order reinstating and compensating a discharged school principal, the District Court did not err in denying the school district's motion to order receipt of additional evidence. The court had properly determined that the Superintendent of Public Instruction correctly used his discretion when previously denying the school district's request to submit additional evidence. The affidavits in question were not subject to cross-examination and were of questionable quality. The county-level hearing was a thorough hearing, and the evidence supports the county-level decision. Pryor School District v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 218 M 73, 707 P2d 1094, 42 St. Rep. 1405 (1985).

Nonrenewal of Tenured Teacher's Contract — Scope of Review: A tenured teacher's contract was not renewed. A hearing was held by the board of trustees, which affirmed its decision not to renew the contract. The teacher appealed to the County Superintendent where he was given a trial de novo with witnesses and record evidence. The teacher then appealed to the State Superintendent based upon the record, and the State Superintendent upheld the decision. The teacher appealed to District Court based upon the record. The District Court reversed the administrative decision, and an appeal to the Supreme Court was made upon the record. The Supreme Court reversed the District Court, saying that the procedure to be used in this instance was identical to that for any other District Court decision involving an administrative decision. The District Court was not a trier of fact. The Supreme Court should not substitute its judgment for that of the County Superintendent as to the weight of the evidence on questions of fact. The Supreme Court may reverse or modify if the substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the administrative findings and conclusions are clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982), followed in Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

Failure to File Timely Appeal: Having failed to pursue his statutory administrative remedies within the time allowed by law, plaintiff's right to contest the termination of his employment as a tenured teacher was at an end. Gallup v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 172 M 400, 563 P2d 1139 (1977).

Constitutionality: This section violated neither Art. VII, sec. 4(2), nor Art. X, sec. 8, Mont. Const. School District v. Hughes, 170 M 267, 552 P2d 328 (1976).

Decision Subject to Judicial Review: While the Superintendent of Public Instruction has the power to "decide all appeals from the decisions of the county superintendent", his decision is subject to "adjudication or proper legal remedies in the state courts". Potter v. Miller, 145 M 197, 399 P2d 994 (1965).

Undue Hardship on Parents as Basis for Appeal: Where Superintendent of Public Instruction approved County Superintendent's attachment of abandoned territory to a contiguous district rather than to another more convenient one, thus requiring children to travel 14 miles farther each way to get to more overcrowded schools and working an "undue hardship" on both parents and children, this constituted sufficient facts for appeal from Superintendent of Public Instruction's decision. Potter v. Miller, 145 M 197, 399 P2d 994 (1965).

Dismissal Decision Void for Want of Jurisdiction — Certiorari Granted: Where an order of a board of trustees dismissing a District School Superintendent for cause was void because he had not been granted a hearing (a well-defined public policy declared by decisions of the Supreme Court), which order was reversed on appeal to the County Superintendent, whereupon the board appealed to the Superintendent of Public Instruction who found in favor of the board, the action of the board and the decision of the Superintendent were void for want of jurisdiction and certiorari would be granted. State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Exhaustion of Administrative Remedy Required: Where plaintiff teacher was dismissed by the board of school trustees and appealed the action of the board to the County Superintendent but failed to appeal the County Superintendent's unfavorable decision to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, plaintiff failed to exhaust remedies afforded by law, and since there was nothing in the record to show abuse of discretion on the part of school authorities, plaintiff was barred from court action against the school district for breach of contract. Kelsey v. School District, 84 M 453, 276 P 26 (1929), distinguished in McBride v. School District, 88 M 110, 290 P 252 (1930), explained in State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Appeal Not Barred by Correspondence With County Superintendent: An informal letter written by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to a County Superintendent based on correspondence between them relative to an order of the latter abolishing a school district and approving his action did not bar the State Superintendent from thereafter passing upon the same question when presented upon a formal appeal from the County Superintendent's decision. State ex rel. School District v. Trumper, 69 M 468, 222 P 1064 (1924).

Jurisdiction of Superintendent Presumed: In the absence of an affirmative showing of want of jurisdiction in the Superintendent of Public Instruction on appeal from a decision of a County Superintendent, jurisdiction and regularity of the proceedings will be presumed; and so long as the former acts legally and within the powers expressly conferred, courts will not interfere by certiorari. State ex rel. School District v. Trumper, 69 M 468, 222 P 1064 (1924).

Unless the officeholder has the qualifications of subsection (2), he shall, with the approval of the governing body, contract for the services of a person with those qualifications to perform the duties required of county superintendents in counties where the office has not been consolidated."

(2) If a contract was entered into under the provisions of this section, as it read prior to the 1985 amendment, and the contract extends into the next term of the officer set forth in subsection (1), then upon the expiration of such contract.

Attorney General's Opinions

County Superintendent Under Contract With Another County — Entitled to Additional Compensation: Unless specifically prohibited by law, a public officer is entitled to additional compensation for the rendition of services beyond those required by the duties associated with his office. Therefore, a qualified County Superintendent who enters into a contractual agreement pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, to provide services in a county lacking a qualified County Superintendent, is entitled to additional compensation. Section 20-3-212 is limited by its terms to instances in which an otherwise qualified County Superintendent is disqualified from hearing or deciding contested matters and has no application to contracts under this section. 43 A.G. Op. 69 (1990). However, see 54 A.G. Op. 1 (2011), holding that a County Superintendent who is serving as a substitute superintendent is not allowed to charge hourly fees in addition to the regular salary paid by the county in which the County Superintendent is elected since serving as a substitute is part of the statutory job responsibilities.

Case Notes

Restraining or Enforcing Actions of School Boards by County Superintendent: A County Superintendent may restrain the improper exercise of ministerial powers by school boards by injunction or enforce their proper exercise through mandamus even though he is not a taxpayer within the particular district involved, and he need not, as a private citizen must, show a personal interest in the controversy. State ex rel. Hoagland v. School District, 116 M 294, 151 P2d 168 (1944).

Authority of County Superintendent to Change District Boundaries: There was no authority on the part of the County Superintendent or Board of County Commissioners, under the guise of defining boundaries, to reach out and include in an existing district noncontiguous tracts of land not included therein. The County Superintendent was authorized to make minor changes as necessary to make the boundaries definite and certain but not to change the boundaries of the existing district by attaching lands wherever situated in the county not a part of any school district. Administrative Rules

Title 10, chapter 6, ARM Rules of procedure for all school controversy contested cases before county superintendents.

Case Notes

No Material Facts in Dispute — County Superintendent May Grant Summary Judgment Without Evidentiary Hearing: A retired school administrator sued the school district for benefits he believed were owed to him under the terms of his employment contract. Without holding an evidentiary hearing, the county superintendent granted the school district summary judgment based on the unambiguous language of the contract. After appeals to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the District Court, the Supreme Court held that a county superintendent has authority to grant summary judgment without holding a hearing when there are no material issues in dispute. Anaconda Public Schools v. Whealon, 2012 MT 13, 363 Mont. 344, 268 P.3d 1258.

Failure to Exhaust Administrative Remedies — Dismissal for Failure to State Proper Claim for Relief Not Error: Plaintiff objected in District Court to a Missoula school district's sale of an unused public elementary school building to a Missoula Catholic school foundation. The court ruled that because the sale of the school was closed on May 6, 2005, but plaintiff's claim was not filed until April 11, 2006, the claim was barred by the 30-day statute of limitations in 2-3-114, so the court dismissed the claim. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed dismissal of the claim, but not on grounds that the statute of limitations was not met. Rather, plaintiff failed to exhaust its administrative remedies by appealing the school district's action to the county superintendent, as required in 20-3-210, so dismissal for failure to state a claim for which relief could be granted was not erroneous. Good Schools Missoula, Inc. v. Missoula County Pub. School Dist. No. 1, 2008 MT 231, 344 M 374, 188 P3d 1013 (2008).

County Superintendent Review De Novo — Consideration of Other Evidence Allowed: Phillips, a tenured teacher in English and art in the Madison School District, was terminated by the trustees upon recommendation of the District Superintendent. Phillips appealed the decision to the County Superintendent and introduced evidence that the termination was based upon a personality conflict with the District Superintendent. Phillips also introduced financial evidence that the district's reserve held enough money to maintain her employment. The State Superintendent held that the financial information was improperly considered. The Supreme Court held that because the hearing before the County Superintendent was a de novo hearing, the County Superintendent could consider any relevant evidence. The Supreme Court affirmed the District Court's findings. Phillips v. Madison School District No. 7, 263 M 336, 867 P2d 1104, 51 St. Rep. 29 (1994).

Concurrent Proceedings Not Precluded: A terminated teacher filed an appeal pursuant to this section. The teacher's union filed a grievance, alleging that the termination was a violation of the collective bargaining agreement. The school superintendent refused to process the grievance pending the teacher's statutory appeal. When the teacher dismissed the statutory appeal, the union filed an action to compel arbitration of the grievance pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act and the collective bargaining agreement. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that nothing in the teacher's collective bargaining agreement or in the election of remedies law precludes concurrent proceedings on the termination. Frazer Educ. Ass'n v. Valley County School District No. 2, 256 M 223, 846 P2d 267, 50 St. Rep. 41 (1993).

Estoppel Barring Issue of Teacher and Union Pursuing Separate Claims in Separate Forums: A terminated tenured union teacher filed an appeal under this section at the same time the teacher's union filed a grievance alleging violation of the collective bargaining agreement. Unsatisfied with results at prior steps of the grievance procedure, the union requested arbitration, to which the school district refused to submit. Instead, the school district petitioned for an injunction to compel the union and the teacher to elect one forum in which to pursue their legal claims. The District Court denied the injunction, allowing both forums to proceed, and the school district did not appeal. Because these circumstances fulfilled the elements of the doctrine of collateral estoppel, namely that the issue had been decided in a prior adjudication, a final judgment was issued. Because the party against whom the plea was asserted was a party in the prior adjudication, the school district was estopped from further litigation on the issue of separate forums. Colstrip Faculty Ass'n, MEA/NEA v. Trustees, School District No. 19, 251 M 309, 824 P2d 1008, 49 St. Rep. 43 (1992).

Breach of Contract Disputes to Be Handled Administratively: The plaintiff brought an action in District Court alleging breach of the collective bargaining agreement. The Supreme Court ruled that the issue had to be submitted for administrative review before it could be filed in the lower court. The court overruled its holding in McBride v. School District No. 1, 88 M 110, 290 P 252 (1930). Canyon Creek Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 241 M 73, 785 P2d 201, 47 St. Rep. 93 (1990).

Consideration of Written and Videotaped Testimony at De Novo Hearing: A dismissed teacher claimed he was wrongfully deprived of his right to a de novo hearing because the County Superintendent considered transcripts and videotaped testimony taken during the school board hearing. However, the testimony was admissible under 20-4-612(2) because it expedited disposition of the issue without substantial prejudice to the teacher. Johnson v. Bd. of Trustees, 236 M 532, 771 P2d 137, 46 St. Rep. 598 (1989).

Seeking of Money Judgment Not Dispositive of Agency Jurisdiction: A County Superintendent of Schools improperly dismissed a district board of trustees' decision denying a claim for retirement benefits by a contract administrator after determining that a Superintendent did not have jurisdiction because it was a claim for breach of contract and not a controversy intended to be heard under this section. The Supreme Court remanded, holding that the seeking of a money judgment was not the dispositive factor in determining the educational agency's jurisdiction over a matter and that this section fully contemplated a hearing on the controversy. Throssell v. Bd. of Trustees, 232 M 497, 757 P2d 348, 45 St. Rep. 1228 (1988).

Nonrenewal of Tenured Teacher's Contract — Scope of Review: A tenured teacher's contract was not renewed. A hearing was held by the board of trustees, which affirmed its decision not to renew the contract. The teacher appealed to the County Superintendent where he was given a trial de novo with witnesses and record evidence. The teacher then appealed to the State Superintendent based upon the record, and the State Superintendent upheld the decision. The teacher appealed to District Court based upon the record. The District Court reversed the administrative decision, and an appeal to the Supreme Court was made upon the record. The Supreme Court reversed the District Court, saying that the procedure to be used in this instance was identical to that for any other District Court decision involving an administrative decision. The District Court was not a trier of fact. The Supreme Court should not substitute its judgment for that of the County Superintendent as to the weight of the evidence on questions of fact. The Supreme Court may reverse or modify if the substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the administrative findings and conclusions are clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982), followed in Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

Constitutionality: This section violated neither Art. VII, sec. 4(2), nor Art. X, sec. 8, Mont. Const. School District v. Hughes, 170 M 267, 552 P2d 328 (1976).

Attorney General's Opinions

Disqualification Peremptory — County Superintendent's Control of Timeliness: The affidavit of disqualification of a County School Superintendent in a school controversy is peremptory. Requirements regarding timeliness and sufficiency of the affidavit under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act do not apply to proceedings conducted by the County Superintendent of Schools under Title 20; however, the timeliness of the affidavit may be controlled by the officer presiding over the hearing. 42 A.G. Op. 86 (1988).

Former County Superintendent Not to Conduct Hearings: A former County Superintendent of Schools may not be hired by a county to conduct hearings involving disputes of teachers and school boards. 41 A.G. Op. 71 (1986).

Transcript Not Waivable: The parties to a controversy before a county school transportation committee may not waive the making of a transcript in the absence of rules providing for appeal without a transcript promulgated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a transcript, although not necessarily a verbatim stenographic report, is required by 20-3-107 and 20-10-132 on an appeal to the Superintendent from a decision of a county school transportation committee. 35 A.G. Op. 53 (1973).

"Hearing" Synonymous With "Trial": An appeal before the County Superintendent of Schools is an original proceeding and de novo consideration of a controversy and not merely a review of a decision by a school board. 35 A.G. Op. 42 (1973).

20-3-212. The county superintendent to appoint another county superintendent.

Attorney General's Opinions

County Superintendent Under Contract With Another County — Entitled to Additional Compensation: Unless specifically prohibited by law, a public officer is entitled to additional compensation for the rendition of services beyond those required by the duties associated with his office. Therefore, a qualified County Superintendent who enters into a contractual agreement pursuant to 20-3-201(3), to provide services in a county lacking a qualified County Superintendent, is entitled to additional compensation. This section is limited by its terms to instances in which an otherwise qualified County Superintendent is disqualified from hearing or deciding contested matters and has no application to contracts under 20-3-201. 43 A.G. Op. 69 (1990). However, see 54 A.G. Op. 1 (2011), holding that a County Superintendent who is serving as a substitute superintendent is not allowed to charge hourly fees in addition to the regular salary paid by the county in which the County Superintendent is elected since serving as a substitute is part of the statutory job responsibilities.

Student Representation on Board of Trustees: HJR 26 of the 49th Legislature provided: "WHEREAS, the Legislature and the Montana education community recognize that the most valuable resource for achieving "excellence in education" in Montana is the student; and

WHEREAS, student representation on local school boards has never been implemented on a statewide basis, although the Board of Public Education and the Board of Regents currently have active student members on their respective boards; and

WHEREAS, the educational process dominates a large part of the life of a school-age person, and as a citizen, that person should be allowed representation in the major decisions governing the educational process; and

WHEREAS, when students feel that they have influence over their environment and that their opinions are respected, the result is an atmosphere of greater trust, civility, and mutual respect; and

WHEREAS, through involvement in the decisionmaking process of a school district, the student is not only contributing valuable input not otherwise available, but is also receiving first-hand knowledge of the governmental process and the educational process; and

WHEREAS, students are deeply concerned about the education they are receiving and wish to present their views on educational reform.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

(1) That the Legislature stands strongly in favor of student representation on each school district board of trustees.

(2) That the Legislature urges each school district board of trustees in the state to appoint a nonvoting student member to the board to represent the student body of the school district.

(3) That the executive secretary of the Board of Public Education, the executive secretary of the Montana Association of Student Councils, and a member of the Office of Public Instruction meet and confer to define the role of the student member by using as a guideline the existing policy set by the Board of Public Education regarding student representation.

(4) That copies of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to:

(a) each local school board chairman in the State of Montana;

(b) each accredited public high school in the State of Montana; and

(c) the Montana Congressional Delegation."

Part Attorney General's Opinions

Office of County Commissioner Incompatible With Office of School Trustee: The current nature and duties of the offices of County Commissioner and county high school trustee could give rise to possible conflicts of governmental interest if one person were to retain both offices simultaneously. The Attorney General affirmed the decision in 8 A.G. Op. at 402 (1920), holding that the offices are incompatible in light of the fact that under state law a County Commissioner has certain supervisory powers over a school trustee. However, nothing in state law prohibits an individual from holding one of these offices while seeking the other. 42 A.G. Op. 94 (1988).

Case Notes

Constitutionality of Designation of Trustees: Section designating trustees of districts established under act relating to participation in public works programs by high school districts was not a denial of due process for failure to provide for election of trustees. Unless the state constitution provides otherwise, the Legislature may provide for the choosing of the board of trustees of a school district as it sees fit. Lorang v. High School District, 126 M 204, 247 P2d 477 (1952).

Attorney General's Opinions

District School Board — Nonprofit Corporation: School board trustees have only those powers expressed or implied by law, and since the general powers and duties of school board trustees neither expressly nor impliedly give school trustees the authority to incorporate, a district school board may not incorporate under the Montana Nonprofit Corporation Act. 35 A.G. Op. 47 (1973).

2005 Amendment: Chapter 510 in (2)(a) at beginning after "consolidation" inserted "under the provisions of 20-6-423", after "elementary district" deleted "under the provisions of 20-6-203 or the consolidation", and at end after "high school district" substituted "or of two or more K-12 districts to form a K-12 district" for "under the provisions of 20-6-315"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 510, L. 2005, provided: "WHEREAS, the Public School Renewal Commission in its final report to the Education and Local Government Interim Committee recommended by consensus that the consolidation statutes be clarified to eliminate any barriers to the voluntary consolidation of school districts; and

WHEREAS, while the Education and Local Government Interim Committee fully endorsed the recommendation, the timing of the Commission's report failed to provide the Committee with sufficient time to prepare and sponsor legislation for the 2005 Legislative Session; and

WHEREAS, while the Committee was unable to request the legislation to implement the Commission's recommendation as a committee bill, this bill has the full support of the Committee."

1997 Amendment: Chapter 219 in (1), at beginning of fourth sentence, deleted "high school districts operating a" and after "county high school" inserted "districts"; in (2) deleted former (a) that read: "the creation of a new elementary district under the provisions of 20-6-217"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 23, Ch. 219, L. 1997, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 1997, and applies to bonds issued on or after [the effective date of this act]."

1993 Amendment: Chapter 137 in (2) substituted introductory clause concerning newly created trustee positions for former language that read: "While it is the intention of the legislature that the terms of a majority of trustees of any district may not regularly expire and be subject to election at the same time, it is recognized that the following circumstances, relating to the terms of trustees appointed to newly created positions or to positions vacated by death, resignation, or operation of law, may lead to a subsequent school election in which a majority of trustee positions are subject to election at the same time"; in (2)(b), after "20-6-203", inserted "or the consolidation of two or more high school districts to form a high school district under the provisions of 20-6-315"; in (2)(d) substituted "or" for "and"; deleted former (2)(e) that read: "(e) the filling of a trustee position that has become vacant under the provisions of 20-3-308 or any other provision of law"; substituted (2)(f) concerning establishment of additional positions under 20-6-313 for former subsection that read: "(g) any other circumstance arising under the law wherein a trustee position is filled by appointment subject to election at the next regular school election"; inserted (3) requiring the elimination of positions to comply with subsection (1); inserted (4) clarifying legislative intent; and made minor changes in style.

1991 Amendment: At end of (2)(c), after "20-3-354", inserted "or new trustee positions under the provisions of 20-3-352(3)"; and made minor changes in style.

Case Notes

Conflicting Provisions: Section 1001, Revised Codes of 1921 (now repealed), apparently in conflict with section 998, Revised Codes of 1921 (now repealed), providing for appointment of trustee to fill vacancy, was intended to adjust the terms of school trustees so that the terms of a majority thereof should not expire at the same time, after which it had no further application to such district. State ex rel. Kuhl v. Kaiser, 95 M 550, 27 P2d 1113 (1933).

Ballot for Transitional Election Held Misleading: In a school district of the third class, the members of the board of trustees had been holding over for many years for failure to hold elections to choose their successors. An election was called, and the board, instead of pursuing the method of procedure under such circumstances prescribed by this section, i.e., selecting by lot one of its members to hold over for 1 year and one for 2 years and providing for the election of the third for the term of 3 years, furnished ballots providing for the election of three trustees for terms of 1, 2, and 3 years, respectively. Since there was only one trustee to be elected, the ballots furnished were so misleading as to render the election void. Jersey v. Peacock, 70 M 46, 223 P 903 (1924), distinguished in State ex rel. Kuhl v. Kaiser, 95 M 550, 27 P2d 1113 (1933).

20-3-303. Term of vacated trustee position after election.

Case Notes

Writ of Mandate Properly Issued to Compel Certification of Elected Trustees: Under this section, a school trustee appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold office only until the next annual school election at which a trustee shall be elected for the unexpired term. Two of three trustees for a district of the third class elected for 3-year terms expiring in 1934 and 1935 resigned. The board of trustees declined to call an election in the spring of 1933 to choose successors to the appointees on the theory that they held over for the respective terms. However, by the use of stickers, successors were elected at such election. The District Court properly granted a Writ of Mandate compelling the board of trustees to issue certificates of election to the persons elected to succeed the appointees. State ex rel. Kuhl v. Kaiser, 95 M 550, 27 P2d 1113 (1933).

Voter Registration Required of Elector Nominating School Trustee: An elector nominating a candidate for a school trustee position under subsection (2) of this section must be registered to vote at the time the nominating petition is filed. 43 A.G. Op. 24 (1989).

Office of County Commissioner Incompatible With Office of School Trustee: The current nature and duties of the offices of County Commissioner and county high school trustee could give rise to possible conflicts of governmental interest if one person were to retain both offices simultaneously. Case Notes

Sticker With Premarked "X" Not a Legal Marked Ballot: District Court erred in finding ballots valid where electors marked ballot with a printed sticker containing name of write-in candidate and premarked "x", without elector marking an "x" before the name of the printed sticker, as the statute calls for the voter to make his mark. An affirmative act is called for to signify his selection, not a premarked ballot mark of a printer. The provisions of Montana's election laws as to the marking of the ballot and use of stickers are mandatory and not directory. State ex rel. Browne v. District Court, 167 M 477, 539 P2d 1182 (1975).

Attorney General's Opinions

Marking of Ballot by Elector: The ballot of a qualified elector who writes in a name on the ballot but neglects to mark an "X" before that name must not be counted toward the election of the person whose name is written in. An elector may write in the blank spaces of a ballot the name of any person for whom he wishes to vote, but he only votes for that person by actually marking the square before that person's name. A mark other than an "X" within the square before a candidate's name, or an election issue, may be used to express an elector's choice on an election ballot if his intention is clear to the election officers. 35 A.G. Op. 87 (1974).

Case Notes

Member's Mere Presence or Participation as Public Citizen Not Sufficient to Constitute Quorum: A school budget subcommittee with three school board members met, and the meeting was noticed. A fourth school board member attended and sat in the audience but participated in the discussion. A newspaper filed suit, arguing that the meeting was improperly noticed as a subcommittee meeting when a full committee quorum was present and that the committee had taken actions authorized only for a full school board meeting. The Supreme Court held that the District Court had improperly granted summary judgment to the newspaper, noting that certain facts were in dispute. The Supreme Court further held that Montana statutes do not prohibit a member of a public body from observing or asking questions during a subcommittee meeting and that doing so does not constitute the convening of a quorum for purposes of the larger committee. Boulder Monitor v. Jefferson High School District No. 1, 2014 MT 5, 373 Mont. 212, 316 P.3d 848.

Open Meeting Law Applied — Collective Bargaining Exception Construed: Plaintiff was negotiating his salary with the school board. The board closed its meeting to discuss plaintiff's salary request. Plaintiff contacted counsel and began proceedings against the board for violating the open meeting law. The board met at another closed meeting and withdrew its offer of employment. The board contended it closed the meetings to discuss collective bargaining strategy under 2-3-203(3). In construing the term "collective bargaining", the court relied on the identical technical and legal definitions of the phrase. Collective bargaining is an activity involving the settling of disputes by negotiation between the employer and the representative of the employees. The board improperly closed the meetings since plaintiff was not acting on behalf of anyone else and the board's decision would not affect anyone else. Plaintiff had the right to be present at deliberations regarding his future. Jarussi v. Bd. of Trustees, 204 M 131, 664 P2d 316, 40 St. Rep. 720 (1983). The collective bargaining exception was declared unconstitutional in Great Falls Tribune Co., Inc. v. Great Falls Public Schools, 255 M 125, 841 P2d 502 (1992). See 1993 amendment to 2-3-203.

Special Meeting — Publication Not Mandated Under Open Meeting Law: At their regular meeting on March 10, 1981, the trustees announced that they had until April 1 to issue tenure contracts but that they had not yet made their final decisions. On March 12, the chairman contacted the clerk to tell her there would be a special meeting at 9 a.m. on March 14. The clerk contacted the local radio stations, which announced the meeting. The Board met and went into executive session. When plaintiff's contract was not renewed, she claimed the Board had violated the notice provisions of the open meeting law. The court held that the Montana open meeting law does not specifically mandate notice by publication. Publication is a method of proving notice. The obligation of the Montana open meeting law is to ensure that the public has ample opportunity to participate in decisions before final action is taken. The evidence in this case indicated that the opportunity was given. Sonstelie v. Bd. of Trustees, 202 M 414, 658 P2d 413, 40 St. Rep. 179 (1983).

Unlawful Rescission of Contract: The school board did not succeed in its attempt to rescind a consulting contract entered into with a retiring administrator because there was no regularly scheduled or special meeting held to discharge him. School District v. Driscoll, 173 M 492, 568 P2d 149 (1977).

Amendment of Letter of Dismissal: A letter amending a letter of dismissal need not be transacted at a meeting of the trustees but may instead be ratified and adopted at a meeting. Lindgren v. Bd. of Trustees, 171 M 360, 558 P2d 468 (1976).

Failure to Meet — Teacher's Discharge Unlawful: Where no meeting of the school board, either special or regular, was held prior to summary discharge of schoolteacher on ground of incompetency, board's dismissal was void for want of jurisdiction. Wyatt v. School District, 148 M 83, 417 P2d 221 (1966).

Dismissal of Teacher Based Upon Informal Meeting Held Unlawful: The notice of dismissal which must be given a tenured teacher is one based upon action by a majority of the board of trustees taken at a meeting thereof. Hence, where two of the three members of the board decided in casual conversations at their homes to dispense with the services of the teacher and notified her to that effect in writing, the notice was not the legal notice required and was insufficient to effect her dismissal. To give validity to the business of the board it must be transacted at a regular or special meeting, and the trustees must then act as a board. Day v. School District, 98 M 207, 38 P2d 595 (1934).

No School District Immunity for Entering Exclusive Commercial Contract for Sale of Products in School Facilities: The Great Falls school district adopted policies to enhance revenue from nontax sources and subsequently entered exclusive agreements with Coke and Pepsi to provide soft drinks in school facilities in exchange for $500,000 over a 10-year period. Plaintiff, which had supplied soft drinks to the district for almost 20 years, sued the school district, Coke, and Pepsi. The school district claimed immunity from suit pursuant to 2-9-111, asserting that adopting exclusive contracts constituted legislative actions resulting in the adoption of school board policies under this section. The Supreme Court agreed that 2-9-111 insulated the school district from legal challenge for its decision to enhance revenue from nontax sources by way of commercial engagements because the adoption of policies is a legislative act. However, administrative acts undertaken in the execution of the policies are not immunized under 2-9-111, so the school district was not immune from suit for entering the exclusive contracts. Mont. Vending, Inc. v. Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Mont., 2003 MT 282, 318 M 1, 78 P3d 499 (2003).

General Powers — Prescription of Books for District: Where the Legislature failed to make provision for a uniform series of textbooks throughout the state or to devolve the duty of doing so upon some officer or board, the trustees of a school district, under the general powers vested in them, and particularly the statutory power of the board "to prescribe and enforce rules not inconsistent with law, or those prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction, for their own government of schools under their supervision", could prescribe books for the schools of the district. WHEREAS, veteran groups in Montana have demonstrated a willingness to donate flags to any school requesting flags."

1991 Amendment: In (8) substituted reference to budget amendment for reference to emergency budget; in (10), after "program", inserted "permissive" and before "reserve" substituted "operating" for "cash"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective May 15, 1991.

Case Notes

Lack of Standing of Person Who Fails to Allege Personal Interest or Injury: Fleenor brought an action for violation of her right to know and right to participate in a school district's decision to hire a new superintendent on grounds that she was not properly notified of votes. The suit was brought by Fleenor as a citizen of Montana and resident of the county and the school district. The District Court dismissed the suit for lack of standing, and Fleenor appealed, asserting that standing existed by virtue of her status as an interested party and that a liberal interpretation of the constitution regarding a citizen's right to know and participate included anyone with an interest in enforcing the broad constitutional policies and protections. The Supreme Court disagreed. To establish standing, a complaining party must clearly allege a past, present, or threatened injury to a property right or a civil right and allege that the injury is personal to the claimant and distinguishable from injury to the public generally. Additionally, the challenged action must result in a concrete adverseness personal to the party staking a claim in the outcome. However, simply being an informed and interested citizen is insufficient to confer standing. Fleenor made no assertion of injury and did not establish a personal, concrete adverseness that would result from the school district's action and thus failed to meet the threshold for establishing standing. The District Court was affirmed. Fleenor v. Darby School District, 2006 MT 31, 331 M 124, 128 P3d 1048 (2006), following Flesh v. Bd. of Trustees, 241 M 158, 786 P2d 4 (1990), Carter v. Dept. of Transportation, 274 M 39, 905 P2d 1102 (1995), and Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002), followed in Lohmeier v. Gallatin County, 2006 MT 88, 332 M 39, 135 P3d 775 (2006), and followed, with regard to criteria to establish standing, in Bd. of Trustees, Cut Bank Pub. Schools v. Cut Bank Pioneer Press, 2007 MT 115, 337 M 229, 160 P3d 482 (2007). Fleenor was overruled in Schoof v. Nesbit, 2014 MT 6, 373 Mont. 226, 316 P.3d 831, to the extent Fleenor requires a plaintiff in a right to know or right to participate case to allege an injury beyond failure to receive notice or to allege a personal stake in a particular governmental decision for purposes of establishing standing to pursue a claim.

No School District Immunity for Entering Exclusive Commercial Contract for Sale of Products in School Facilities: The Great Falls school district adopted policies to enhance revenue from nontax sources and subsequently entered exclusive agreements with Coke and Pepsi to provide soft drinks in school facilities in exchange for $500,000 over a 10-year period. Plaintiff, which had supplied soft drinks to the district for almost 20 years, sued the school district, Coke, and Pepsi. The school district claimed immunity from suit pursuant to 2-9-111, asserting that adopting exclusive contracts constituted legislative actions resulting in the adoption of school board policies under 20-3-323. The Supreme Court agreed that 2-9-111 insulated the school district from legal challenge for its decision to enhance revenue from nontax sources by way of commercial engagements because the adoption of policies is a legislative act. However, administrative acts undertaken in the execution of the policies are not immunized under 2-9-111, so the school district was not immune from suit for entering the exclusive contracts. Mont. Vending, Inc. v. Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Mont., 2003 MT 282, 318 M 1, 78 P3d 499 (2003).

Dissemination of Incomplete Document Used to Make Decision — Right to Participate Entails Complying With Right to Know: A school district assembled a group of people to research and advise the district on the closure of schools, and a member of the group summarized the closure research information on a computer-generated spreadsheet and delivered various versions of the spreadsheet to various people and groups. The version given the school district contained a system rating the schools and explaining the rating system, but the group of parents that plaintiff belonged to was given a version not containing the rating system when a member of the group requested a copy. The school district told the group that a spreadsheet comparing the schools did not exist. The spreadsheet was a document of a public body subject to public inspection prior to the time that the school district's board met and used the spreadsheet to help determine which schools to close. The school district violated plaintiff's right to examine public documents. At a minimum, the "reasonable opportunity" standard articulated in Art. II, sec. 8, Mont. Const., and 2-3-111 for the right to participate demands compliance with the right to know contained in Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. When the school district violated plaintiff's right to know, it reduced what should have been a genuine interchange into a mere formality. Bryan could and did voice her opinion to the school district, but did so without the ratings information contained on the version of the spreadsheet used by the school district. Therefore, the school district also violated her Art. II, sec. 8, Mont. Const., right of participation. The Supreme Court stated that this violation tainted the entire process from start to finish and ruled that the school district's closure decision was void. The court stated that on remand, the school district should allow plaintiff an opportunity to rebut the closure decision and should then reexamine the decision and affirm or modify it. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002).

School District Advisory Group as Public or Governmental Body: A school district assembled a group of people to research and advise the district on the closure of schools. The Legislature has given a school district the power to close schools. Therefore, the advisory group assumed the identity of the district with respect to the closure question and performed a legislatively designated governmental function that served a clear public and governmental purpose, and the advisory group was a public or governmental body subject to Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002).

Standing of Parent When Information on Proposed School Closure Requested by Another: School district parents, including Bryan, worked in concert to rebut a school closure recommendation, delegating duties among themselves. Schroeder, but not Bryan, requested information from the school authorities, which was not received. Bryan sued as a result of the school closure. That Bryan did not personally request the information did not prevent her from having standing to claim a violation of Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002), distinguished in Fleenor v. Darby School District, 2006 MT 31, 331 M 124, 128 P3d 1048 (2006). Fleenor was overruled in Schoof v. Nesbit, 2014 MT 6, 373 Mont. 226, 316 P.3d 831, to the extent Fleenor requires a plaintiff in a right to know or right to participate case to allege an injury beyond failure to receive notice or to allege a personal stake in a particular governmental decision for purposes of establishing standing to pursue a claim.

Voluntary Membership in High School Athletic Association Not Unconstitutional Delegation of Trustee Authority: A Livingston high school student, after being informed by the Montana High School Association (MHSA) that he could not participate in basketball because of the MHSA's rule limiting student participation in MHSA events to eight consecutive semesters, filed an action alleging that the board of trustees' consent to be bound by the MHSA rules violated Art. X, sec. 8, Mont. Const., which vests school board trustees with power to supervise and control schools in their district. The Supreme Court held that the MHSA is merely acting as a neutral arbiter to fill the breach caused by the nonexistence of legislative authority and that becoming a member of the MHSA is not an unconstitutional delegation of the district's authority because membership is voluntary. The court noted that although a district's decision to withdraw from membership in the MHSA would undoubtedly cause the district to have a difficult time in finding other schools against which to compete, membership remains voluntary, and by participating, each district is electing to make the rules of the MHSA its own. Grabow v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 2002 MT 242, 312 M 92, 59 P3d 14 (2002).

Wrongful Firing of Tenured Teacher as Violation of Rights — Not Breach of Contract: The school district fired a tenured teacher on the grounds of incompetence. Subsequently, the Supreme Court ruled that the firing was not legal and the district entered into a money settlement with the teacher. The district's insurer refused to cover the settlement on the basis that the policy contained an exclusion for damages due to breaches of contract. The Supreme Court ruled that coverage under the policy was based upon the act giving rise to the claim and not the language of the complaint. The court held that tenure was a right, that the wrongful discharge was negligence, that the fact that the statute required damages based on contracted salary did not change the fact that the district's negligent conduct was not a breach of contract, and that therefore the wrongful discharge was covered under the policy. Missoula County School District No. 1 v. Pac. Employer's Ins. Co., 263 M 121, 866 P2d 1118, 50 St. Rep. 1741 (1993).

Spending Disparities Not Allowed: Article X, sec. 8, Mont. Const., does not require that spending disparities between the school districts of the state be allowed to exist because the disparities cannot be described as the result of local control. School District v. St., 236 M 44, 769 P2d 684, 46 St. Rep. 169 (1989).

Resignation of Tenured Teacher — Formal Board Acceptance Not Required: A tenured teacher was charged with misdemeanor theft and pleaded guilty. The Board of Education of District No. 1 voted to authorize the Superintendent of Schools to request the teacher's immediate resignation and grant 30 days' severance pay. The same day the teacher signed a letter of immediate resignation. The guilty plea was later withdrawn, the theft case was dismissed, and the teacher sought to withdraw her resignation. Withdrawal was denied by the Board, County and State Superintendents of Schools, and the District Court. The Supreme Court affirmed, holding that the Board did not need to formally accept a resignation which it had already decided to request and that it was not a delegation of authority for the Board to make a decision and direct an employee to carry an offer to a teacher. The resignation was effective and the district's contractual obligation was satisfied upon the teacher's acceptance of the severance pay. Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

Arbitrator's Award Granting Reinstatement to Teachers Upheld: The Supreme Court rejected school district's contention that the arbitrator of a teacher termination case exceeded his authority by determining that the remedy for firing, in violation of union contract procedures, was to offer full reinstatement, which would thereby confer tenured status to the teachers. The school district, contrary to its assertion, had the statutory and constitutional authority to enter into collective bargaining agreements, and the provisions at issue were proper subjects of bargaining. The trustees, having entered into the agreement in good faith, were bound by it. When parties agree to binding arbitration, the role of a court in reviewing the arbitrator's findings is a narrow one. Savage Educ. Ass'n v. Trustees, 214 M 289, 692 P2d 1237, 41 St. Rep. 2479 (1984).

Reassignment From Administrator to Teacher Within Financial Management Power of School Board — Tenure Laws Not Violated: Sorlie was an elementary teacher for 20 years prior to assuming an administrative position. In 1980, because a mill levy failed, the school board eliminated Sorlie's position and offered her a job as an elementary schoolteacher. Sorlie argued that she was demoted in violation of Montana's tenure laws. The Supreme Court found the two positions to be comparable positions for purpose of tenure although they are functionally dissimilar. The court concluded that the reassignment, without reduction in salary, for legitimate financial constraints, is justifiable and not contrary to tenure laws. Sorlie was removed from her administrative position pursuant to the board's power to financially manage the school district, and this action was in accordance with 39-31-303. Sorlie v. School District, 205 M 22, 667 P2d 400, 40 St. Rep. 1070 (1983), followed in King v. Hays/Lodge Pole Pub. School District No. 50, 2011 MT 200, 361 Mont. 415, 259 P.3d 772, which held that a teacher position and a principal position are comparable positions under 20-4-203, even when one of the positions has not been eliminated for financial reasons.

Power of School District Trustees to Terminate Tenured Teachers: A tenured teacher was not offered a new contract because he cohabited with a female teacher, discussed abortion, and displayed fetuses in the classroom. The decision of the board of trustees not to rehire was upheld by the County Superintendent and the State Superintendent. The District Court overturned the decision, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court found that a board of trustees has wide discretion. The Supreme Court said that trustees have the power and duty to both employ a teacher and terminate him under the appropriate circumstances. In doing this the rights of the teacher must also be kept in mind. The tenure of a teacher is clearly both a valuable and substantial right that cannot be taken away except for good cause. In addition, the conduct of a teacher, including a characterization of immorality, must be such as to directly affect the performance by the teacher of his duties as a teacher. Good cause was found in this instance. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Photographing Students — Contracts: The school board's jurisdiction clearly covers the photographing of students on school grounds during school hours. Knox v. School District, 171 M 521, 559 P2d 1179, 34 St. Rep. 11 (1977).

Athletics — Regulation of Married Student Unauthorized and Unconstitutional: Where a married high school student had been held ineligible for varsity athletics on the basis of a school district policy prohibiting participation by married students, a temporary injunction was issued to prevent the school district from enforcing the policy, which was not authorized by statute and was also discriminatory as a violation of the student's right to equal protection of the law. Moran v. School District, 350 F. Supp. 1180 (D.C. Mont. 1972), distinguished in State ex rel. Bartmess v. Bd. of Trustees, 223 M 269, 726 P2d 801, 43 St. Rep. 1713 (1986).

Athletic Training and Facilities: Since the board of trustees had provided for athletic training under provision of 1921 Revised Codes (now repealed) authorizing additions to prescribed courses of study, outdoor gymnasium and athletic field were a necessary part of school plant, and bond issue therefor would not be enjoined. McNair v. School District, 87 M 423, 288 P 188 (1930).

Trustees Not Electors to Select Building Site: Under predecessor to subsection (15) of this section, the selection and purchase of a site for a school building in districts of the first and second classes were not entrusted to the electors of the districts but lodged in the trustees under directions of the electors. Nichols v. School District, 87 M 181, 287 P 624 (1930).

Mandamus to Force Location of Schoolhouse: Mandamus is the proper remedy to require the trustees of a school district to redetermine the location of a site for a schoolhouse, where they arbitrarily remove a school to a site selected by themselves, without consulting the electors. A resident and taxpayer of the school district is a party beneficially interested and entitled in such case to make the application. State ex rel. Bean v. Lyons, 37 M 354, 96 P 922 (1908).

Statute as Grant and Limitation of Power: The provision of section 1719 of the Political Code of 1895, in regard to the removal of schoolhouse and the purchase or sale of school lots when directed by vote of the district, was not only a grant of power to school boards but also a limitation upon their power, both as to its extent and as to the mode of its exercise, so that they could not do any of the acts referred to without first obtaining the consent of the electors. State ex rel. Bean v. Lyons, 37 M 354, 96 P 922 (1908).

"Schoolhouse" as Including Equipment and Personnel: The term "schoolhouse" as used in somewhat similar provision in the Compiled Statutes of 1887 (Comp. Stat. 1887, div. 5, sec. 1885) did not mean simply the house but referred to the school plant, including the general equipment, pupils, and teachers, so that the board had no authority to remove the school properties and equipment to another district without being directed to do so by a vote of the people. State ex rel. Jay v. Marshall, 13 M 136, 32 P 648 (1893).

Advancement of Annual Annuity Premium — Method of Recovery: A school district may advance the annual premium for a tax-sheltered annuity on behalf of its participating employees and then recover the amount advanced by means of salary withholding. 44 A.G. Op. 26 (1992).

District Residency Requirements of School Employees: A school board may, as a condition of employment, require that school district employees be residents of the school district. Nothing in the U.S. or Montana Constitution prohibits the establishment of a continuous residency requirement as long as the policy has a rational basis. 43 A.G. Op. 54 (1990).

State Nepotism Law Applicable to School Districts on Reservations — Prosecution of Tribal Members — Contracts Voidable: Montana's nepotism statutes apply to members of public school boards for districts lying wholly or partially within an Indian reservation. Criminal prosecution of Indian members for nepotism law violations with respect to decisions made and implemented wholly on-reservation may be initiated only in federal court by the United States pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 13, except for violations occurring on the Flathead Indian Reservation. Furthermore, contracts entered into in contravention of the nepotism statutes are voidable. 43 A.G. Op. 23 (1989).

Disclosure of Merit Pay of School District Administrators: The administrators of a school district do not have a constitutionally protected right to privacy regarding the amount of merit pay awarded to them pursuant to the district's Leadership Evaluation and Compensation Plan. Therefore, the amounts should be disclosed to the public. 41 A.G. Op. 35 (1985).

School Boards — Employment of Principals: A school district board of trustees may not delegate its duty to employ or dismiss principals and vice-principals to the school district Superintendent. 37 A.G. Op. 133 (1978).

Severance Pay: Provision for severance pay in a collective bargaining agreement between a school district and its employees, based on number of years' service of employees, is deferred compensation and is considered wages earned throughout the period of employment. 37 A.G. Op. 113 (1978). This rationale was applied to compensatory advances of the annual premium for tax-sheltered annuities in 44 A.G. Op. 26 (1992). See 34 A.G. Op. 29 (1971).

District School Board — Nonprofit Corporation: School board trustees have only those powers expressed or implied by law, and since the general powers and duties of school board trustees neither expressly nor impliedly give school trustees the authority to incorporate, a district school board may not incorporate under the Montana Nonprofit Corporation Act. 35 A.G. Op. 47 (1973).

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 196 inserted (2) requiring at least 30 hours' notice in advance of cash demands by a clerk of the district to meet certain transactions in excess of $50,000 and requiring assessment of a late fee for failure to meet the notice requirement; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2005.

Case Notes

Minutes Held Accurate: School bond election was not invalid for failure of clerk to set out resolution in full in minute books, in absence of showing that resolution itself was defective, since minute books need not reflect exact contents of resolution. Elliot v. School District, 149 M 299, 425 P2d 826 (1967).

Nature of Position — Quo Warranto Not Available: The clerk of a school district board of trustees does not perform any of the sovereign functions of government. Consequently, he is an employee rather than a public officer, so that quo warranto is not available to test the right to the position. State ex rel. Running v. Jacobson, 140 M 221, 370 P2d 483 (1962).

Collateral Action Attaching Title Prohibited: Title of acting clerk to office could not be tried in collateral suit on contract with school district. Mintener Lumber Co. v. School District, 84 M 461, 277 P 9 (1929).

Presentation of Claims to Clerk Ineffective: The presentation of a claim to a clerk of a district is nugatory, and his assurance that the same would be paid does not bind the board. Kenyon-Noble Lumber Co. v. School District, 40 M 123, 105 P 551 (1909).

20-3-330. District self-funded health benefit plan reserve funds — exception for dissolution of plan.

Compiler's Comments

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 3, Ch. 324, L. 2007, provided: "[This act] is effective on passage and approval and applies to health benefit claims filed or self-insured health plans dissolved on or after [the effective date of this act]." Effective April 27, 2007.

20-3-331. Purchase of insurance — self-insurance plan.

Compiler's Comments

1991 Amendment: In (1), in first sentence after "coverage", inserted "or establish a self-insurance plan" and after "liability" substituted "as provided in 2-9-211 and for group health and life insurance as provided in 2-18-702" for "for the death, injury, or disability of any person or damage to property" and at end of second sentence, after "district", inserted "and as authorized for the district transportation program in 20-10-143(1)(d)"; inserted (2) requiring trustees establishing a self-insurance plan to provide an internal service fund to account for activities of plan; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 23, 1991.

1985 Amendments: Chapter 15 deleted last sentence (see below).

Chapter 299 deleted last two sentences that read: "If such insurance is purchased, the trustees shall pay the insurance premium cost from the general fund. The provisions of 2-9-104 shall apply to the provisions of this section."

1981 Amendment: Deleted "33-23-102 and" before "2-9-104" in the last sentence.

Attorney General's Opinions

Taxation — Levy for Liability Insurance: The levy provided by 2-9-212 does not require an election. The school trustees may authorize the levy upon determining that it is in the best interests of the school district. The annual property tax may be used to fund all policies of insurance required or permitted by law. 37 A.G. Op. 109 (1978), reversing contrary language in 35 A.G. Op. 44 (1973).

20-3-332. Personal immunity of trustees.

2011 Amendment: Chapter 14 inserted (3) regarding immunity and defenses of additional trustee. Amendment effective October 1, 2011.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 14, L. 2011, provided: "WHEREAS, if the boundaries of an elementary school district and a high school district do not coincide, then high school additional trustees may be elected from areas outside of the elementary school district boundaries to serve on the high school board of trustees along with their elementary school trustee counterparts who also serve as trustees for the high school district; and

WHEREAS, the boards of trustees of school districts may combine their governance into a single school board and merge the administration of their school districts for purposes of economy and efficiency; and

WHEREAS, a combined school board may wish to elect a high school additional trustee as its presiding officer because of that person's valuable knowledge and experience; and

WHEREAS, current state law may not allow high school additional trustees to serve as the presiding officers of combined school boards because they are not members of the elementary district school board; and

WHEREAS, an elementary school district's integrity of governance on a combined school board can be protected by restricting a presiding officer who is a high school additional trustee from voting on matters that pertain only to the elementary school district."

2007 Amendment: Chapter 343 in (1) at end after "immune" substituted "from suit for damages, as provided in 2-9-305" for "from exemplary and punitive damages"; and in (2) deleted former third sentence that read: "The liability of trustees for violations of this section must be determined in accordance with the provisions of 2-9-305." Amendment effective April 28, 2007.

1999 Amendment: Chapter 310 in (2) in substituted third sentence regarding determination of liability of trustees for violations for former language that read: "Those trustees consenting to illegal use of the moneys shall be jointly and individually liable to the district for any losses the district has realized. The county attorney shall prosecute any proceeding arising pursuant to this section, or a party seeking such action may retain private counsel. The party commencing the action shall be liable for the costs if the action fails"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 15, 1999.

1983 Amendment: Inserted (1) relating to individual immunity when acting in official capacity.

Case Notes

Injunction to Prevent Unlawful Payment: Under section 1205, Rev. Codes 1921 (now repealed), authorizing suit by taxpayers against school trustees for restitution of illegally expended funds, injunction did not lie to restrain payment of an alleged illegal claim unless the trustees were insolvent, in which event the complaint was to allege their insolvency. Peterson v. Fugle, 96 M 537, 31 P2d 1030 (1934).

State Nepotism Law Applicable to School Districts on Reservations — Prosecution of Tribal Members — Contracts Voidable: Montana's nepotism statutes apply to members of public school boards for districts lying wholly or partially within an Indian reservation. Criminal prosecution of Indian members for nepotism law violations with respect to decisions made and implemented wholly on-reservation may be initiated only in federal court by the United States pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 13, except for violations occurring on the Flathead Indian Reservation. Indian Studies Requirement for Teachers a Local Matter: Prior to the 1979 amendments, 20-4-213 (now repealed) absolutely required that teachers in schools on or near Indian reservations complete a course in American Indian studies. After amendment, the Indian studies requirement was no longer mandatory but rather became discretionary with the local school board. The Legislature provided that any Indian studies requirement must be a local district requirement with enforcement and administration solely the responsibility of the local board of trustees. Therefore, the State Board of Education did not have the authority to require that all certified teachers complete six inservice credits in Indian studies. 39 A.G. Op. 11 (1981).

1981 Amendment: Deleted the requirement that a person must be a citizen of the United States to be a certified teacher from (1); made minor changes in phraseology.

Case Notes

Admissibility of Expert Testimony in Administrative Proceeding Regarding Sexual Conduct by Teacher: Allegations were made to a school board regarding sexual conduct by a teacher toward students and former students, triggering criminal charges that were later dismissed. The District Court found that conclusions by a hearings examiner denying renewal of the teacher's certificate were based on inadmissible testimony by a drug and alcohol counselor who testified as an expert on sexual abuse. The Supreme Court, examining the issue of expert testimony in administrative proceedings, noted that agencies are bound by common law and statutory rules of evidence and that while the rules of evidence are generally more relaxed in an administrative proceeding than they are in a court of law, they are not to be relaxed to the point of disregarding due process of law and fundamental individual rights. In a criminal case, the question of whether a child is a victim of sexual abuse is a question that may be clarified by expert testimony. However, expert testimony evaluating the credibility of witnesses is generally not admissible, except when the witness is a child victim who testifies at trial and credibility is brought into question. In this case, neither victim was a child, nothing in the record established that any of the witnesses were incompetent or were under any form of mental or physical disability, and the expert's general statements that the victims' conduct was consistent with that of sexually abused children prejudiced the accused because the trier of fact deferred to the expertise of the expert and inferred that the expert believed the witness to be credible. Failure to establish a foundation for the use of any of the expert testimony constituted reversible error. In re Renewal of Teaching Certificate of Thompson, 270 M 419, 893 P2d 301, 52 St. Rep. 200 (1995).

Court Review and Reversal of School Board Decision Revoking Teacher's Certificate Proper: The District Court reviewed the entire record of proceedings by a hearings examiner that was relied on by a school board to revoke the certificate of a teacher accused of sexual misconduct and properly reversed the certificate revocation because: (1) the hearings examiner improperly allowed testimony of an expert concerning general statements about the behavior of victims of sexual abuse; (2) the hearings examiner's findings of sexual abuse were not supported by substantial evidence; (3) when the expert's testimony was properly disregarded, other findings by the hearings examiner did not support a conclusion that the teacher was not of good moral and professional character; and (4) the hearings examiner's findings and conclusions contained sufficient independent statements from which the court could reverse the school board's decision without requiring new findings and conclusions from the record. In re Renewal of Teaching Certificate of Thompson, 270 M 419, 893 P2d 301, 52 St. Rep. 200 (1995).

Attorney General's Opinions

Responsibility for Cost of Required Medical Certificate: The medical certificate for teachers mandated by this section (see 1991 amendment) is a requirement of certification established by the Legislature rather than a requirement for employment imposed by the employer school district. Therefore, under 39-2-301, school districts are not responsible for paying the cost of the physician's certificate required for certification of teachers; rather, the cost is the responsibility of the teacher. 41 A.G. Op. 69 (1986).

Age Limitation for Certification Repealed by Implication: The age limitation established in 20-4-104(1)(a) as a qualification for certification to teach is repealed by implication by 49-2-308 and 49-3-204. Age alone is not reasonable grounds to deny a teaching certificate to an otherwise qualified teacher. Based on the holding in Dolan v. School District, 195 M 340, 636 P2d 825, 38 St. Rep. 1903 (1981), 20-4-104(1)(a) is impliedly repealed by the human rights statutes, Title 49 (see 1991 amendment). 39 A.G. Op. 54 (1982).

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent adopted with HB 864 (Ch. 511, L. 1979) provided: "A statement of intent is required for House Bill No. 864 in that it delegates rulemaking and licensing authority to the Board of Public Education in Section 9.

The intent of this bill is to establish a certification category for non-teaching school personnel. It is not intended to restrict or authorize the practice of any profession outside of the public school system.

Specialist certificates may be developed in areas such as school psychology or school nursing.

Experience requirements for certification should range from 0 to 3 years depending upon the profession involved and the needs of the public schools. Education and training equivalencies may be considered for purposes of compliance with experience requirements.

Education and training standards should require no less than a bachelor's degree with some additional specialized training. Specialized training may include an appropriate internship or college-based training program.

The standards should require some degree of training or experience that is directly related to the practice of the profession in a school setting.

A state licensing board license may be made a Board of Education requirement for specialist certification."

Case Notes

School Psychologist a "Teacher" for Purposes of Tenure Laws: The plaintiff was employed as a member of a school's administrative staff as a school psychologist from 1975 to 1981 under a "teacher contract" that required him to hold a valid teacher certificate. He was terminated from his job and subsequently appealed to the District Court a decision of the Office of Public Instruction (OPI) that he was not a tenured teacher at the time of his termination. The Supreme Court held that the District Court did not err in reversing the decision of the OPI. The distinction made by the Legislature, in the 1979 amendment of 20-4-203, between teachers and specialists for the purposes of tenure, did not retroactively affect tenure earned by the plaintiff prior to that amendment. By 1976, the plaintiff had met all three requirements for tenure under the old statute and was therefore a tenured teacher within the meaning of the law. Harris v. 1991 Amendment: In (1), in introductory clause, increased maximum fee for certificate from $5 to $6, increased filing fee from $5 to $6, and near end, after "treasurer", inserted "to the credit of the state special revenue fund account, created in subsection (2), to be used"; substituted present (1)(a) allocating $3 for expenses of Certification Standards and Practices Advisory Council for former $3 allocation to the state special revenue fund; substituted (1)(b) allocating $3 to Board of Public Education for former $2 allocation to the general fund; in (2), in second sentence after "account", inserted requirement for statutory appropriation to Board of Public Education and at end deleted reference to 2-15-1522; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

1989 Amendments: Chapter 103 in (1), in first and second sentences, increased fee from $4 to $5; and in (1)(a) increased amount credited to special revenue fund from $2 to $3. Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

1987 Amendment: In (1) in first sentence, following "fee", substituted "not to exceed $4" for "of $2", at end of second sentence substituted "$4" for "$2", and in third sentence, after "state treasurer", inserted "in the following manner"; in (1)(a) and (1)(b) allocated fee; and inserted (2) establishing and statutorily appropriating the account.

Special Vote Requirement — 1987 Amendment: Section 4, Ch. 227, L. 1987, provided: "Because proposed subsection (3)(d) of 20-4-110 grants immunity to the superintendent of public instruction and school district trustees, a vote of two-thirds of the members of each house is required for the enactment of proposed subsection (3)(d). If the bill passes but fails to receive a vote of two-thirds of the members of each house, then proposed subsection (3)(d) of 20-4-110 is deleted and the remaining parts of this act are valid." Chapter 227 was passed by a vote of 94-0 in the House of Representatives and 48-2 in the Senate.

Composite Section: This section was amended by Ch. 240 and Ch. 511, L. 1979, and a composite section was prepared by the Code Commissioner, 1979. Since Ch. 240 and Ch. 511 did not conflict conceptually, additions were made to incorporate the concepts of both chapters.

Indian Studies Requirement for Teachers a Local Matter: Prior to the 1979 amendments, 20-4-213 (now repealed) absolutely required that teachers in schools on or near Indian reservations complete a course in American Indian studies. After amendment, the Indian studies requirement was no longer mandatory but rather became discretionary with the local school board. The Legislature provided that any Indian studies requirement must be a local district requirement with enforcement and administration solely the responsibility of the local board of trustees. Therefore, the State Board of Education did not have the authority to require that all certified teachers complete six inservice credits in Indian studies. 39 A.G. Op. 11 (1981).

Case Notes

Arbitration of Teacher's Grievance Under Collective Bargaining Agreement Upheld — No Error by District Court: A tenured teacher's employment was terminated after he inadvertently failed to renew his teaching certificate. Following his termination, the teacher obtained a retroactive certificate and sought to file a grievance pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement that was in effect when he was hired. The school district refused to participate, arguing the teacher's contract was void because he did not hold a current certificate. The District Court granted a petition to compel arbitration, and the Supreme Court affirmed. A presumption of arbitrability is to be applied if an arbitration agreement is ambiguous, and sufficient questions existed regarding the validity of the contract and the application of the collective bargaining agreement after the teacher's certificate expired. Kalispell Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 2011 MT 154, 361 Mont. 115, 255 P.3d 199.

Good Cause for Reduction in Teaching Force Because of Financial Necessity — Termination of Tenured Teacher Based on Multiple Endorsement Criteria — No Violation of Teacher Tenure Law: Tenured social studies teacher Radakovich was terminated in a reduction in force when a school district chose to address its financial shortfall by cutting multiple full-time teachers. The district assigned three teachers who had endorsements in multiple subjects to teach Radakovich's courses, including a junior tenured teacher and a nontenured teacher. Radakovich appealed on grounds that the termination violated the teacher tenure law and the collective bargaining agreement and that the multiple endorsement criteria applied by the district was not fairly applied. The District Court reversed the termination, and the district appealed. The Supreme Court held that the financial circumstances facing the district constituted good cause for the reduction in force and that dismissal of Radakovich as a tenured teacher did not violate 20-4-203 or the tenure protections in Montana law. Additionally, the multiple endorsement criteria were objective and fairly applied. The teachers who were retained possessed multiple endorsements and could teach multiple classes in conformity with the district's method of addressing the financial situation; Radakovich did not possess multiple endorsements. The District Court was reversed. Scobey School District v. Radakovich, 2006 MT 83, 332 M 9, 135 P3d 778 (2006), distinguishing Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332 (1984), Holmes v. Liquidated Damages Clause in Personal Services Contract — Conscionability of Liquidated Damages Clause in Teacher's Form Contract: In determining the enforceability of a 20% liquidated damages clause in defendant's teaching contract, the Supreme Court examined the conscionability of the clause. The court first held that the clause constituted a contract of adhesion because defendant, as the weaker bargaining party, had no meaningful choice regarding acceptance of the contract provisions. The court also noted that the contract was a form contract that provided no negotiation between the parties. However, the court held that unconscionability does not render all form contracts unacceptable and that form contracts are only unconscionable if the terms are not within the reasonable expectation of the party who had no opportunity to negotiate. Although the liquidated damages clause in defendant's contract was harsher than most, as a teacher, defendant knew that teachers are typically employed for an entire year and how difficult it is to replace equivalent services at small rural schools, so it was within defendant's reasonable expectations to agree to a contract with a 20% liquidated damages provision for departing so close to the start of the school year, even though defendant had no meaningful choice regarding the provision. The enforceability of the liquidated damages clause was affirmed. Arrowhead School District No. 75 v. Klyap, 2003 MT 294, 318 M 103, 79 P3d 250 (2003).

Use of Individual Contracts as Leverage to End Strike: The board of trustees' contention that this section authorizes the issuance of individual contracts after negotiations on a master contract have reached an impasse misses the point. The decision here does not concern that authority in and of itself but only the board's use of individual contracts as leverage to end its teachers' participation in a lawful strike. Bd. of Trustees v. State ex rel. Bd. of Personnel Appeals, 185 M 89, 604 P2d 770, 36 St. Rep. 2311 (1979).

Union Membership — Salary Discrimination Unlawful: School trustees have no authority or power to discriminate between teachers as to the amount of salary because of their membership or lack of membership in a labor union. Therefore, a union security clause in a contract offered schoolteachers was void and mandamus, not suit in contract, was appropriate form of relief for teachers. Benson v. School District, 136 M 77, 344 P2d 117 (1959).

Ratification of Informal Contract: Where teacher had taught school in same district for 3 consecutive years under an informal contract, although statute required such contracts to be in writing, the board of trustees, by accepting the benefits of the teacher's services and issuing warrants to her in payment thereof, ratified the contract. Ratification was equivalent to full compliance with the necessary formalities, and the contract was considered as valid from its inception. Day v. School District, 98 M 207, 38 P2d 595 (1934).

Twelve-Month Compensation Held Unlawful: A school board had no power to allow compensation to a teacher for the full period of 12 months, during 2½ months of which time no schoolwork was required and she was left free to engage in other pursuits, a donation of public funds under the pretext of compensation being unlawful. Finley v. School District, 51 M 411, 153 P 1010 (1915), distinguished in State ex rel. Priestly v. Croff, 95 M 498, 27 P2d 540 (1933).

Advancement of Annual Annuity Premium — Method of Recovery: A school district may advance the annual premium for a tax-sheltered annuity on behalf of its participating employees and then recover the amount advanced by means of salary withholding. 44 A.G. Op. 26 (1992).

Application of Nepotism Law to Rehiring of Tenured Teacher: The nepotism statutes (2-2-301 through 2-2-304) prohibit the rehiring of a tenured teacher if the teacher is within one of the prohibited relationships to a member of the school district board of trustees. 41 A.G. Op. 57 (1986).

Severance Pay as Wages: Provision for severance pay in a collective bargaining agreement between a school district and its employees, based on number of years' service of employees, is deferred compensation and is considered wages earned throughout the period of employment. 37 A.G. Op. 113 (1978). This rationale was applied to compensatory advances of the annual premium for tax-sheltered annuities in 44 A.G. Op. 26 (1992). See 34 A.G. Op. 29 (1971).

Life Certificates Not Revoked or Invalidated for Tenure Purposes by Statutory Changes: A public school teacher who holds a "life certificate" has tenure after being elected to the fourth consecutive year of employment, regardless of when that teacher received a college degree. 35 A.G. Additionally, the multiple endorsement criteria were objective and fairly applied. The teachers who were retained possessed multiple endorsements and could teach multiple classes in conformity with the district's method of addressing the financial situation; Radakovich did not possess multiple endorsements. The District Court was reversed. Scobey School District v. Radakovich, 2006 MT 83, 332 M 9, 135 P3d 778 (2006), distinguishing Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332 (1984), Holmes v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 263, 792 P2d 10 (1990), and Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96 (1990).

Teacher Tenure Statute Not Ambiguous — Assistant Superintendent Considered Tenured Teacher: The school district board voted to terminate Small's employment as assistant superintendent at the end of the employment contract without a hearing or determination of good cause. Small appealed the board's determination on grounds that he had been continuously employed by the school district for 10 years in a position requiring teacher certification and thus was a tenured teacher whose employment could be terminated only after a hearing and a finding of good cause. The District Court agreed that Small was a tenured teacher and remanded to the board with instructions to provide Small with the appropriate termination process, but found that the issue of damages was premature. The school district appealed the decision that Small was a tenured teacher, and Small appealed the decision that damages were premature. The Supreme Court affirmed, finding that the teacher tenure statute is not ambiguous. The statute clearly grants tenure to teachers and denies tenure to District Superintendents. By definition in 20-1-101, a teacher is a person, except a District Superintendent, who holds a valid Montana teacher certificate and who is employed by a district as a member of its instructional, supervisory, or administrative staff. Small held a valid teacher certificate, was not a District Superintendent, and was employed by the district as a member of its supervisory and administrative staff and was thus entitled to tenure. The court also remanded to the County Superintendent for an evidentiary hearing on damages. Small v. Bd. of Trustees, Glacier County School District No. 9, 2001 MT 181, 306 M 199, 31 P3d 358 (2001).

Statutory Tenure Inapplicable to Community College Instructor: Under the rationale of Rippey v. Flathead Valley Community College, 210 M 396, 682 P2d 1363 (1984), and the plain wording of 20-4-101, this section does not control tenure for instructors at any community college in Montana. Talley v. Flathead Valley Community College, 259 M 479, 857 P2d 701, 50 St. Rep. 889 (1993).

Tenured and Qualified Principal Allowed to "Bump" Nontenured Teacher Upon Elimination of Position: A school board voted to eliminate the position of high school principal and combine it with the position of district superintendent, based on declining enrollment and economic considerations. The principal had been employed in that capacity for 7 years and had over 14 years of previous classroom experience in subject areas in which nontenured teachers held positions. Under the rationale of Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332, 41 St. Rep. 1393 (1984), and in accordance with this section, the district was obligated to offer the principal a comparable teaching position by allowing him to "bump" a nontenured teacher. The fact that he did not hold any teaching endorsements at the time of his termination did not affect his tenure rights because certification only memorialized the qualifications he was known to possess. Holmes v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 263, 792 P2d 10, 47 St. Rep. 914 (1990).

Right of Terminated Teacher to Part-Time Position: The school trustees eliminated a tenured teacher's full-time position due to economic reasons and subsequently hired another teacher for a half-time position teaching the same subject. The Supreme Court held that eliminating a full-time position and then creating a part-time position identical in every respect except for hours could not be used as a method to circumvent the protection afforded tenured teachers. The court ruled that the trustees were required to hire the terminated teacher for the part-time position. Harris v. Trustees, 241 M 274, 786 P2d 1164, 47 St. Rep. 260 (1990).

District-Union Contract for Tenure: Given the public policy of providing for teacher tenure, a school district may contract with a teachers' union to allow retention of tenure without violating this section. Beck v. Bd. of Trustees, 233 M 319, 760 P2d 83, 45 St. Rep. 1520 (1988).

Resignation of Tenured Teacher — Formal Board Acceptance Not Required: A tenured teacher was charged with misdemeanor theft and pleaded guilty. The Board of Education of District No. 1 voted to authorize the Superintendent of Schools to request the teacher's immediate resignation and grant 30 days' severance pay. The same day the teacher signed a letter of immediate resignation. The guilty plea was later withdrawn, the theft case was dismissed, and the teacher sought to withdraw her resignation. Withdrawal was denied by the Board, County and State Superintendents of Schools, and the District Court. The Supreme Court affirmed, holding that the Board did not need to formally accept a resignation which it had already decided to request and that it was not a delegation of authority for the Board to make a decision and direct an employee to carry an offer to a teacher. The resignation was effective and the district's contractual obligation was satisfied upon the teacher's acceptance of the severance pay. Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

Tenure Acquired in All Areas in Which Teacher Certified: For purposes of tenure, teaching business education is comparable to teaching physical education. Thus, failure to renew a business education teacher's contract because of a reduction in that department's student enrollment was a violation of this section when the teacher was also certified to teach physical education and there were nontenured teachers retained to teach physical education. A teacher acquires tenure in all areas in which he is certified, even though he has teaching experience within the district in only one certification area. To the extent that Smith v. School District, 115 M 102, 139 P2d 518 (1943), contradicts the holding in this case, it is expressly overruled. Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332, 41 St. Rep. 1393 (1984), followed in King v. Hays/Lodge Pole Pub. School District No. 50, 2011 MT 200, 361 Mont. 415, 259 P.3d 772.

School Psychologist a "Teacher" for Purposes of Tenure Laws: The plaintiff was employed as a member of a school's administrative staff as a school psychologist from 1975 to 1981 under a "teacher contract" that required him to hold a valid teacher certificate. He was terminated from his job and subsequently appealed to the District Court a decision of the Office of Public Instruction (OPI) that he was not a tenured teacher at the time of his termination. The Supreme Court held that the District Court did not err in reversing the decision of the OPI. The distinction made by the Legislature, in the 1979 amendment of 20-4-203, between teachers and specialists for the purposes of tenure, did not retroactively affect tenure earned by the plaintiff prior to that amendment. By 1976, the plaintiff had met all three requirements for tenure under the old statute and was therefore a tenured teacher within the meaning of the law. Harris v. Bauer, 206 M 480, 672 P2d 26, 40 St. Rep. 1793 (1983).

Reassignment From Administrator to Teacher — Tenure Laws Not Violated: Sorlie was an elementary teacher for 20 years prior to assuming an administrative position. In 1980, because a mill levy failed, the school board eliminated Sorlie's position and offered her a job as an elementary schoolteacher. Sorlie argued that she was demoted in violation of Montana's tenure laws. The Supreme Court found the two positions to be comparable positions for purpose of tenure although they are functionally dissimilar. The court concluded that the reassignment, without reduction in salary, for legitimate financial constraints, is justifiable and not contrary to tenure laws. Sorlie was removed from her administrative position pursuant to the board's power to financially manage the school district, and this action was in accordance with 39-31-303. Sorlie v. School District, 205 M 22, 667 P2d 400, 40 St. Rep. 1070 (1983), followed in King v. Hays/Lodge Pole Pub. School District No. 50, 2011 MT 200, 361 Mont. 415, 259 P.3d 772, which held that a teacher position and a principal position are comparable positions under 20-4-203, even when one of the positions has not been eliminated for financial reasons.

Standards Applying to Termination of Tenured Teacher: A tenured teacher was not offered a new contract because he cohabited with a female teacher, discussed abortion in the classroom, and displayed fetuses to his class. The decision of the board of trustees not to rehire was upheld by the County Superintendent and the State Superintendent. The District Court overturned the decision, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. Counsel for the teacher contended that 20-4-207 contains the standards which apply in the event of termination of the services of a tenured teacher. The Supreme Court held that, by its terms, that section applies where the trustees seek to dismiss a teacher before the expiration of his employment contract, i.e., during the course of a normal school year. The court held that 20-4-207 is not applicable to the termination of the services of a tenured teacher under this section and 20-4-204. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Mandatory Teacher Retirement Impliedly Repealed: Plaintiff was a tenured elementary school principal who received notification that because she was 65 years of age her contract would not be renewed. This termination was accomplished by a majority vote of the board of trustees for the school district in accordance with 20-4-203(2) (deleted by 1983 amendment) and board policy. Plaintiff filed a discrimination complaint with the Commission for Human Rights. The Commission found 20-4-203(2) to be a statutory exception to the antidiscrimination provisions of Title 49, ch. 2 and 3. The District Court held that 20-4-203(2) was impliedly repealed by the adoption of 49-2-303(1) and 49-3-201. The Supreme Court affirmed, saying that the manner in which the Legislature enacted Title 49 clearly depicted the legislative intent that there be no discrimination in the lives of Montana citizens in certain areas, including employment. Section 20-4-203(2) permitted discrimination based solely on age with no qualifications or justifications bringing it within the limited exceptions of Title 49. Because the mandatory retirement provision bore no relationship to job performance, it was held impliedly repealed. Dolan v. School District, 195 M 340, 636 P2d 825, 38 St. Rep. 1903 (1981), followed in Kenny v. Bd. of Trustees, 543 F. Supp. 1194, 39 St. Rep. 1377 (D.C. Mont. 1982).

Administrative Tenure Not Contemplated: A community college may not grant continuing contract status (tenure) except to those persons specifically authorized to receive such status. Tenure for teachers is unique in public contracts of employment; its basis is academic freedom. It does not apply to an administrative position not requiring teacher certification. Sibert v. Community College, 179 M 188, 587 P2d 26, 35 St. Rep. 1780 (1978).

Nature of Right: A teacher's tenure is a substantial, valuable, and beneficial right that cannot be taken away except for good cause, and the number of hours a teacher may teach in a day is not a factor in determining her right to tenure. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P2d 209 (1954).

Tenure Law Applicable to Demotion of Teacher: Where teacher after 7 years of teaching in town school was assigned to a rural ungraded school having five pupils and plaintiff refused assignment, the new assignment in effect was a demotion which required the same procedure as a removal or dismissal under this section, and plaintiff properly refused to accept it, the purpose of the teacher tenure law being not merely to insure teaching employment but also security to teachers in the position, rank, grade, or status they have attained. Smith v. School District, 115 M 102, 139 P2d 518 (1943), partially overruled in Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332, 41 St. Rep. 1393 (1984).

Conditions of Automatic Reemployment: The term "automatic reemployment" used by section 1075, 1935 Rev. Codes of Montana (now repealed), meant reemployment under the same terms and conditions as the preceding year's employment. Moses v. School District, 107 M 300, 86 P2d 407 (1938).

Retroactivity of General School Code of 1913: The General School Code of 1913 was not retroactive, and a schoolteacher was not entitled to take advantage of the provisions of the tenure law where her complaint was based on a contract made prior to the passage of the Code of 1913. Falligan v. School District, 54 M 177, 169 P 803 (1917).

Attorney General's Opinions

Employment "at the Same Salary" — Fringe Benefits Not Included: Employment "at the same salary" provided to tenured teachers by this section means employment at the same basic pay, but does not include fringe benefits (see 1997 amendment). However, provision of fringe benefits by a collective bargaining agreement is not affected by this opinion. 42 A.G. Op. 49 (1987).

American Indian Studies Law Applicable to Tenured Teachers: The provisions of the Indian studies law are applicable to tenured teachers. 37 A.G. Op. 75 (1977).

Teachers Paid by Federally Funded Programs: Teachers who are employed by a school district in federally funded programs are eligible for tenure upon satisfying the provisions of this section but are subject to dismissal in cases of genuine economic necessity, as where federal funds are terminated by the United States government. 36 A.G. Op. 77 (1976).

Tenure of Teacher Holding "Life Certificate": A public school teacher who holds a "life certificate" (as provided under prior law) has tenure after being elected to the fourth consecutive year of employment, regardless of when that teacher received a college degree. 35 A.G. Op. 60 (1974).

20-4-204. Termination of tenure teacher services.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 438 in (2), in first sentence, substituted "shall notify" for "shall, before May 1 of the current school fiscal year, notify"; in (5), near beginning of first sentence after "terminate", inserted "an employment contract" and near middle, after "county superintendent", inserted "if the teacher's employment is not covered by a collective bargaining agreement pursuant to Title 39, chapter 31" and inserted second, third, and fourth sentences relating to termination of employment of teacher covered by collective bargaining agreement; inserted (6) allowing appeal to District Court of county in which teacher was employed and establishing deadline for commencement of appeal; deleted former (6) that read: "(6) Subsequently, either the teacher or the trustees may appeal to the superintendent of public instruction under the provision for the appeal of controversies in this title"; inserted (7) establishing deadline for request for arbitration; inserted (8) making arbitrator's decision final and allocating payment of arbitrator's charges; inserted (9) allowing reinstatement and compensation and providing for calculation of award for lost wages; inserted (10) prohibiting award for certain forms of damages; inserted (11) prohibiting lawsuit against district after submission of termination decision to arbitrator; inserted (12) defining fringe benefits and lost wages; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Saving Clause: Section 9, Ch. 438, L. 1997, was a saving clause.

1987 Amendment: In (2) changed "April 1" to "May 1".

1985 Amendment: Substituted (1) through (4) (see 1985 Session Law for text) for former (1), (2), and part of (3) that read: "(1) Whenever the trustees of any district resolve to terminate the services of a tenure teacher under the provisions of 20-4-203, they shall, before April 1, notify such teacher of such termination in writing by certified or registered letter or by personal notification for which a signed receipt is returned. Such notification shall include a printed copy of this section for the teacher's information.

(2) Any tenure teacher who receives a notice of termination may request, in writing 10 days after the receipt of such notice, a written statement declaring clearly and explicitly the specific reason or reasons for the termination of his services, and the trustees shall supply such statement within 10 days after the request.

(3) Within 10 days after the tenure teacher receives the statement of reasons for termination, he may request in writing a hearing before the trustees to reconsider their termination action. When a hearing is requested, the trustees shall conduct such a hearing and reconsider their termination action within 10 days after the receipt of the request for a hearing. If the trustees affirm their decision to terminate the teacher's employment, the"; renumbered remainder of former (3) as (5) (relating to appeal to the County Superintendent); and in (5) after "decision", inserted "to terminate".

Interim Committee Bill: Senate Bill No. 18 (Ch. 56, L. 1985) was introduced at the request of Joint Interim Subcommittee No. 4. See "Teacher Tenure in Montana: An Investigation of the Laws and Issues". Mont. Leg. Council (Dec. 1984).

1983 Amendment: Near beginning of (1), deleted reference to subsection (1) of 20-4-203.

Good Cause for Reduction in Teaching Force Because of Financial Necessity — Termination of Tenured Teacher Based on Multiple Endorsement Criteria — No Violation of Teacher Tenure Law: Tenured social studies teacher Radakovich was terminated in a reduction in force when a school district chose to address its financial shortfall by cutting multiple full-time teachers. The district assigned three teachers who had endorsements in multiple subjects to teach Radakovich's courses, including a junior tenured teacher and a nontenured teacher. Radakovich appealed on grounds that the termination violated the teacher tenure law and the collective bargaining agreement and that the multiple endorsement criteria applied by the district was not fairly applied. The District Court reversed the termination, and the district appealed. The Supreme Court held that the financial circumstances facing the district constituted good cause for the reduction in force and that dismissal of Radakovich as a tenured teacher did not violate 20-4-203 or the tenure protections in Montana law. Additionally, the multiple endorsement criteria were objective and fairly applied. The teachers who were retained possessed multiple endorsements and could teach multiple classes in conformity with the district's method of addressing the financial situation; Radakovich did not possess multiple endorsements. The District Court was reversed. Scobey School District v. Radakovich, 2006 MT 83, 332 M 9, 135 P3d 778 (2006), distinguishing Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332 (1984), Holmes v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 263, 792 P2d 10 (1990), and Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96 (1990).

Teacher Tenure Statute Not Ambiguous — Assistant Superintendent Considered Tenured Teacher: The school district board voted to terminate Small's employment as assistant superintendent at the end of the employment contract without a hearing or determination of good cause. Small appealed the board's determination on grounds that he had been continuously employed by the school district for 10 years in a position requiring teacher certification and thus was a tenured teacher whose employment could be terminated only after a hearing and a finding of good cause. The District Court agreed that Small was a tenured teacher and remanded to the board with instructions to provide Small with the appropriate termination process, but found that the issue of damages was premature. The school district appealed the decision that Small was a tenured teacher, and Small appealed the decision that damages were premature. The Supreme Court affirmed, finding that the teacher tenure statute is not ambiguous. The statute clearly grants tenure to teachers and denies tenure to District Superintendents. By definition in 20-1-101, a teacher is a person, except a District Superintendent, who holds a valid Montana teacher certificate and who is employed by a district as a member of its instructional, supervisory, or administrative staff. Small held a valid teacher certificate, was not a District Superintendent, and was employed by the district as a member of its supervisory and administrative staff and was thus entitled to tenure. The court also remanded to the County Superintendent for an evidentiary hearing on damages. Small v. Bd. of Trustees, Glacier County School District No. 9, 2001 MT 181, 306 M 199, 31 P3d 358 (2001).

District Court Error in Substituting Its Judgment for That of Factfinder in Nonrenewal of Principal's Contract: The contract of a tenured assistant high school principal was not renewed by the school board of trustees. Appeal was made to the County Superintendent of Schools, who affirmed the trustees' decision. The County Superintendent's decision was affirmed by the State Superintendent of Schools, whose decision was in turn appealed to District Court. The court reviewed the County Superintendent's decision and determined that the findings were supported by reliable, probative, substantial evidence and that none of the County Superintendent's conclusions were in error, but then reversed the agency decision and ordered the principal to be reinstated and paid back wages and benefits on grounds that the County Superintendent failed to consider the principal's due process and first amendment rights pursuant to Pickering v. Bd. of Educ., 391 US 563, 20 L Ed 2d 811, 88 S Ct 1731 (1968). The Supreme Court reversed, noting that the policy used in determining that the principal's due process rights were violated was inapplicable and that a Pickering analysis was not necessary because the principal was not terminated because of the exercise of free speech, but rather for other good causes. It was error for the court to substitute its judgment for that of the factfinder regarding the weight of the evidence. Quick v. Bozeman School District No. 7, 1999 MT 175, 295 M 240, 983 P2d 402, 56 St. Rep. 682 (1999).

Notice of Administrator Termination Sufficiently Clear to Satisfy Statutory Notice Requirements: The contract of a tenured assistant high school principal was not renewed by the school board of trustees. The principal contended that the termination letter, which also served as notice as to why termination was being recommended, was not sufficiently clear and explicit to satisfy this section. Several paragraphs had been stricken from the letter during the hearing before the County Superintendent of Schools. The District Court found that most of the remaining paragraphs did not provide sufficient detail to satisfy the statute, but that because the first two paragraphs set forth reasons for termination with sufficient clarity, any error in allowing the remaining paragraphs was harmless. On appeal, the Supreme Court noted that there are no formal requirements for what information must be included in a termination letter, only that it be sufficiently detailed to inform the administrator of the charges so that a defense may be reasonably formulated. Although the letter did not set forth specific instances of conduct, the remaining paragraphs provided the principal with information that the superintendent and several administrators had lost faith in their ability to work with the principal, based on a perceived lack of credibility, and were sufficient to enable the formulation of a defense. Quick v. Bozeman School District No. 7, 1999 MT 175, 295 M 240, 983 P2d 402, 56 St. Rep. 682 (1999), following Bd. of Trustees v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 171 M 323, 557 P2d 1048 (1976).

Right of Terminated Teacher to Part-Time Position: The school trustees eliminated a tenured teacher's full-time position due to economic reasons and subsequently hired another teacher for a half-time position teaching the same subject. The Supreme Court held that eliminating a full-time position and then creating a part-time position identical in every respect except for hours could not be used as a method to circumvent the protection afforded tenured teachers. The court ruled that the trustees were required to hire the terminated teacher for the part-time position. Harris v. Trustees, 241 M 274, 786 P2d 1164, 47 St. Rep. 260 (1990).

Termination Procedures Not Followed — Termination Upheld on Other Grounds: The school trustees decided, prior to any hearing, to terminate a tenured teacher due to lack of funds. The Supreme Court agreed that the termination violated the statutory procedures but upheld the trustees' action because the firing was for economic reasons and did not reflect on the personal qualifications of the teacher. Birrer v. Trustees, 241 M 262, 786 P2d 1161, 47 St. Rep. 247 (1990).

Breach of Sabbatical Leave Agreement — Tenured Teacher's Contract Not Renewed: When a tenured teacher did not fulfill the provisions of a sabbatical leave agreement, breach of the agreement constituted good cause for nonrenewal of the teacher's contract. Stansberry v. Argenbright, 227 M 123, 738 P2d 478, 44 St. Rep. 935 (1987), citing Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Standards Applying to Termination of Tenured Teacher: A tenured teacher was not offered a new contract because he cohabited with a female teacher, discussed abortion in the classroom, and displayed fetuses to his class. The decision of the board of trustees not to rehire was upheld by the County Superintendent and the State Superintendent. The District Court overturned the decision, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. Counsel for the teacher contended that 20-4-207 contains the standards which apply in the event of termination of the services of a tenured teacher. The Supreme Court held that, by its terms, that section applies where the trustees seek to dismiss a teacher before the expiration of his employment contract, i.e., during the course of a normal school year. The court held that 20-4-207 is not applicable to the termination of the services of a tenured teacher under 20-4-203 and this section. (See 1985 amendment to this section and 20-4-207.) Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Nonrenewal of Tenured Teacher's Contract — Scope of Review: A tenured teacher's contract was not renewed. A hearing was held by the board of trustees, which affirmed its decision not to renew the contract. The teacher appealed to the County Superintendent where he was given a trial de novo with witnesses and record evidence. The teacher then appealed to the State Superintendent based upon the record, and the State Superintendent upheld the decision. The teacher appealed to District Court based upon the record. The District Court reversed the administrative decision, and an appeal to the Supreme Court was made upon the record. The Supreme Court reversed the District Court, saying that the procedure to be used in this instance was identical to that for any other District Court decision involving an administrative decision. The District Court was not a trier of fact. The Supreme Court should not substitute its judgment for that of the County Superintendent as to the weight of the evidence on questions of fact. The Supreme Court may reverse or modify if the substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the administrative findings and conclusions are clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982), followed in Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

Termination of Tenured Teacher — Standard of Review: A tenured teacher was not offered a new contract. The decision of the board of trustees not to rehire was upheld by the County Superintendent and State Superintendent. The board of trustees based its decision on findings that defendant demonstrated a lack of fitness for teaching in statements made to his junior high class to the effect that his "girlfriend" had to move out of his house because some people did not like his living arrangements. The trustees also concluded that defendant demonstrated a lack of moral values by cohabiting in Polson with a female teacher, not his wife, which adversely affected his performance as a teacher. The County Superintendent found that although the discussion of abortion and display of fetuses to his class were not in themselves sufficient grounds for dismissal, together with the resultant controversy, they were indicative of the adverse impact defendant's living arrangements were having on his teaching. The State Superintendent did not discuss the abortion or fetus findings. The Supreme Court found that the County Superintendent's findings allowed it to consider the issues. The District Court held that the finding that the cohabitation was a matter of public knowledge was clearly erroneous. The Supreme Court held that the County Superintendent was in the position of the trier of fact and so was able to hear and evaluate the evidence of the various witnesses. Where the evidence was conflicting and the County Superintendent and State Superintendent both found that the trustees' reasons were supported by the evidence, the Supreme Court, applying the standard of 2-4-704, found the findings not clearly erroneous and reversed the District Court. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Discharge of Teacher — Board's Lack of Knowledge of Protected Union Activity: Based on the recommendation of the principal, a striking teacher was not rehired by a board of trustees. The board had no knowledge of the teacher's union activities, but the principal did. The Supreme Court held that the board had committed an unfair labor practice despite its lack of knowledge of the teacher's union activity because the board was responsible for the principal's tainted evaluation and, in accepting his recommendation, committed the prohibited act of discrimination. This is not the usual employee-employer relationship, and the Legislature did not intend to allow a school board to insulate itself by claiming lack of knowledge when a public employee's rights have been disregarded. Bd. of Trustees v. State ex rel. Bd. of Personnel Appeals, 185 M 89, 604 P2d 770, 36 St. Rep. 2289 (1979).

Dual Motivation for Teacher's Discharge — Burden of Proof — "But For" Test: Where a striking teacher was not rehired by a board of trustees based upon proper reasons related to the teacher's competence and improper reasons related to protected union activity of the teacher, the Supreme Court held that the District Court correctly affirmed the decision of the Board of Personnel Appeals, which, in essence, utilized the procedure and the "but for" test of Mt. Healthy City Board of Education v. Doyle, 429 US 274, 97 S Ct 568, 250 L Ed 2d 471 (1977). Under Mt. Healthy, the burden is first placed upon the teacher to show that the protected activity was a motivating factor in the discharge. The board of trustees then has the burden of showing that the teacher would have been discharged even in the absence of the protected activity. Bd. of Trustees v. State ex rel. Bd. Personnel Appeals, 185 M 89, 604 P2d 770, 36 St. Rep. 2289 (1979).

Waiver of Time Limit by Superintendent: Because the board allowed plaintiff to believe that the Superintendent had the authority to waive the statutory time limit of 20-4-204 for a hearing request, plaintiff was entitled to a hearing before the board concerning the termination of his contract, even though his request came after expiration of the time limit. (See 1985 amendment.) Yanzick v. Bd. of Trustees, 177 M 459, 582 P2d 338, 35 St. Rep. 1085 (1978).

Notice of Dismissal by Superintendent Held Lawful: Where, after vote by the board of trustees, teacher was notified of his dismissal by Superintendent and not the board itself, there was no violation of the statute, since the Superintendent's action was a purely ministerial one performed in his capacity as chief executive officer of the trustees. (See 1985 amendment.) School District v. Colburg, 169 M 368, 547 P2d 84 (1976).

Stipulation by Counsel as Waiver to Sufficiency of Notice of Reasons for Termination: Where counsel stipulated, in order to limit issues to be considered at hearing before Superintendent, that proper procedural steps were taken for notice of termination, according to this section, he is estopped from thereafter asserting that the case was tried or submitted on wrong theory, since, unlike a stipulation which merely eliminates a single issue, a stipulation of this nature amounts to a binding waiver or elimination of all procedural issues not included. School District v. Colburg, 169 M 368, 547 P2d 84 (1976).

Trustees' Delegation of Authority to District Superintendent to Supply Statement of Reasons for Termination: District Court erred in holding that this section was not complied with when Superintendent and not school board supplied statement of reasons for termination, as notification of a decision already reached by the school board and sent by the Superintendent does not constitute an improper delegation of authority when the Superintendent's action was purely a ministerial one by the chief executive officer of the trustees. (See 1985 amendment.) School District v. Colburg, 169 M 368, 547 P2d 84 (1976).

Dismissal Based on Drop in Enrollment: Certified letter from chairman of school board to tenured teacher which informed teacher that termination of her services was deemed necessary due to a drop in enrollment of her class was legally sufficient as a notice; this section (prior to amendment) did not require that the notice contain a statement of appeal procedure. Schweigert v. Bd. of Trustees, 163 M 29, 515 P2d 85 (1973).

Teacher's Petition for Reconsideration of Termination Not Timely Filed: Teacher who failed to file petition for a formal hearing to reconsider termination until more than 45 days after receiving notice of termination failed to file request in a timely manner, and the right to a hearing under this section had expired. The fact that the board reaffirmed its decision 40 days after receipt of original notification did not revive expired rights. Schweigert v. Bd. of Trustees, 163 M 29, 515 P2d 85 (1973). (Decided prior to 1985 amendment.)

Nepotism — Effect on Tenure: Where the father, mother, and uncle of the only pupils attending school were the sole persons eligible to serve as trustees, the employment of the mother, who though elected as trustee preferred to act as teacher and did not qualify as trustee, was illegal under 2-2-302, condemning nepotism. This section presupposing capacity to hold the position both legally and in fact, she therefore could not be deemed reelected thereunder in the absence of notice that her services would be no longer required. State ex rel. Hoagland v. School District, 116 M 294, 151 P2d 168 (1944).

Closing of School — Contract Void: Where a teacher who was not notified that her services would not be required for next succeeding year brought an action to recover the amount she would have received if reemployed, having taught for 3 consecutive years, entitling her (prior to amendment) to automatic reemployment under this section because school was closed on the enrollment having fallen to two pupils, the board under section 1044, R.C.M. 1935 (since repealed), had the power to close the school and void the contract, as well as under a clause of her contract providing that if school closed for lack of attendance the contract should be considered at an end. Moses v. School District, 107 M 300, 86 P2d 407 (1938).

Notice Based on Informal Meeting Held Insufficient: The notice of dismissal that must be given a teacher entitled to the benefits of the tenure act is one based upon action by a majority of the board of trustees taken at a meeting thereof. Hence, where two of the three members of the board decided in casual conversations at their homes to dispense with the services of the teacher and notified her to that effect in writing, the notice was not the legal notice required and was insufficient to effect her dismissal. Day v. School District, 98 M 207, 38 P2d 595 (1934).

Statute Part of Contract: Provision requiring notice of termination became a part of the contract of employment, binding upon both the teacher and the board of trustees. The notice of dismissal must be clear and explicit. McBride v. School District, 88 M 110, 290 P 252 (1930), explained in State ex rel. Hoagland v. School District, 116 M 294, 151 P2d 168 (1944), and overruled in Canyon Creek Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 241 M 73, 785 P2d 201, 47 St. Rep. 93 (1990).

Attorney General's Opinions

Application of Nepotism Law to Rehiring of Tenured Teacher: The nepotism statutes (2-2-301 through 2-2-304) prohibit the rehiring of a tenured teacher if the teacher is within one of the prohibited relationships to a member of the school district board of trustees. 41 A.G. Op. 57 (1986).

Grave Economic Necessity — Grounds for Dismissal: Tenured teachers are subject to dismissal in situations of genuine economic necessity, such as when federal funds are terminated. 36 A.G. Op. 77 (1976).

20-4-205. Notification of teacher reelection — acceptance.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 438 in (1), in first sentence, substituted "June 1" for "May 1" and substituted "all teachers" for "all tenure teachers" and at beginning of second sentence substituted "Any teacher" for "Any tenure teacher"; at beginning of (2) substituted "Any teacher" for "Any tenure teacher"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Saving Clause: Section 9, Ch. 438, L. 1997, was a saving clause.

1989 Amendment: In (1) changed "April 1" to "May 1". Amendment effective April 20, 1989.

Applicability: Section 2, Ch. 574, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] applies to teacher contracts issued for the school fiscal year 1990 and thereafter."

Case Notes

Termination of Employment: When a nontenured teacher contends that her contract was not renewed due to exercise of first amendment rights, the court found that the school board would have reached the same decision as to plaintiff's reemployment in the absence of the constitutionally protected conduct. Defendants provided the reasons for failure to renew as requested by the plaintiff, and it is incidental whether they constituted good cause. Branch v. School District, 432 F. Supp. 608, 34 St. Rep. 572 (D.C. Mont. 1977).

20-4-206. Notification of nontenure teacher reelection — acceptance — termination.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 438 in (1), at end of first sentence, substituted "by June 1 to each nontenure teacher employed by the district regarding whether the nontenure teacher has been reelected for the ensuing school fiscal year" for "by May 1 to all nontenure teachers who have been reelected" and at beginning of second sentence substituted "A teacher" for "A nontenure teacher"; in (2), in middle of second sentence, substituted "constitutes conclusive evidence of the nontenure teacher's nonacceptance" for "may be considered nonacceptance"; inserted (3) concerning nonrenewal of employment of nontenure teacher; deleted former (3) through (6) that read: "When the trustees notify a nontenure teacher of termination, the teacher may within 10 days after receipt of the notice make written request of the trustees for a statement in writing of the reasons for termination of employment. Within 10 days after receipt of the request, the trustees shall furnish to the teacher a true statement of reasons for termination.

(4) If a nontenure teacher believes the reasons provided by the trustees are not true, the teacher may request in writing within 10 days of receipt of the statement of reasons that the county superintendent hold a hearing in accordance with 20-3-210 to determine whether the reasons are true. A hearing must be scheduled within 10 days and held within 45 days after receipt of the request, except that the period may be extended upon agreement between the trustees and the teacher. The burden of proof that the reasons are not true rests with the teacher, and the showing must be demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence.

(5) If, after a hearing, the county superintendent determines that the reasons are not true, the county superintendent shall order the trustees to offer the teacher a contract for the ensuing school fiscal year.

(6) The provisions of this section do not apply to cases in which a nontenure teacher is terminated when the financial condition of the school district requires a reduction in the number of teachers employed and the reason for the termination is to reduce the number of teachers employed"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Saving Clause: Section 9, Ch. 438, L. 1997, was a saving clause.

1991 Amendment: In (1), in second sentence before "notice", inserted "written"; in (3), in last sentence, substituted "a true statement of reasons for termination" for "such statement"; inserted (4) concerning hearing procedures and burden of proof; inserted (5) concerning County Superintendent ordering trustees to offer teacher a contract after hearing; and made minor changes in style.

Applicability: Section 4, Ch. 439, L. 1991, provided: "[This act] does not apply to nontenure teachers who are considered temporary or substitute teachers."

1987 Amendment: In (1) changed "April 15" to "May 1".

Case Notes

Nonrenewal of Teacher Contract — No Constitutionally Protected Interest or Right to Administrative Hearing: Roos's teaching contract was not renewed, and the school district's motion to dismiss for lack of jurisdiction was upheld by the state superintendent and the District Court. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. The basis for Roos's complaint was that the school district violated its own policy that nonrenewed teachers be notified of the decision by May 1, even though this section requires notification by June 1, and that because the school policy granted greater protection than state law, an administrative hearing on the issue was appropriate. Nevertheless, the appeal failed. Roos did not allege any violation of state statute that grants an administrative hearing or constitutionally protected interest. Thus, the District Court properly held that the County Superintendent of Schools did not have jurisdiction to hear Roos's claims as a contested complaint. Roos v. Kircher Pub. School Bd. of Trustees, School District No. 3, 2004 MT 48, 320 M 128, 86 P3d 39 (2004), followed, with respect to a County Superintendent's lack of jurisdiction over a matter absent a constitutional or statutory right to a hearing, in Dupuis v. Ronan School District No. 30, 2006 MT 3, 330 M 232, 128 P3d 1010 (2006). See also Irving v. School District No. 1-1A, 248 M 460, 813 P2d 417 (1991).

Scope of Written Statement of Reasons for Termination of Employment of Nontenure Teacher: Under this section, timely notice of termination of a nontenure teacher is sufficient even in the absence of a statement of reasons. Upon request of the teacher, a reasonably detailed statement of reasons for termination is required; however, there is no statutory standard that the reasons must be somehow sufficient to merit a refusal to enter into a contract. This section does not contain any requirements regarding the extent or nature of the statement reasons, but the inadequacy of a statement in no way affects the termination when timely notice is given. (See 1997 amendment.) Birgenheier v. Bd. of Trustees, 242 M 513, 791 P2d 1388, 47 St. Rep. 941 (1990), overruling the statement in Bridger Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 209 M 31, 678 P2d 659 (1984), that a nontenure teacher is entitled to notice stating what undesirable qualities merit a refusal to enter into a further contract.

Breach of Contract Disputes to Be Handled Administratively: The plaintiff brought an action in District Court alleging breach of the collective bargaining agreement. The Supreme Court ruled that the issue had to be submitted for administrative review before it could be filed in the lower court. The court overruled its holding in McBride v. School District No. 1, 88 M 110, 290 P 252 (1930). Canyon Creek Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 241 M 73, 785 P2d 201, 47 St. Rep. 93 (1990).

Failure to Follow Contract Grievance Procedure — Loss of Right to Final Administrative Determination: Plaintiff's teaching contract outlined three levels of grievance adjustment. The first level provided that the written grievance be presented to the responsible administrator, level two allowed appeal to the County Superintendent of Schools, and level three provided for binding arbitration. Plaintiff's grievance claimed inaccuracy in an evaluation and requested a new contract but did not suggest that insufficient reasons were given in the notice of nonrenewal. The grievance was denied at the first two levels, but rather than proceeding to binding arbitration, plaintiff went to District Court seeking damages based on insufficiency of notice. The Supreme Court found that the grievance procedure under the union contract was binding and that plaintiff could not have proceeded into District Court on the same issues raised in the grievance. By failing to follow the administrative procedures set out in Throssell v. Bd. of Trustees, 232 M 498, 757 P2d 348, 45 St. Rep. 1228 (1988), and Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431 (1982), plaintiff gave up his right to a final determination under the administrative procedure required in Montana. He therefore had no claim for nonrenewal of his contract, and there were no further remedies available in District Court. Thompson v. Bd. of Trustees, 237 M 498, 774 P2d 412, 46 St. Rep. 1000 (1989).

Failure to Request Reasons for Termination — Loss of Appeal Rights: Plaintiff was one of four nontenured teachers informed in writing in mid-April that her contract would not be renewed. The letter gave no reason for termination, but school board minutes reflected that the reason was financial, and allegedly all nontenured teachers were released in anticipation that the upcoming mill levy would not pass. Plaintiff therefore did not request reasons for termination within 10 days as required under this section (see 1997 amendment). However, in June the levy did pass and all nontenured teachers were rehired except plaintiff, who appealed in July. Even in cases where financial conditions are the alleged reason for termination, nontenured teachers cannot assume this is the reason unless they request and receive written confirmation from the district trustees. Because plaintiff did not request confirmation, her chance for appeal passed while she waited to be rehired after the mill levy vote. Keller v. School District, 237 M 481, 774 P2d 409, 46 St. Rep. 986 (1989).

"Superintendent/Principal" Entitled to Statutory Processes Regarding Nonrenewal of Contract: Appellant was hired for the 1979-80 school year as "superintendent/principal" by respondent school district for a period of 227 days but left after performing only 193 days' service. The district failed to renew his contract for 1980-81, claiming that as superintendent he was not entitled to notice under 20-4-401. Appellant claimed he also served as principal and was therefore entitled to notice under 20-4-206. The Supreme Court held that he served in both capacities and that as principal he was entitled to the statutory notice provisions regarding nonrenewal of a nontenure teacher contract outlined in 20-4-206. Since respondent did not comply with 20-4-207 regarding dismissal, the court held that appellant was entitled to damages for breach of the statutorily entered 1980-81 contract but not for damages stemming from the 1979-80 contract. The case was remanded on the issue of damages for determination in light of Wyatt v. School District, 148 M 83, 417 P2d 221 (1966). Hurtt v. School District, 222 M 415, 723 P2d 205, 43 St. Rep. 1377 (1986).

Award Properly Limited to Year of Termination: In an appeal by the school district from an administrative order reinstating and compensating a nontenured school principal who had been discharged, the District Court properly limited the principal's award to the school year of his termination. The proper award is codified in 20-4-207 but is affected by 20-4-206, which applies to nontenured teachers. It was clear the trustees elected to terminate the contract of the nontenured principal and he would not have been reelected for subsequent years. Pryor School District v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 218 M 73, 707 P2d 1094, 42 St. Rep. 1405 (1985).

Dismissal of Nontenured Teacher — Notice of Reasons to State Undesirable Qualities: A nontenured teacher was given as a reason for his termination that the school district believed it "could find a better teacher". Such a reason contravenes the intention of this section. A nontenured teacher is entitled to notice that states what undesirable qualities merit refusal to enter into a further contract; this enables a teacher to know about his deficiencies and inadequacies and enables him to improve, thereby elevating the teaching profession and education in Montana. (See 1997 amendment.) Bridger Educ. Ass'n v. Bd. of Trustees, 209 M 31, 678 P2d 659, 41 St. Rep. 533 (1984), overruled in Birgenheier v. Bd. of Trustees, 242 M 513, 791 P2d 1388, 47 St. Rep. 941 (1990).

Collective Bargaining — Teachers' Procedural Rights — School District's Management Rights: A provision of a collective bargaining agreement between a school district and teachers incorporated the requirements of this section that provide nontenured teachers access to the grievance procedure for alleged noncompliance by the school district. The provision did not affect any of the statutorily or contractually reserved management rights of the school district. Savage Pub. Schools v. Savage Educ. Ass'n, 199 M 39, 647 P2d 833, 39 St. Rep. 1192 (1982).

Arbitration of Teacher Contract Nonrenewal: Nonrenewal of nontenured teacher's contract was not a "grievance" within a collective bargaining agreement with the school board and subject to arbitration provisions of the agreement when not allowed under former law regarding negotiations for teachers. Wibaux Educ. Ass'n v. Wibaux County High School, 175 M 331, 573 P2d 1162 (1978).

Termination of Employment: Where a nontenured teacher contended that her contract was not renewed due to exercise of first amendment rights, the court found that the school board would have reached the same decision as to plaintiff's reemployment in the absence of the constitutionally protected conduct. Defendants provided the reasons for failure to renew as requested by the plaintiff, and it is incidental whether they constituted good cause. Branch v. School District, 432 F. Supp. 608, 34 St. Rep. 572 (D.C. Mont. 1977).

Termination of Employment — Retaliation for Exercise of Rights: When the refusal to grant a contract to a nontenured teacher was based in whole or in substantial part upon the teacher's exercise of protected rights, the refusal is unlawful and the teacher has a remedy. Morrison v. School District, 32 St. Rep. 467 (D.C. Mont. 1975) (apparently not reported in Federal Supplement).

1999 Amendment: Chapter 514 in (2)(c) inserted "clearly and explicitly" and after "specific" substituted "reason or reasons" for "instances of behavior or acts"; in third sentence in (3)(a) substituted "not less than 10 days" for "not less than 5 days"; and in first sentence in (5) substituted "within 20 days" for "within 10 days". Amendment effective April 28, 1999.

1997 Amendment: Chapter 438 at end of (1) substituted "for good cause" for "for immorality, unfitness, incompetence, or violation of the adopted policies of such trustees"; in (5), at end of first sentence after "dismissal", substituted "under the guidelines set forth in 20-4-204" for "to the county superintendent", deleted former second and third sentences that read: "Following such appeal, a hearing must be scheduled within 10 days and held within 30 days after the appeal, except that the period may be extended upon agreement between the teacher and the trustees. If the county superintendent, after a hearing, determines that the dismissal by the trustees was made without good cause, he shall order the trustees to reinstate such teacher and to compensate such teacher at his contract amount for the time lost during the pending of the appeal", and inserted second and third sentences designating to whom appeal is made based on whether employment of teacher is covered by collective bargaining agreement; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

1989 Amendment: In second sentence of (5) inserted language clarifying that a hearing be scheduled within 10 days and held within 30 days after appeal unless extended by agreement; and made minor changes in grammar.

1985 Amendment: Inserted (2) relating to who may make a recommendation for dismissal; inserted (3) requiring notice to teacher; and inserted (4) relating to suspension of teacher.

Interim Committee Bill: Senate Bill No. 18 (Ch. 56, L. 1985) was introduced at the request of Joint Interim Subcommittee No. 4. See "Teacher Tenure in Montana: An Investigation of the Laws and Issues". Mont. Leg. Council (Dec. 1984).

Case Notes

Good Cause for Reduction in Teaching Force Because of Financial Necessity — Termination of Tenured Teacher Based on Multiple Endorsement Criteria — No Violation of Teacher Tenure Law: Tenured social studies teacher Radakovich was terminated in a reduction in force when a school district chose to address its financial shortfall by cutting multiple full-time teachers. The district assigned three teachers who had endorsements in multiple subjects to teach Radakovich's courses, including a junior tenured teacher and a nontenured teacher. Radakovich appealed on grounds that the termination violated the teacher tenure law and the collective bargaining agreement and that the multiple endorsement criteria applied by the district was not fairly applied. The District Court reversed the termination, and the district appealed. The Supreme Court held that the financial circumstances facing the district constituted good cause for the reduction in force and that dismissal of Radakovich as a tenured teacher did not violate 20-4-203 or the tenure protections in Montana law. Additionally, the multiple endorsement criteria were objective and fairly applied. The teachers who were retained possessed multiple endorsements and could teach multiple classes in conformity with the district's method of addressing the financial situation; Radakovich did not possess multiple endorsements. The District Court was reversed. Scobey School District v. Radakovich, 2006 MT 83, 332 M 9, 135 P3d 778 (2006), distinguishing Massey v. Argenbright, 211 M 331, 683 P2d 1332 (1984), Holmes v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 263, 792 P2d 10 (1990), and Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96 (1990).

Teacher Tenure Statute Not Ambiguous — Assistant Superintendent Considered Tenured Teacher: The school district board voted to terminate Small's employment as assistant superintendent at the end of the employment contract without a hearing or determination of good cause. Small appealed the board's determination on grounds that he had been continuously employed by the school district for 10 years in a position requiring teacher certification and thus was a tenured teacher whose employment could be terminated only after a hearing and a finding of good cause. The District Court agreed that Small was a tenured teacher and remanded to the board with instructions to provide Small with the appropriate termination process, but found that the issue of damages was premature. The school district appealed the decision that Small was a tenured teacher, and Small appealed the decision that damages were premature. The Supreme Court affirmed, finding that the teacher tenure statute is not ambiguous. The statute clearly grants tenure to teachers and denies tenure to District Superintendents. By definition in 20-1-101, a teacher is a person, except a District Superintendent, who holds a valid Montana teacher certificate and who is employed by a district as a member of its instructional, supervisory, or administrative staff. Small held a valid teacher certificate, was not a District Superintendent, and was employed by the district as a member of its supervisory and administrative staff and was thus entitled to tenure. The court also remanded to the County Superintendent for an evidentiary hearing on damages. Small v. Bd. of Trustees, Glacier County School District No. 9, 2001 MT 181, 306 M 199, 31 P3d 358 (2001).

Numerous Sex-Based Jokes and Comments as Rendering High School Teacher Unfit to Teach: A high school teacher who jokes about testes and a student's menstrual period, flips off his students and views the gesture as "the highest form of respect", and makes gender-based remarks and innuendoes in his classroom is unfit to continue teaching as a matter of law. In this case, the County Superintendent received evidence of nine instances of such sex-based conduct but concluded, erroneously, that the conduct did not constitute unfitness under this section. Unfitness in this context means inappropriate, and the conduct was inappropriate. The conduct was unrelated to the purpose of teaching, and the teacher showed an inherent lack of judgment regarding a teacher's role and relationship with students that relates directly to fitness to teach. The County Superintendent's findings, based on substantial evidence, that the teacher did not mean to offend and that the students were not offended is irrelevant. Baldridge v. Bd. of Trustees, 287 M 53, 951 P2d 1343, 54 St. Rep. 1495 (1997).

Wrongful Firing of Tenured Teacher as Violation of Rights — Not Breach of Contract: The school district fired a tenured teacher on the grounds of incompetence. Subsequently, the Supreme Court ruled that the firing was not legal and the district entered into a money settlement with the teacher. The district's insurer refused to cover the settlement on the basis that the policy contained an exclusion for damages due to breaches of contract. The Supreme Court ruled that coverage under the policy was based upon the act giving rise to the claim and not the language of the complaint. The court held that tenure was a right, that the wrongful discharge was negligence, that the fact that the statute required damages based on contracted salary did not change the fact that the district's negligent conduct was not a breach of contract, and that therefore the wrongful discharge was covered under the policy. Missoula County School District No. 1 v. Pac. Employer's Ins. Co., 263 M 121, 866 P2d 1118, 50 St. Rep. 1741 (1993).

Temporary Suspension of Teachers Not Subject to Dismissal Statute: Three teachers temporarily suspended for disciplinary reasons sued for wages not paid during the period of suspension. The Supreme Court ruled that temporary suspensions were not subject to the statute covering the dismissal of teachers. The court further held that disputes over temporary suspensions were subject to contract arbitration provisions and that therefore the lower court had no jurisdiction to resolve the dispute. DeBar v. Yellowstone County School District, 244 M 297, 796 P2d 1081, 47 St. Rep. 1639 (1990).

School Psychologist Subject to Teacher Dismissal Statute: The plaintiff argued that his dismissal under the state statute providing for dismissal of teachers was improper because he was employed as a school psychologist. The Supreme Court held that the statute did apply to school specialists and pointed out that in a previous case, the plaintiff had successfully argued that he was entitled to the rights of a tenured teacher. Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96, 47 St. Rep. 1622 (1990).

Statute Specific to Teachers Controls: The plaintiff argued that his firing should be set aside on the basis that he was not given a statement for his discharge as required by 39-2-801. The Supreme Court ruled that the section of law relied on by the plaintiff applied generally to employees in general commerce and that the specific statute relating to termination of teachers was controlling. Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96, 47 St. Rep. 1622 (1990).

Sufficient Evidence of School Psychologist's Incompetence: The Supreme Court found that the school district had produced sufficient evidence of incompetence to discharge the plaintiff and further that there was no merit to the plaintiff's argument that since he was not trained as a psychologist, he should be judged by a lower standard. Harris v. Bailey, 244 M 279, 798 P2d 96, 47 St. Rep. 1622 (1990).

Dismissal for Sexual Conduct With Students: Evidence of a teacher's numerous sexual contacts with students indicated a failure to provide proper moral and civic instruction and was sufficient good cause to warrant dismissal for immorality, unfitness, and failure to fulfill the duties of a teacher. (See 1997 amendment.) Johnson v. Bd. of Trustees, 236 M 532, 771 P2d 137, 46 St. Rep. 598 (1989).

Structured Interviews Not Sole Determination of Teacher Competence When Other Means Available: The District Court improperly substituted its judgment for a finding by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction that the school district board of trustees failed to prove a tenured teacher was incompetent. The board relied solely on the teacher's performance in four structured interviews but failed to consider 13 years of satisfactory classroom evaluations. Bd. of Trustees v. Anderson, 232 M 501, 757 P2d 1315, 45 St. Rep. 1232 (1988).

Authority of Superintendent Exceeded, but Award of Contract Amount Appropriate: A County Superintendent erred in awarding a discharged teacher the full amount due under a 1984-85 contract when the decision was made in January 1985. However, by the time the District Court considered the matter, the school year had expired, so the award of the full contract amount was appropriate and properly paid as damages. School District Trustees v. Holden, 231 M 491, 754 P2d 506, 45 St. Rep. 786 (1988).

Discussion of Progressive Discipline Nonessential to Good Cause Determination: It was not clear error to discuss the issue of progressive discipline under the heading "other due process considerations" in a County Superintendent's order because the issue was not necessary to the determination of whether a teacher was terminated for good cause. School District Trustees v. Holden, 231 M 491, 754 P2d 506, 45 St. Rep. 786 (1988).

No Notice of Incident as Reason for Termination: A teacher was not given notice of an alleged incident as a reason for termination; therefore, the incident could not be used as a reason for his termination. The County Superintendent was limited to consideration of evidence supporting specific charges given as reasons for dismissal. School District Trustees v. Holden, 231 M 491, 754 P2d 506, 45 St. Rep. 786 (1988).

Two Incidents of Inappropriate Language Not Meriting Dismissal: A County Superintendent properly found that two incidents of sarcastic language by a teacher toward his students, although inappropriate for the classroom, were insufficient to warrant dismissal. School District Trustees v. Holden, 231 M 491, 754 P2d 506, 45 St. Rep. 786 (1988).

Award of Teacher's Backpay — Income of Second Job Not Offset: Income earned at a second job should not offset an award of backpay for a teacher unless it can be shown that the recipient of the award would have been unable to hold the second job at the same time as the job for which he is receiving backpay. Harris v. Bauer, 230 M 207, 749 P2d 1068, 45 St. Rep. 147 (1988).

Resignation of Tenured Teacher — Formal Board Acceptance Not Required: A tenured teacher was charged with misdemeanor theft and pleaded guilty. The Board of Education of District No. 1 voted to authorize the Superintendent of Schools to request the teacher's immediate resignation and grant 30 days' severance pay. The same day the teacher signed a letter of immediate resignation. The guilty plea was later withdrawn, the theft case was dismissed, and the teacher sought to withdraw her resignation. Withdrawal was denied by the Board, County and State Superintendents of Schools, and the District Court. The Supreme Court affirmed, holding that the Board did not need to formally accept a resignation which it had already decided to request and that it was not a delegation of authority for the Board to make a decision and direct an employee to carry an offer to a teacher. The resignation was effective and the district's contractual obligation was satisfied upon the teacher's acceptance of the severance pay. Booth v. Argenbright, 225 M 272, 731 P2d 1318, 44 St. Rep. 227 (1987).

"Superintendent / Principal" Entitled to Statutory Processes Regarding Nonrenewal of Contract: Appellant was hired for the 1979-80 school year as "superintendent/principal" by respondent school district for a period of 227 days but left after performing only 193 days' service. The district failed to renew his contract for 1980-81, claiming that as superintendent he was not entitled to notice under 20-4-401. Appellant claimed he also served as principal and was therefore entitled to notice under 20-4-206. The Supreme Court held that he served in both capacities and that as principal he was entitled to the statutory notice provisions regarding nonrenewal of a nontenure teacher contract outlined in 20-4-206. Since respondent did not comply with 20-4-207 regarding dismissal, the court held that appellant was entitled to damages for breach of the statutorily entered 1980-81 contract but not for damages stemming from the 1979-80 contract. The case was remanded on the issue of damages for determination in light of Wyatt v. School District, 148 M 83, 417 P2d 221 (1966). Hurtt v. School District, 222 M 415, 723 P2d 205, 43 St. Rep. 1377 (1986).

Award Properly Limited to Year of Termination: In an appeal by the school district from an administrative order reinstating and compensating a nontenured school principal who had been discharged, the District Court properly limited the principal's award to the school year of his termination. The proper award is codified in 20-4-207 but is affected by 20-4-206, which applies to nontenured teachers. It was clear the trustees elected to terminate the contract of the nontenured principal and he would not have been reelected for subsequent years. Pryor School District v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 218 M 73, 707 P2d 1094, 42 St. Rep. 1405 (1985).

Standards Applying to Termination of Tenured Teacher: A tenured teacher was not offered a new contract because he cohabited with a female teacher, discussed abortion in the classroom, and displayed fetuses to his class. The decision of the board of trustees not to rehire was upheld by the County Superintendent and the State Superintendent. The District Court overturned the decision, and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court. Counsel for the teacher contended that this section contains the standards which apply in the event of termination of the services of a tenured teacher. The Supreme Court held that, by its terms, this section applies where the trustees seek to dismiss a teacher before the expiration of his employment contract, i.e., during the course of a normal school year. The court held that this section is not applicable to the termination of the services of a tenured teacher under 20-4-203 and 20-4-204. Yanzick v. School District, 196 M 375, 641 P2d 431, 39 St. Rep. 191 (1982).

Discharge of Teacher — Board's Lack of Knowledge of Protected Union Activity: Based on the recommendation of the principal, a striking teacher was not rehired by a board of trustees. The board had no knowledge of the teacher's union activities, but the principal did. The Supreme Court held that the board had committed an unfair labor practice despite its lack of knowledge of the teacher's union activity because the board was responsible for the principal's tainted evaluation and, in accepting his recommendation, committed the prohibited act of discrimination. This is not the usual employee-employer relationship, and the Legislature did not intend to allow a school board to insulate itself by claiming lack of knowledge when a public employee's rights have been disregarded. Bd. of Trustees v. State ex rel. Bd. of Personnel Appeals, 185 M 89, 604 P2d 770, 36 St. Rep. 2289 (1979).

Dual Motivation for Teacher's Discharge — Burden of Proof — "But For" Test: Where a striking teacher was not rehired by a board of trustees based upon proper reasons related to the teacher's competence and improper reasons related to protected union activity of the teacher, the Supreme Court held that the District Court correctly affirmed the decision of the Board of Personnel Appeals, which, in essence, utilized the procedure and the "but for" test of Mt. Healthy City Board of Education v. Doyle, 429 US 274, 97 S Ct 568, 250 L Ed 2d 471 (1977). Under Mt.

Healthy, the burden is first placed upon the teacher to show that the protected activity was a motivating factor in the discharge. The board of trustees then has the burden of showing that the teacher would have been discharged even in the absence of the protected activity. Bd. of Trustees v. State ex rel. Bd. Personnel Appeals, 185 M 89, 604 P2d 770, 36 St. Rep. 2289 (1979).

Amendment of Charges: Dismissal based upon charges made in an amendment attempting to remedy prior legally inadequate charges was reversed. Lindgren v. Bd. of Trustees, 171 M 360, 558 P2d 468 (1976).

Dismissal to Be Based on Specific Charge: Teacher was reinstated due to board's failure to base dismissal on specific charge. Teacher must be given proper notice of charges. Bd. of Trustees v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 171 M 323, 557 P2d 1048 (1976).

Teacher's Right to Due Process: School boards in proceedings under this section must observe the elementary and fundamental principles of judicial inquiry. When a teacher is dismissed, dismissal must be based upon evidence supporting the specific charge against the teacher and not on other grounds. Therefore, where a school board called a teacher to answer for a half-day's absence from school, then proceeded to question him not only about that specific absence but others over a 9-year period and dismissed him, he was entitled to reinstatement. Bd. of Trustees v. Supt. of Pub. Instruction, 171 M 323, 557 P2d 1048 (1976), followed in Holmes v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 263, 792 P2d 10, 47 St. Rep. 914 (1990).

Constitutionality: The last two sentences of this section violated neither Art. VII, sec. 4(2), nor Art. X, sec. 8, Mont. Const. School District v. Hughes, 170 M 267, 552 P2d 328 (1976).

Constitutionality — Power of District Boards of Trustees: This section was held to be constitutional under Art. X, sec. 9(3)(a), Mont. Const., in that school district boards of trustees do not have sole control and supervision powers under that constitutional provision. School District v. Hughes, 170 M 267, 552 P2d 328 (1976).

Propriety of Appeal to County Superintendent: Appeal of the dismissal of a teacher under this section to the County Superintendent was proper, and an appeal to a court was not required by Art. VII, sec. 4(2), Mont. Const. School District v. Hughes, 170 M 267, 552 P2d 328 (1976).

Dismissal Without Meeting — Want of Jurisdiction: Where no meeting of school board, either special or regular, was held prior to summary dismissal of schoolteacher on ground of incompetency, board's dismissal of teacher was void for want of jurisdiction. Wyatt v. School District, 148 M 83, 417 P2d 221 (1966).

Rules Part of Teacher Contract: Under former statute, now repealed, authorizing dismissal for "violation of rules", teacher could be discharged only for violation of trustees' rules, which rules were made part of her contract by reference, and not for violation of high school superintendent's rules. Hovland v. School District, 128 M 507, 278 P2d 211 (1954).

Appeals to County School Superintendent: Writ of Prohibition did not lie against the County Superintendent of Schools to prevent her from acting in an appeal by a teacher who had been denied reemployment by the school board since appeals from such dismissals go to the Superintendent. State ex rel. Saxtorph v. District Court, 128 M 353, 275 P2d 209 (1954).

Section Inapplicable to Dismissal of District Superintendent: Section providing specifically for appeal to the County Superintendent from an order dismissing a teacher had no application to dismissal of a District School Superintendent, the latter order being governed by section providing generally for appeal to the County Superintendent from decisions of school officers and boards. State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943), distinguished in Eastman v. School District, 120 M 63, 180 P2d 472 (1947).

Appeal Statute Part of Teacher Contract: The provision of the school law that in case of a dismissal of a teacher before the expiration of her written contract, she may appeal to the school authorities, becomes as much a condition of the contract as if expressly written therein. Kelsey v. School District, 84 M 453, 276 P 26 (1929), explained in State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Attorney General's Opinions

Application of Nepotism Law to Rehiring of Tenured Teacher: The nepotism statutes (2-2-301 through 2-2-304) prohibit the rehiring of a tenured teacher if the teacher is within one of the prohibited relationships to a member of the school district board of trustees. 41 A.G. Op. 57 (1986).

20-4-208. Transfer from administrative position.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 438 in (1), at end of first sentence, substituted "when the district reduces the size of its administrative staff" for "when the economic conditions of the district require a reduction of administrative staff"; near end of (2) substituted "for seniority purposes" for "for teacher seniority purposes"; deleted (3)(b) through (7) that read: "(b) "reduction of administrative staff" is limited to reductions necessary because of declining enrollment or financial exigency.

(4) When a tenure teacher serving in an administrative position is to be transferred under this section, the teacher must be notified prior to May 1 by certified letter or by personal notification for which a signed receipt must be obtained. The notification must include:

(a) a statement of the reason or reasons for the reduction of administrative staff; and

(b) a printed copy of this section for the teacher's information.

(5) A tenure teacher who receives notice under subsection (4) may request in writing, within 10 days of the notice, a hearing before the board of trustees. The board of trustees shall set the hearing not less than 10 days or more than 20 days from receipt of the request unless both parties agree to an extension. If a hearing is requested, the trustees shall:

(a) conduct the hearing to determine whether the reason or reasons for the transfer were in compliance with the provisions of subsection (1); and

(b) resolve at the end of the hearing to uphold the transfer or to reject the transfer and return the teacher to the administrative position.

(6) A tenure teacher may appeal a decision under this section to the county superintendent as provided in 20-3-210. The county superintendent shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the reason or reasons for the transfer were in compliance with the provisions of subsection (1).

(7) The teacher or the trustees may appeal the determination of the county superintendent to the superintendent of public instruction as provided in 20-3-107"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 114 inserted (2) providing for recognition of the seniority of a tenured teacher assigned to a teaching position after serving in an administrative position; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective March 18, 1993.

Repealer: Section 2, Ch. 114, L. 1993, repealed sec. 4, Ch. 204, L. 1991, which provided that the 1991 act, amending 20-4-203 and enacting 20-4-208, did not apply to a person who was employed in an administrative position before October 1, 1991. Repealer effective March 18, 1993.

Applicability: Section 4, Ch. 204, L. 1991, provided: "[This act] does not apply to a person who was employed in an administrative position before October 1, 1991."

1997 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 22 in (1)(c), at end, substituted "of attendance and grades" for "in the form and on the blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction"; in (1)(d), in first sentence after "report", deleted "in the manner and on the forms prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction" and at end, after "register", substituted "and grades" for "that is necessary to calculate ANB"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Chapter 320 in (1)(f)(i), at end, inserted "including any curriculum related to the flag prescribed by the trustees"; and made minor changes in style.

Style changes in the chapters were slightly different. In each case, the codifier chose the more appropriate text.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 320, L. 1997, provided: "WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court has consistently ruled that a state may require recitation of the pledge of allegiance so long as any student or teacher objecting to participation for any reason is allowed to nondisruptively refuse to participate; and

WHEREAS, courts have also ruled that a student who refuses to participate in the pledge of allegiance cannot be compelled to take any particular action, such as standing, remaining seated, or leaving the room during group recitation of the pledge; and

WHEREAS, in an effort to educate students in the American values of patriotism and love of country and to pass on the feelings of civic pride and commitment to America, the Board of Public Education, as one small step in increasing Montana students' awareness of their heritage as Americans, enacted a policy on January 26, 1989, recommending that teachers in every public school classroom begin the day with recitation of the pledge of allegiance while allowing an excuse from participation for any student or teacher who objects for any reason; and

WHEREAS, in 1980 the United States Supreme Court let stand the decision in Palmer v. Board of Education of City of Chicago, 603 F.2d 1271 (7th Cir. 1979), certiorari denied, 444 U.S. 1026 (1980), which held that while a teacher may not be required to participate in the pledge of allegiance, the teacher, despite any personal convictions, may be required to teach subjects related to the flag or other patriotic matters in the prescribed curriculum; and

WHEREAS, section 20-4-301, MCA, requires a teacher to provide moral and civic instruction by endeavoring to impress students with the principles of morality, truth, justice, and patriotism; to instruct students in the principles of free government; and to train them to comprehend the rights, responsibilities, and dignity of American citizenship."

1989 Amendment: At beginning of (1)(d) substituted "within 10 days" for "immediately", after "school" substituted "semester" for "instructional year and before July 10", and after "prepare" substituted "a" for "an annual"; near middle of (3) substituted "semester" for "annual"; and made minor changes in phraseology. Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 12, Ch. 337, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 1989, and applies to school budgets and foundation program [renamed 1993] support for school fiscal years beginning after June 30, 1990."

1991 Amendment: In (1) deleted former second and third sentences setting parameters for infliction of corporal punishment; inserted (2) through (4) defining and disallowing corporal punishment and allowing and defining physical restraint; in (5), at end of first sentence, deleted "and to administer corporal punishment in the presence of a witness, without undue anger" and in third sentence, after "trustees", inserted "and the county superintendent"; in (6), after "trustees", inserted "or the county superintendent"; at beginning of (7) substituted "If a person who is employed or engaged by a school district uses corporal punishment or more physical restraint than is reasonable or necessary, the person is" for "Any teacher or principal who shall maltreat or abuse any pupil by administering any undue or severe punishment shall be deemed" and at end increased penalty from not more than $100 to not less than $25 or more than $500; inserted (8) regarding affirmative defense; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 4, 1991.

1981 Amendment: Substituted "Where either a district superintendent or a school principal is employed" for "Where a district superintendent or principal is employed" and "the superintendent or principal" for "he" in the second sentence of (2); deleted "and the trustees shall meet as soon as practicable to consider the suspension action of the teacher" from the end of (2).

20-4-303. Abuse of teachers.

Case Notes

Mootness Found in Six-Year-Old Case — Limited Power of Supreme Court: The defendant in a 1974 case was charged with and convicted of abuse of a school teacher under 20-4-303. The fine levied was paid in 1976, about the time the defendant's appeal to District Court on the constitutionality of the statute was dismissed. Notice of the dismissal escaped the defendant's attorney until nearly 3 years later. A year after that, the appeal was submitted to the Supreme Court. Noting the long time lapse and the lapse of power in the court to order the return of the fine, the court held the question moot because any action it could take would have no effect on the parties. St. v. Warden, 191 M 520, 625 P2d 543, 38 St. Rep. 437 (1981).

1989 Amendment: Substituted first two sentences relating to closure of schools for teacher organization meetings and attendance of teachers at such meetings or other training sessions for former language that read: "When the trustees of a school district close the schools of the district for the annual session of the state teachers' association, a teacher may attend the annual session without loss of salary or work at his school and perform duties related to his position of employment, as may be prescribed by the trustees, without loss of salary"; and made minor change in phraseology. Amendment effective July 1, 1990.

Attorney General's Opinions

Contractual Leave Not to Be Used by Teacher to Avoid Training: Nothing in statutory law indicates a legislative intention to dictate to schools that the inservice training obligation be fulfilled according to any particular schedule as long as the teacher acquires the necessary training. However, pursuant to this section, a teacher must either attend the annual instructional and professional development meetings of teachers' organizations or attend other inservice training sometime during the year, as approved by the trustees. A teacher may not use contractual leave to avoid the obligation to attend one or the other kind of training. If a teacher does not attend the training, that teacher may not be paid for the 2 days during which the schools are closed. 46 A.G. Op. 2 (1995).

2009 Amendment: Chapter 144 in (1) near beginning of first and second sentences after "county high school" inserted "or other high school district that operates under a separate board of trustees due to alternative methods of electing the members of the high school board of trustees as provided in 20-3-352(3)"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2009.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 318 in (3) inserted "or the boards of trustees of two or more districts" and at end inserted reference to entering an interlocal agreement to share a district superintendent; in (5) near beginning inserted "or the boards of trustees of two or more districts"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 21, 2001.

1987 Amendment: Inserted (3) relating to jointly employing and appointing a District Superintendent; in (5), after "superintendent", inserted "under subsection (2) or (3)" and substituted "districts" for "elementary district and the county high school".

Case Notes

Collective Bargaining Agreement Modified by Administrator's Individual Contract: A retired school administrator claimed that he was entitled to receive retirement benefits identical to those afforded teachers in the district. The district denied his claim on the basis that the collective bargaining agreement specifically denied the benefits to administrative personnel. The Supreme Court held that the administrator was eligible for the benefits because his individual contract stated that he was entitled to all benefits available to teachers and therefore his contract modified the collective bargaining agreement. The court further held that although the plaintiff could not be denied benefits on the basis of the exclusionary language in the collective bargaining agreement, he was ineligible to receive the benefits because he did not have sufficient indistrict service to qualify. Throssell v. Bd. of Trustees, 248 M 392, 812 P2d 767, 48 St. Rep. 481 (1991).

Constructive Discharge of Superintendent — School District Not Immune: Plaintiff was a Superintendent from July 1, 1983, to June 6, 1985, when he took a medical disability retirement. He then sued the school district and individual members of the school board for damages for wrongful discharge and intentional infliction of emotional distress. The District Court jury awarded plaintiff damages totaling nearly $100,000. The Supreme Court reversed and remanded for a new trial on the grounds that the District Court committed reversible error by incorrectly instructing the jury concerning the requirements of due process and the type of conduct required for liability in a case tried under 42 U.S.C. 1983. Constructive discharge is a form of wrongful discharge, and a school district is not immune for lack of "clearly established" law. Doohan v. Bigfork School District No. 38, 247 M 125, 805 P2d 1354, 48 St. Rep. 121 (1991).

Termination of Superintendent Not Breach of Contract: From 1966 to 1983, appellant was hired as an untenured superintendent under a series of written 2-year contracts. In 1983, appellant accepted a 1-year written contract for the 1983-84 school term. In 1984, the school board voted not to renew appellant's contract. Subsequently, appellant filed suit against the district, alleging breach of contract and contending that his contract was "open-ended". In affirming the trial court's dismissal of the original complaint, the Supreme Court concluded that since appellant negotiated for an express contract for 1 year, no breach of contract occurred. Nordlund v. School District, 227 M 402, 738 P2d 1299, 44 St. Rep. 1183 (1987).

"Superintendent / Principal" Entitled to Statutory Processes Regarding Nonrenewal of Contract: Appellant was hired for the 1979-80 school year as "superintendent/principal" by respondent school district for a period of 227 days but left after performing only 193 days' service. The district failed to renew his contract for 1980-81, claiming that as superintendent he was not entitled to notice under 20-4-401. Appellant claimed he also served as principal and was therefore entitled to notice under 20-4-206. The Supreme Court held that he served in both capacities and that as principal he was entitled to the statutory notice provisions regarding nonrenewal of a nontenure teacher contract outlined in 20-4-206. Since respondent did not comply with 20-4-207 regarding dismissal, the court held that appellant was entitled to damages for breach of the statutorily entered 1980-81 contract but not for damages stemming from the 1979-80 contract. The case was remanded on the issue of damages for determination in light of Wyatt v. School District, 148 M 83, 417 P2d 221 (1966). Hurtt v. School District, 222 M 415, 723 P2d 205, 43 St. Rep. 1377 (1986).

Damages for Improper Discharge: When a county high school principal was improperly discharged, the District Court was instructed to compute damages in an amount equal to the amount he would have earned in wages and benefits for 1 year under the terms of his contract at the time of his improper discharge and an amount equal to his attorney fees and costs plus interest from the date of discharge. Bd. of Trustees v. Eaton, 185 M 453, 605 P2d 1083, 36 St. Rep. 2012 (1979).

Improper Discharge of County High School Principal: The language of this statute is clear and unambiguous and clearly states the qualifications necessary for a county high school principal. Appellant's certificate did not have the proper endorsement; therefore, the board of trustees would normally be required to discharge him. However, under the facts of this case, it is clear that the board sought the convenience of this statute only after an earlier attempt to terminate the appellant went awry. The board's methodology did not conform to this section, and discharge was improper. Bd. of Trustees v. Eaton, 185 M 453, 605 P2d 1083, 36 St. Rep. 2012 (1979).

Failure to Provide Hearing — Want of Jurisdiction: Where an order of a board of trustees dismissing a District School Superintendent for cause was void because he had not been granted a hearing, which order on appeal to the County Superintendent was reversed, whereupon the board appealed to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction who found in favor of the board, the action of the board and the decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction were void for want of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Hearing on Removal Required: Dismissal of Superintendent without hearing was void as exceeding trustees' jurisdiction, notwithstanding that no statute required hearing. State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Process Required for Dismissal: A hearing as to the fitness of a District School Superintendent to act as such presupposes that charges were preferred, that notice had been given the incumbent to enable him to prepare for and refute the charges, that evidence was taken at the hearing with opportunity for cross-examination of the witnesses — all for the purpose of determining in a judicial manner the truth or falsity of the charges. State ex rel. Howard v. Ireland, 114 M 488, 138 P2d 569 (1943).

Attorney General's Opinions

High School Superintendent Not "Public Officer": A high school district superintendent appointed under this section does not hold a "public office" within the scope of the Montana Recall Act. 42 A.G. Op. 50 (1988).

Early Termination and Renewal of Contract Between Trustees and Superintendent Held Proper — Automatic Renewal Improper: A board of trustees and a District Superintendent may mutually terminate a 3-year employment contract prior to the expiration of its term and enter into another 3-year contract identical to the first except for date of expiration, without violating this section. However, the trustees and Superintendent may not enter into a rolling 3-year employment contract. 41 A.G. Op. 30 (1985).

1999 Amendment: Chapter 343 in (7) substituted "pupil attendance, absence, and enrollment" for "cumulative pupil attendance and pupil absence" and at end after "district" deleted "within 10 days after the conclusion of each school semester"; and made minor changes in style. 1989 Amendment: Near end of (7), after "district", substituted "within 10 days" for "immediately" and after "conclusion of" substituted "each school semester" for "the school instructional year and before July 10"; and made minor changes in phraseology. Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 12, Ch. 337, L. 1989, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 1989, and applies to school budgets and foundation program [renamed 1993] support for school fiscal years beginning after June 30, 1990."

1981 Amendment: Deleted "until the trustees may consider such suspension" from the end of (6).

Case Notes

Waiver of Time Limit by Superintendent: Because the board allowed plaintiff to believe that the Superintendent had the authority to waive the statutory time limit of 20-4-204 for a hearing request, plaintiff was entitled to a hearing before the board concerning the termination of his contract, even though his request came after expiration of the time limit. Yanzick v. Bd. of Trustees, 177 M 459, 582 P2d 338, 35 St. Rep. 1085 (1978).

Attorney General's Opinions

School Contracts — Trustee's Delegation of Power to Superintendent: A School District Superintendent does not have the inherent power to enter a contract on behalf of the school district. A Superintendent is the executive officer of the board of trustees and in this capacity merely acts to execute policy adopted by the board. A school district board of trustees may delegate a portion of its exclusive power to contract to the Superintendent if the delegated power involves only the performance of administrative nondiscretionary acts. 40 A.G. High School Sports Programs — Discrimination Against Female Participants: In a matter alleging gender-based inequality in high school athletics, it was not erroneous for the federal District Court to fashion the use of a creative settlement course by using a "facilitator". The settlement agreement was adopted by order, with the District Court retaining jurisdiction to monitor progress. The continued jurisdiction was proper, and even though the question of whether the court could consider the change in women's volleyball seasons was not properly before the District Court in the action preceding this appeal, the District Court has jurisdiction under the order and terms of the settlement agreement to exercise its continuing jurisdiction to consider the matter at some future date. Ridgeway v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 858 F2d 579, (9th Cir. 1988). After reviewing the final report of the Special Master and the parties' progress reports, the District Court ruled that a change in high school girls' volleyball and basketball seasons was not necessary to achieve and maintain gender equity. 749 F. The referendum must be conducted as prescribed in this section.

(1) Students enrolled on the date of the referendum in grades 7 through 12 in each accredited public school and in each accredited nonpublic school whose principal notifies the superintendent of public instruction by September 20, 1991, of intent to participate may vote in the referendum.

(2) Not later than October 1, 1991, the superintendent of public instruction shall provide instructions for the referendum, as provided in this section, to each participating school that includes grades 7 through 12. The referendum must be conducted by secret ballot and be presented to students in school in the following ballot form:

[ ] YES — I DO favor requesting that stores REFUSE to sell cigarettes and tobacco to persons under 18 years of age.

[ ] NO — I DO NOT favor requesting that stores REFUSE to sell cigarettes and tobacco to persons under 18 years of age.

(3) Votes must be tabulated by the student governing body and the principal of each participating school. The principal shall transmit in writing the vote count for his school to the superintendent of public instruction not later than November 1, 1991, together with a statement by the principal that the referendum was conducted fairly and the vote count is genuine to the best of his knowledge and belief.

(4) The superintendent of public instruction shall tabulate the total vote in the referendum from all participating schools not later than November 15, 1991. If the number of students voting in the referendum is at least 50% of the number of students enrolled in public school grades 7 through 12 on October 1, 1991, and if a majority of students voting voted for the referendum, the superintendent of public instruction shall certify to the director of the department of revenue that the referendum has been approved. Otherwise, the superintendent shall certify that the referendum has been rejected.

(5) Within 60 days of receiving certification from the superintendent of public instruction that the referendum has been approved, the department of revenue shall inform each retailer who sells cigarettes and tobacco that the referendum has been approved and ask retailers to post prominently a sign where cigarettes and tobacco are sold, stating: "Out of respect for the wishes of Montana junior and senior high school students as expressed in the Montana School Tobacco Referendum 1991, this store voluntarily agrees not to sell cigarettes and tobacco to persons under 18 years of age. Age of Admission to School: A reasonable interpretation of former constitutional and statutory provisions specifying that school shall be open to children between the ages of 6 and 21 years, read again in connection with other provisions requiring a thorough education, is that a child must be allowed to enter the first grade sometime during his seventh year after reaching his sixth birthday. Each local school district has the power to admit children into the first grade who are not yet 6 years of age, and each school district may establish a "cutoff" date governing entry into the first grade. State ex rel. Ronish v. School District, 136 M 453, 348 P2d 797 (1960).

Wrongful Placement of Special Education Child — Duty Owed by School District — Sovereign Immunity No Bar to Claim for Damages: The plaintiff, a minor child, was diagnosed as needing special education and was to be educated in a class with other "normal" children but was later removed to a class of retarded children and as a result regressed in development. The school district's action of placement of the child was subject to judicial review and was not barred from review by the doctrine of sovereign immunity merely because it was discretionary. The school authorities owed the child a duty of reasonable care in testing and placing her in an appropriate special education program, and the District Court therefore erred in dismissing the child's action for damages. B.M. v. St., 200 M 58, 649 P2d 425, 39 St. Rep. 1285 (1982). B.M. was followed in Parini v. Missoula County High School District No. 1, 284 M 14, 944 P2d 199, 54 St. Rep. 711 (1997).

Case Notes

Voluntary Membership in High School Athletic Association Not Unconstitutional Delegation of Trustee Authority: A Livingston high school student, after being informed by the Montana High School Association (MHSA) that he could not participate in basketball because of the MHSA's rule limiting student participation in MHSA events to eight consecutive semesters, filed an action alleging that the board of trustees' consent to be bound by the MHSA rules violated Art. X, sec. 8, Mont. Const., which vests school board trustees with power to supervise and control schools in their district. The Supreme Court held that the MHSA is merely acting as a neutral arbiter to fill the breach caused by the nonexistence of legislative authority and that becoming a member of the MHSA is not an unconstitutional delegation of the district's authority because membership is voluntary. The court noted that although a district's decision to withdraw from membership in the MHSA would undoubtedly cause the district to have a difficult time in finding other schools against which to compete, membership remains voluntary, and by participating, each district is electing to make the rules of the MHSA its own. Grabow v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 2002 MT 242, 312 M 92, 59 P3d 14 (2002).

Part Case Notes

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Youth Committed to Program in Nonadjacent State — School District Not Liable for Related Education Costs: The Youth Court committed a youth to a program for sexual offenders located in Minnesota. Cost was $148 a day, of which $48 were education costs, and the court assigned payment of that portion to the youth's school district. On appeal of the assignment, the Supreme Court found that 20-5-314 authorized reciprocal tuition agreements only with states adjoining Montana but found no statutory method to calculate tuition to be paid to a school in a state not adjacent to Montana. Absent specific statutory authority, the Supreme Court held that the Youth Court erred in finding the school district liable for the youth's education costs. (Decided prior to 1987 amendment to 20-5-311, repealed 1993.) In re W.J.H., 226 M 479, 736 P2d 484, 44 St. Rep. 817 (1987).

Tuition Transfer — School Board Decision Improperly Reversed — Reviewing Agency Analysis: It was improper for the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to reverse school board denial of a tuition transfer by including findings that were not part of the record, were irrelevant, or were conjectures or conclusions rather than facts. Findings of the reviewing agency may not be properly included as facts when they are not part of the record below, and the reviewing agency must confine itself to an analysis of whether the findings are clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence on the whole record or whether they are arbitrary, capricious, or characterized by abuse of discretion. Frazer School District v. Flynn, 225 M 299, 732 P2d 409, 44 St. Rep. 248 (1987). This holding is dispositive of a later appeal in a companion case, Frazer School District v. Forsness, 226 M 244, 734 P2d 1218, 44 St. Rep. 624 (1987).

Constitutionality: Section 2, Ch. 77, L. 1927, providing for appeal to the State Board of Education in matters of transportation, rent, tuition, or board, was not open to the objection that under Art. XI, sec. 11, 1889 Mont. Const. (now Art. X, sec. 9, Mont. Const.), the Legislature was limited to prescribing powers and duties for Board to be exercised in connection with the state educational institutions and therefore was without authority to clothe it with jurisdiction to pass on appeals relating to matters connected with the common schools. Section 20-5-304 (repealed 1993) was not ineffective for failure to provide procedure rules for taking the appeal. State ex rel. Stephens v. Keaster, 82 M 126, 266 P 387 (1928).

Quasi-Judicial Capacity of Trustees: In exercise of power to admit nonresident pupils and fix the amount of tuition to be charged them, board of trustees acts in a quasi-judicial capacity, and courts will not interfere with the proper exercise of its discretion and judgment in that regard. Peterson v. School Bd., 73 M 442, 236 P 670 (1925).

Part Attorney General's Opinions

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Acceptance of Canadian Students — Tuition — Waiver: A school district board of trustees may, in its discretion, accept as elementary and high school students Canadian residents who wish to attend school in Montana. The trustees are also authorized to exercise discretion in granting a waiver of tuition to these and all other out-of-district students. If the trustees choose to charge tuition, 20-5-305 (repealed 1993) must be referred to in setting the amount of tuition for elementary students and 20-5-312 (repealed 1993) for high school students. 42 A.G. Op. 103 (1988).

Claim of Tuition Offset by Resident Elementary School District: A school district paying the tuition of a resident elementary pupil who attends a school outside the district pursuant to 20-5-302 (repealed 1993) is not eligible to claim a tuition offset under 20-5-303 (repealed 1993) for property taxes paid by the parents to the county or district in which the child attends school. 41 A.G. Op. 50 (1986).

Responsibility for Tuition of Child in Legal Custody of Local Welfare Department: If a local welfare department has legal custody by a temporary or permanent order for placement of a minor child and places that child with foster parents outside the school district of residence (residence of the natural parents in most cases), tuition must be paid by the district of residence. If the placement of the child is outside the state, financial responsibility for school costs rests with the sending agency under the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children. 40 A.G. Op. 69 (1984). (Opinion rendered prior to 1985 amendment to 20-5-301, repealed 1993.)

Responsibility for Tuition of Student Who Attends High School Out of State: If a student is voluntarily attending school outside the state, responsibility for payment of tuition depends on the existence of a valid tuition agreement. If no valid tuition agreement exists, the child's parents or guardians are responsible for tuition costs. If a valid tuition agreement exists, the child's school district of residence is responsible for tuition costs. The Superintendent of Public Instruction should be consulted about the existence of a reciprocal tuition agreement with an adjoining state. If the student's out-of-state placement is by court order, the sending agency is responsible for tuition costs under the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children. 40 A.G. Op. 69 (1984). (Opinion rendered prior to 1985 amendment to 20-5-311, repealed 1993.)

Closely Held Corporation Ineligible for Tuition Offset: A shareholder in a closed or family-type Subchapter S corporation is not eligible to claim the tuition offset under 20-5-303 (repealed 1993) when the corporation owns the property and is the taxpayer responsible for the district and county property taxes referred to in 20-5-303 (repealed 1993). One who accepts the benefits of a corporation must also accept the burdens that flow from the use of a corporate structure. A shareholder in a closely held corporation accordingly must bear any disadvantages resulting from corporate status. One disadvantage associated with incorporation in Montana is the unavailability of tuition offset under 20-5-303 (repealed 1993) when the property taxpayer is a corporation and not the child's parent. 40 A.G. Op. 42 (1984). (Opinion rendered prior to 1985 amendment to 20-5-303, repealed 1993.)

Obligation to Provide Special Education: School districts are not entitled to deny special education services to children in need thereof who live within the district on the basis of the fact that the legal residence of child's parent or guardian is elsewhere. 37 A.G. Op. 148 (1978), clarifying 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

Special Education — Funding and Services: A school district may not establish a special education policy wholly independent of state funding. A special education program established by a district is not required to serve children in group homes within the district who are not legal residents but may do so cooperatively or by contract. 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 563, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [section 4] [20-5-323] of the bill gives the superintendent of public instruction authority to adopt administrative rules regarding a flat tuition rate for each funding category in the foundation program schedules, using statewide district expenditure and revenue data for certain funds."

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 22, Ch. 563, L. 1993, provided: "[This act] is effective for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993, and applies to calculations and payments for tuition for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993."

2011 Amendment: Chapter 211 in (1)(c) inserted "caretaker" before "relative" in two places, substituted "is unable or unwilling" for "refuse", and at end deleted "after a written or oral request by the relative to do so"; in (3) in first sentence after "the school" substituted current text for "in which the child is to be enrolled" and in second sentence inserted "If the district decides to enroll the child, then the school district"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2011.

2011 Amendment: Chapter 211 in (9) in text of affidavit in paragraph 4 after "full-time basis" deleted former third paragraph that provided: "[ ] I am unable to locate or contact the parents of the child at this time to notify the parents of my intended authorization, or the parents refuse to regain custody of the child even though I have asked in writing that the parents do so" and in third paragraph substituted "legal custodian or guardian or execution of a notarized power of attorney" for "guardian ad litem or execution of a power of attorney", in paragraph 7 inserted "TO CARETAKER RELATIVE", substituted text of current paragraph 7d for former paragraph 8 that read: "8. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

a. TO CARETAKER RELATIVES: If the child stops living with you, you shall notify anyone to whom you have given this affidavit, as well as anyone who received the affidavit from someone else.

b. TO PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SCHOOL OFFICIALS AND PUBLIC AND PRIVATE HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS:

(1) A public or private school official or a public school district official may require additional reasonable evidence that the caretaker relative lives at the address provided in item 1d of the affidavit form.

(2) A public or private entity or individual who acts in good faith reliance upon a caretaker relative educational authorization affidavit to enroll a child in school or to provide educational services or educationally related medical care, or both, without actual knowledge of facts contrary to those indicated in the affidavit, is not subject to criminal prosecution or civil liability to any person, or subject to any professional disciplinary action, for reliance on an affidavit completed in compliance with 20-5-503, MCA"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2011.

2009 Amendment: Chapter 149 in (9) in 7.c. of the form affidavit after "affidavit is" substituted i. through iii. making the caretaker affidavit effective until the earliest of one of three preconditions for "not valid for more than 6 months after the date on which it is signed by the caretaker relative"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 3, 2009.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 3, Ch. 149, L. 2009, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to caretaker relative educational authorization affidavits completed in compliance with 20-5-503 for the 2008-2009 school year."

CHAPTER 6

Chapter Case Notes

Petition to Transfer Territory Properly Denied: In a petition to transfer territory from one school district to another, the transfer was properly denied when it was not within the best and collective interests of all students, rather than a majority of students, in the transferring and receiving school districts and would create an increased burden on the taxpayers in the transferring school district. In re Petition to Transfer Territory from Dutton/Brady School District, 2011 MT 152, 361 Mont. 103, 259 P.3d 751.

School Territory Transfer Statutes Unconstitutional — Insufficient Guidelines for Delegation of Legislative Authority: In 1994, the respondents, individuals residing in both Rosebud and Big Horn Counties but outside of the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation, petitioned their respective County Superintendents of Schools requesting a territory transfer from the Lame Deer High School District (LDHSD—created in 1993) back to the Colstrip and Hardin High School Districts. The requests were granted. LDHSD appealed the decisions to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who reversed the decisions. The respective District Courts reversed the Superintendent of Public Instruction's decision. The Supreme Court reversed the District Courts' decisions on the grounds that the school territory transfer statute is an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power. The broad grant of discretion to a County Superintendent of Schools, unchecked by any standard, policy, or rule of decision, renders the statute unconstitutional. Hayes v. Lame Deer High School District, 2000 MT 342, 303 M 204, 15 P3d 447, 57 St. Rep. 1464 (2000). See also Belgrade Elementary & High School District No. 44 v. Morris, 2000 MT 347, 303 M 245, 15 P3d 482, 57 St. Rep. 1484 (2000), and In re Petitions to Transfer Territory, 2000 MT 348, 303 M 249, 16 P3d 1000, 57 St. Rep. 1486 (2000).

Sufficiency of Single Petition to Transfer Territory From One K-12 District to Another K-12 District: Residents of Upper Nine Mile Valley petitioned the Missoula County School Superintendent to be transferred from Alberton K-12 district to Frenchtown K-12 district. The superintendent determined that the petition was valid and scheduled a hearing, but prior to the hearing, the Alberton Board of Trustees requested that the hearing be canceled because two separate petitions were not filed—one for elementary students and one for high school students. The superintendent denied the request, and on appeal to District Court, summary judgment was granted in favor of the superintendent. The Alberton Board of Trustees then appealed to the Supreme Court, asserting that two petitions were required under either 20-6-213 or 20-6-320 (both now repealed) in order to transfer both elementary and high school territories from one K-12 district to another K-12 district. Conversely, the superintendent maintained that because the request was for the transfer of combined elementary and high school territory from one K-12 district, as defined in 20-6-701, to another, only one petition was necessary. In order to give meaning to all the applicable statutes, the Supreme Court concluded that a K-12 school district is a high school district upon which an elementary district has been attached and remains a high school district for purposes of the governing statutes. Therefore, 20-6-320 (now repealed) applied to the petition in question because it concerned transfer of territory from one high school district to another. The question then became not whether a formal, second petition was required to address the elementary district, but whether under 20-6-320(8) (now repealed) the petition in question was "accompanied" by an elementary "petition" that satisfied the corollary requirements of 20-6-213 (now repealed). The Alberton trustees argued that a distinct, second elementary petition, also signed by a majority of registered electors, was required or else the entire transfer process was invalid. The Supreme Court refused to abide by such a strict, formalistic approach, noting that the law respects form less than substance. The petition clearly identified that the territory was K-12, meaning that any attached elementary territory would also be transferred, thus the petition to transfer high school territory was unquestionably "accompanied" by a petition to transfer elementary territory as well, and it was not fatal that both petitions appeared on a single sheet of paper. The court held that it would be unreasonable and far too formalistic to require that two separate petitions be submitted when one petition, clearly identifying the intent to transfer both high school and elementary territory, served the same function. The District Court was affirmed. McKirdy v. Vielleux, 2000 MT 264, 302 M 18, 19 P3d 207, 57 St. Rep. 1101 (2000).

School District Not Liable for Injury of Child on Playground — Witness Credibility as Question for Jury — Limited Review of Jury Verdict: The Morgans complained that the school district was liable for a teacher's negligence because their daughter, who needed close supervision, was injured on playground equipment during recess. The jury found in favor of the teacher. The Morgans sought a new trial on grounds of insufficient evidence to support the verdict. The Supreme Court's review of a jury verdict is necessarily very limited, and a jury verdict will not be reversed if it is supported by substantial credible evidence. The gist of the Morgans' appeal concerned the credibility and consistency of statements made by the only witness to the accident—the teacher. Witness credibility is a matter for determination by the jury after proper instruction from the court. Thus, the Supreme Court deferred to the properly instructed jury's evaluation of the teacher's credibility and affirmed the verdict. Morgan v. Great Falls School District No. 1, 2000 MT 28, 298 M 194, 995 P2d 422, 57 St. Rep. 134 (2000), following Whiting v. St., 248 M 207, 810 P2d 1177, 48 St. Rep. 396 (1991), Lee v. Kane, 270 M 505, 893 P2d 854, 52 St. Rep. 268 (1995), and Sandman v. Farmers Ins. Exch., 1998 MT 286, 291 M 456, 969 P2d 277, 55 St. Rep. 1165 (1998). Morgan was followed, with regard to the limited scope of review of a jury verdict and the test for substantial credible evidence, in Benson v. Diverse Computer Corp., 2004 MT 114, 321 M 140, 89 P3d 981 (2004).

Territory Transfer Process — Date for Appeal of State Superintendent's Decision: Section 20-6-320 (now repealed) contained the entire process for transferring territory from one high school district to another by means of a petition. Under the statutory provisions, a decision by the state Superintendent of Public Instruction was final 30 days after its date, absent any appeal. (See 1997 amendment.) Pretty on Top v. Snively, 266 M 45, 879 P2d 49, 51 St. Rep. 241 (1994), distinguishing Carbon County School District Trustees v. Spivey, 247 M 33, 805 P2d 61 (1991).

High School Sports Programs — Discrimination Against Female Participants: In a matter alleging gender-based inequality in high school athletics, it was not erroneous for the federal District Court to fashion the use of a creative settlement course by using a "facilitator". The settlement agreement was adopted by order, with the District Court retaining jurisdiction to monitor progress. The continued jurisdiction was proper, and even though the question of whether the court could consider the change in women's volleyball seasons was not properly before the District Court in the action preceding this appeal, the District Court has jurisdiction under the order and terms of the settlement agreement to exercise its continuing jurisdiction to consider the matter at some future date. Ridgeway v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 858 F2d 579 (9th Cir. 1988). After reviewing the final report on the Special Master and the parties' progress reports, the District Court ruled that a change in high school girls' volleyball and basketball seasons was not necessary to achieve and maintain gender equity. 749 F. Supp. 1544 (D.C. Mont. 1990).

Findings of Fact Not Requested by Appellant — Standard of Review: An order transferring territory from one elementary district to another did not contain a finding that the four elements of a valid petition listed in 20-6-213 (now repealed) were met, nor did the order contain findings that the transfer was in the best interests of the residents of the affected territory. Although 2-4-623 requires that a final decision in a contested case must include findings of fact, the Supreme Court found substantial credible evidence supporting the transfer, including unanimous favorable testimony from residents of the affected territory. Additionally, the court noted that appellants failed to request findings of fact from the County Superintendent or the Board of County Commissioners and that such failure barred court reversal for lack of factfindings, pursuant to 2-4-704(2)(g). Bd. of Trustees, Clinton School District v. Bd. of Trustees, Bonner School District, 221 M 341, 719 P2d 1240, 43 St. Rep. 877 (1986).

Petition to Be Signed by Majority of Electors Residing in Territory to Be Transferred: The provisions of 20-6-213 (now repealed) required that a petition for transfer of territory from one elementary district to another be signed only by a majority of electors residing in the territory to be transferred rather than by a majority of electors residing in the entire district. Bd. of Trustees, Clinton School District v. Bd. of Trustees, Bonner School District, 221 M 341, 719 P2d 1240, 43 St. Rep. 877 (1986).

Best Interests and Advisability — Elements to Consider: A majority of the residents of another district petitioned to become part of a school district in Teton County. Teton County approved the transfer, and Cascade County rejected it. A petition is granted only if the transfer is both advisable and in the best interests of the residents of the territory. One factor pertaining to advisability is the financial condition of the remaining territory. The transfer was found to be financially inadvisable. On that basis Cascade County properly denied the transfer. They did not have to consider the best interests of the residents. Gunderson v. County Comm'rs, 183 M 317, 599 P2d 359, 36 St. Rep. 1615 (1979).

Failure to Meet Jointly: Plaintiff and a majority of the residents of his territory petitioned to become a part of a school district in Teton County. The Cascade County Commissioners failed to meet jointly with Teton County Board of Commissioners as required by 20-6-213 (now repealed). Each Board of Commissioners was unanimous in its decision, though their decisions were contrary, and no facts are alleged that any other mode of decision would have produced a different result. Plaintiff has not alleged an injury from the procedure followed, and one who is not injured will not be heard to complain. The District Court properly dismissed the complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. Gunderson v. County Comm'rs, 183 M 317, 599 P2d 359, 36 St. Rep. 1615 (1979).

Abuse of Discretion: When the Board of County Commissioners considered all factors relevant to the creation of a joint school district and when the interests of the persons petitioning for the district were not greatly injured by the refusal to create the district, the Board of County Commissioners did not abuse its discretion. Ballard v. Gregory, 166 M 110, 530 P2d 1163 (1975).

County Commissioners' Power: Statute did not give the Board of County Commissioners power to act arbitrarily or without a hearing or in disregard of the evidence of matters which, by the terms of the statute, it should consider. Read v. Stephens, 121 M 508, 193 P2d 626 (1948).

Matters Considered to Make Transfer Determination: In determining whether certain territory should be transferred from one district to another, consideration can be given the financial condition of the districts, the means and convenience of communication therein, the number and places of residences of the children therein, their ages, other matters that show the change to be advisable or otherwise, and what is for the best interest of the territory proposed to be transferred. Read v. Stephens, 121 M 508, 193 P2d 626 (1948).

Indian Territory: Since former statute contemplated that Indian lands be in a school district and that Indian children be counted in apportioning school money, it was the Superintendent's mandatory duty to attach territory on an Indian reservation to an adjacent district or districts, no petition on the part of anyone being required as a condition precedent. State ex rel. Lantz v. Morris, 113 M 193, 126 P2d 1104 (1942).

Annexation — De Facto Corporation by Estoppel: It would seem that where a school district attempted in good faith to annex another district under an existing law providing for annexation but mistakenly proceeded under a law permitting the extension of its boundaries by taking in part of another district, and the district thus created was acquiesced in by all concerned for more than 5 years, it was a corporation de facto and the legality of its existence was not open to collateral attack by resident taxpayers in an action to enjoin the sale of bonds issued by the district. Henderson v. School District, 75 M 154, 242 P 979 (1926), distinguished in Scilley v. Red Lodge-Rosebud Irrigation District, 83 M 282, 272 P 543 (1928).

1997 Amendment: Chapter 219 deleted former (4) that read: "(4) Unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, an elementary district operating a high school in a county that has not been divided into high school districts is considered a high school district under this title and the trustees of the elementary district are the trustees of the high school district. An elementary district operating a high school may not have the bonding authority of a high school district. However, the elementary district may exercise its bonding authority, in the manner provided by law, for high school purposes"; in (4) substituted "a high school district that has not unified with an elementary district under 20-6-312" for "subject to the limitations prescribed by law for a county high school as a result of its being a part of the county government. The boundaries of the high school district for a county high school are: (a) the high school district boundaries established by the county high school boundary commission; or

(b) if no boundaries have been established, the county boundaries, except for any territory located in a joint high school district"; deleted (6) that read: "(6) A county high school recognized as a high school district under the provisions of subsection (5)(b) may not have a bonding authority. Instead, the county shall exercise its bonding authority in the manner provided in 20-9-451"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 23, Ch. 219, L. 1997, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 1997, and applies to bonds issued on or after [the effective date of this act]."

1991 Amendment: In (2)(a) inserted second sentence stating when an elementary district is inactive; in (2)(b) inserted second sentence concerning high school district with attached elementary district; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

Case Notes

School District Defined: Section 1020, Rev. Codes 1921 (now repealed), defined a school district to be "the territory under the jurisdiction of a single board, designated as board of trustees". It was clear that the term "school district" had reference solely to the public school system. Box v. Duncan, 98 M 216, 38 P2d 986 (1934).

Negligence Liability: In absence of statute imposing liability for negligence upon school districts or their trustees, they may not be held liable, although statute contains the general provision that a school district may sue and be sued. Perkins v. Trask, 95 M 1, 23 P2d 982 (1933), distinguished in Felton v. Great Falls, 118 M 586, 169 P2d 229 (1946). (See Title 2, ch. 9, part 1.)

Continuation in Existence Until Disorganized: A school district lawfully organized is a public corporation and remains such until disorganized in some manner recognized by law. State ex rel. School District v. Urton, 76 M 458, 248 P 369 (1926).

Annexation — De Facto Corporation by Estoppel: It would seem that where a school district attempted in good faith to annex another district under an existing law providing for annexation but mistakenly proceeded under a law permitting the extension of its boundaries by taking in part of another district and the district thus created was acquiesced in by all concerned for more than 5 years, it was a corporation de facto and the legality of its existence was not open to collateral attack by resident taxpayers in an action to enjoin the sale of bonds issued by the district. Henderson v. School District, 75 M 154, 242 P 979 (1926), distinguished in Scilley v. Red Lodge-Rosebud Irrigation District, 83 M 282, 272 P 543 (1928).

Necessary and Implied Powers: A school district is a public corporation but with very limited powers. It may, through its board, exercise only such authority as is conferred by law, either expressly or by necessary implication. Finley v. School District, 51 M 411, 153 P 1010 (1915). See also Jay v. School District, 24 M 219, 61 P 250 (1900); State ex rel. Cartersville Irrigation District v. McGraw, 74 M 164, 240 P 817 (1925); Day v. School District, 98 M 207, 38 P2d 595 (1934).

Powers of District Distinct From Municipal Corporation: A school district is a body corporate but does not possess the powers of local legislation and control that are the distinguishing characteristics of a municipal corporation. Hersey v. Neilson, 47 M 132, 131 P 30 (1913).

Limitation on Powers to Change Boundaries: There was no authority on the part of the County Superintendent or Board of County Commissioners, under the guise of defining boundaries, to reach out and include in an existing district noncontiguous tracts of land not included therein. The County Superintendent was authorized to make minor changes as necessary to make the boundaries definite and certain but not to change the boundaries of the existing district by attaching lands wherever situated in the county not a part of any school district. State ex rel. Lantz v. Morris, 113 M 187, 126 P2d 1101 (1942).

Case Notes

Hutterite Center Declared Public School — Publicly Funded: The Hillcrest Hutterite Colony petitioned the Vaughn School District to open an educational facility, which the school district agreed to run as a public school. The facility received public funding and employed a full-time teacher and teacher's aide. After opening the facility, the Vaughn School District received a petition to transfer a specified portion of territory to the Power School District under 20-6-105. A three-member panel of superintendents dismissed the petition, finding that because the facility was a public school, its proximity to the transfer land would not comply with 20-6-105. The Power School District appealed the dismissal, arguing that the facility was not a public school because such a facility was not defined in statute. The District Court denied Power School District's petition. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed the District Court, holding that the school met the definition of public school because it was publicly funded and employed public employees. In re Petition to Transfer Territory from Vaughn Elementary School District No. 74 to Power Elementary School District No. 30, 2015 MT 313, 381 Mont. 345, 360 P.3d 1119.

Hearing on School Territory Transfer — Error for Superintendent to Allow Unsworn Testimony: A school board petitioned the County Superintendent of Schools to transfer property from a neighboring school district to its school district. The other school district opposed the transfer of property. A Deputy County Superintendent conducted a hearing on the matter, and numerous individuals testified. Although none of those who testified was under oath, the opposing school district did not object to the testimony. After the Superintendent approved the transfer, the opposing school district appealed to the District Court, which upheld the transfer. The opposing school district then appealed to the Supreme Court, which reversed, holding that even though the opposing school district had not objected at the hearing, the Deputy Superintendent had erred in allowing testimony of unsworn witnesses. Petition to Transfer Territory Properly Denied: In a petition to transfer territory from one school district to another, the transfer was properly denied when it was not within the best and collective interests of all students, rather than a majority of students, in the transferring and receiving school districts and would create an increased burden on the taxpayers in the transferring school district. Part 2

Elementary School Districts

Part Case Notes

Provisions Jurisdictional: Section 1034, Rev. Codes 1929 (now repealed) requiring petition by a majority of resident freeholders in a school district as prerequisite to consolidation was jurisdictional and not merely directory. State ex rel. Wilson v. Musburger, 114 M 175, 133 P2d 586 (1943).

Abandonment of District: An order of a County Superintendent of Schools for the abandonment of a school district was not void for want of jurisdiction because of no attempt at compliance with section 970, Rev. Codes 1935 (now repealed), since section had nothing to do with the abandonment of a school district. State ex rel. McDonnell v. Musburger, 111 M 579, 111 P2d 1038 (1941).

Effect of Appeal to County Commissioners — Opinion Divided: An appeal lay from order creating joint school district to the Boards of County Commissioners of counties affected, and the effect of the appeal was simply to suspend or delay the effective creation of the district and not to vacate the order of creation. If, on appeal, opinion was equally divided between the Boards of County Commissioners, one Board favoring creation and the other opposed thereto, the order of creation by the County School Superintendents stood affirmed. State ex rel. School District v. Lensman, 108 M 118, 88 P2d 63 (1939).

Mode of Procedure Under Former Section: Section 1035, Rev. Codes 1935 (now repealed), did not fully or clearly provide the procedure of creating joint school districts, and it was duty of the officers empowered to create such districts to adopt any mode of procedure reasonably suitable to carry the legislative intention into effect. State ex rel. School District v. Lensman, 108 M 118, 88 P2d 63 (1939).

Time for Posting Notices: Section 1034, Rev. Codes 1921 (now repealed), requiring County Superintendent upon receipt of consolidation petition of school districts "to cause a ten days posted notice" to be given of the election meant that the Superintendent has 10 days within which to act voluntarily and was not a limitation on the time within which the election notices may be posted. Swaim v. Redeen, 101 M 521, 55 P2d 1 (1936). Morgan was followed, with regard to the limited scope of review of a jury verdict and the test for substantial credible evidence, in Benson v. Diverse Computer Corp., 2004 MT 114, 321 M 140, 89 P3d 981 (2004).

Right of Appeal From Order of County Commissioners: Since an order of the Board of County Commissioners in the matter of setting aside an order of the County Superintendent of Schools creating a school district is final and no appeal lies to either school authorities or courts, equity will take jurisdiction of an action to right any wrong committed by the Board. Grant v. Michaels, 94 M 452, 23 P2d 266 (1933).

Petition Facts Jurisdictional: Requirements of the statute as to what a petition for the creation of a new school district shall contain are jurisdictional; they must be made to appear in the petition or proven as matter of evidence; omission to do either is fatal. School District v. Larson, 80 M 363, 260 P 1042 (1927).

Creation of New County — Transmission of Funds: Where school district territory was cut in two by creation of new county and the County Commissioners charged with the duty of dividing the new county into school districts left the boundaries of the district in question, the district ipso facto became a joint one. Therefore, refusal of the County Treasurer of the old county, in which a portion of the district lay, to transmit to the Treasurer of the new county the funds collected by him as taxes upon the property within that portion for school purposes was wrongful. State ex rel. School District v. Urton, 76 M 458, 248 P 369 (1926).

Petition — Contents: A petition for the creation of a new school district is not a pleading, the contents of which are subject to critical legal analysis to determine its sufficiency. The petition is sufficient to confer jurisdiction upon the board of trustees if it clearly indicates the desire of a majority of the school electors residing in the proposed new district for segregation and describes its boundaries. State ex rel. Hall v. Peterson, 55 M 355, 177 P 245 (1918).

Merger of Districts Without High School: Merger of two districts, neither containing a high school, is not an annexation for purposes of administration of social security but a consolidation requiring a referendum to provide social security coverage. 36 A.G. Op. 55 (1976).

Compiler's Comments

1993 Amendment: Chapter 137 in (4), at end, substituted "in 20-3-302" for "filling trustee vacancies" and deleted former second and third sentences that read: "Such positions shall be subject to election on the next regular school election day. If the county superintendent changes an elementary district's classification with the result that a lesser number of trustees is required, the next elementary trustee positions that become vacant under any circumstances shall not be filled until the number of elementary trustee positions has been reduced to the number required by law"; and made minor changes in style.

Case Notes

One Governmental Subdivision Not Subject to Suit by Another: School districts sued the county for recovery of lost revenue and investment income on decreased reserve funds. The Supreme Court found that dismissal of the suit was proper because absent specific statutory or constitutional authority, one governmental subdivision may not sue another for damages. School District No. 55 v. Musselshell County, 245 M 525, 802 P2d 1252, 47 St. Rep. 2249 (1990).

Nunc Pro Tunc Order — Relation Back of Action: District Court, on application for Writ of Mandate, properly ordered a Superintendent to hear a petition to have unattached territory annexed to two adjoining districts erroneously denied by him, nunc pro tunc as of February 17th of the preceding year (when he should have acted), his action thereby relating back. State ex rel. Lantz v. Morris, 113 M 193, 126 P2d 1104 (1942).

2005 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 138 in (1)(a) near beginning and in (2) in first sentence substituted "the minimum aggregate hours" for "180 days"; and in (1)(a) after "lesser" and in (2) near middle of first sentence after "lesser" substituted "number of aggregate hours" for "number of days". Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Chapter 510 in (1) after "contiguous district" inserted "or districts" and after "county" inserted "or, with the consent of the county superintendent of an adjacent county, to a contiguous district or districts in the adjacent county"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 138, L. 2005, provided: "WHEREAS, the Public School Renewal Commission in its final report to the Education and Local Government Interim Committee recommended by consensus that school districts be given more flexibility in setting their school calendars; and

WHEREAS, while the Education and Local Government Interim Committee fully endorsed the recommendation, the timing of the Commission's report failed to provide the Committee with sufficient time to prepare and sponsor legislation for the 2005 legislative session; and

WHEREAS, while the Committee was unable to request the legislation to implement the Commission's recommendation as a committee bill, this bill has the full support of the Committee."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 510, L. 2005, provided: "WHEREAS, the Public School Renewal Commission in its final report to the Education and Local Government Interim Committee recommended by consensus that the consolidation statutes be clarified to eliminate any barriers to the voluntary consolidation of school districts; and 1997 Amendment: Chapter 430 in (1)(a) and (2), after "approved", substituted "by the board of trustees under the provisions of 20-9-806" for "by the county superintendent or the superintendent of public instruction under the provisions of 20-9-804"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Case Notes

Grounds for Review — Hardship Caused by Order: Contiguity is not the only requirement for attaching an abandoned district to another district. Thus District Court should have granted Writ of Review where manner of attachment allegedly required children to travel 14 miles farther each way to get to more overcrowded schools and worked an undue hardship on both parents and children. Potter v. Miller, 145 M 197, 399 P2d 994 (1965).

Abandonment of Nonoperating District Properly Ordered: County Superintendent of Schools properly ordered abandonment of elementary school district where school had not been maintained within said district during the last 3 consecutive school years and an average of four or less pupils had been furnished transportation to another elementary school. State ex rel. Knaup v. Holland, 132 M 569, 319 P2d 516 (1957).

Transportation of Pupils Upon Abandonment: On abandonment of an elementary school district no student eligible to attend high school is deprived of the opportunity of attending school. Transportation must be provided by the high school district. State ex rel. Knaup v. Holland, 132 M 569, 319 P2d 516 (1957).

Consolidation Law Inapplicable: Section relating to the consolidation of school districts had nothing to do with the abandonment of a school district and was not dependent upon any question of whether school was held within either or any of the districts in question. State ex rel. McDonnell v. Musburger, 111 M 579, 111 P2d 1038 (1941).

Mandamus — Exhaustion of Administrative Remedy Required: Where plaintiff seeking a Writ of Mandate to annul an order of a County School Superintendent directing the abandonment of a school district had the right of appeal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and, if unsuccessful there, could have had the matter passed upon by the District Court on Writ of Review but did not pursue such remedy, the Writ of Mandate was not available to him. State ex rel. McDonnell v. Musburger, 111 M 579, 111 P2d 1038 (1941).

Attorney General's Opinions

Abandoned Elementary School District Not Allowed to Petition to Reopen School: An elementary school district that has not operated a school for 3 consecutive school years is considered permanently abandoned pursuant to this section, and the abandoned district may not petition to reopen a school in the district pursuant to 20-6-502. However, this section also requires the County Superintendent to attach the territory of the abandoned district to another district, and nothing in that section precludes the revised district from petitioning to reopen a school. 49 A.G. Op. 14 (2002).

Case Notes

Form of Ballots as Voiding Election: Where the ballots for a consolidation election were prepared to read only "For" or "Against" rather than "For consolidation" or "Against consolidation" as required by prior statute and testimony showed that in at least one instance a voter was confused by this heading and mismarked her vote, the election was on its face null and void. Woolsey v. Carney, 141 M 476, 378 P2d 658 (1963).

Abuse of Discretion Required to Be Shown: Where administrative official exercises his power within the limits fixed by statute, not arbitrarily or fraudulently but within his sound discretion, the courts may not interfere. Read v. Stephens, 121 M 508, 193 P2d 626 (1948).

Authority to Change Boundaries Delegated: Aside from statutory limitations, Legislature has delegated to the County Superintendent of Schools and to the Board of County Commissioners a full measure of discretionary power in creating and changing the boundaries of school districts. Case Notes

Consolidation of High Schools to Consolidate Courses: Under Ch. 47, Ex. L. 1933 (sections 1301.1 through 1301.6, R.C.M. 1935, since repealed), a school district maintaining only a 2-year high school course might properly be consolidated with a district maintaining a complete course. The act was constitutional. State ex rel. Berthot v. School District, 102 M 356, 58 P2d 264 (1936); Pierson v. Hendricksen, 98 M 244, 38 P2d 991 (1934).

Date of Consolidation — Statute Not Repealed: Section 1023, Rev. Codes 1921 (now repealed), declaring that no school district should be created or boundaries thereof changed between March 1 and July 1 of any calendar year was not impliedly repealed by act authorizing high school consolidation; action of Commissioners in consolidating high schools in March, thereby creating new district at least for high school purposes, was void. Box v. Duncan, 98 M 216, 38 P2d 986 (1934).

Legislative Intent — Arbitrary Action Without Notice: Legislature never intended to confer upon the Board of County Commissioners the arbitrary power of consolidating county high schools without notice to anyone affected thereby and without making any provision for the disposition of the property of the discontinued school. Box v. Duncan, 98 M 216, 38 P2d 986 (1934).

Attorney General's Opinions

Board of County Commissioners — No Power to Consolidate High School Districts: The sole and mandatory procedure for consolidating two high school districts in a county is in 20-6-315 (now repealed). The Board of County Commissioners has no authority to consolidate districts. 41 A.G. Op. 5 (1985).
